IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

The 4th September 1905.

No. 22.—Notification.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes, under the provisions of Sections XI and XII of Act V (B.C.) of 1864, to pass the following Rules in supersession of those now in force on the Nadia Rivers, with effect from the 15th November 1905:—

W. A. INGLIS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROPOSED RULES.

The rules shall apply to the undermentioned navigable channels, which are included under the designation "Nadia Rivers," viz.:—

(1) the river Bhagirathi, throughout its whole course from the Ganges to Nadia, or to its junction with the Hooghly;
(2) the river Hooghly, from Nadia to its junction with the river Mathabhanga;
(3) the river Jalangi, from the Ganges to Nadia;
(4) the river Bhairab, from the Ganges to Nadia;
(5) the river Mathabhanga, from the Ganges to its junction with the Hooghly;
(6) such portions of the river Ganges as may be within five miles of the entrance for the time being of the Bhagirathi, the Bhairab, the Jalangi and the Mathabhanga rivers, respectively.

1. Every vessel entering, or making use of, the Nadia Rivers shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable. In case of any reasonable doubt, the persons appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor to collect tolls and officers to whom such persons are subordinate shall have authority to again measure a vessel, notwithstanding that it was measured before.

2. Vessels for the purposes of the determination of tonnage shall be divided into two classes, as follows:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build.

Class II.—To include all steamers, flats, barges and other square-built boats.

The tonnage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of Act V of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

Class I.—

(a) The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured outside and along the water-line, multiplied by the greatest interior breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds on which toll shall be levied.

(b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches. The measurements of the breadth and depth are to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

(c) The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 25 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 25 maunds. In the case of vessels exceeding 1,000 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 100 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 100 maunds.

Class II.—

(d) For vessels of Class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for Class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class exceeding 5,000 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds.

(e) In the case of steamers that have been surveyed under Act VI of 1884, the gross tonnage entered in the certificate shall be accepted as the tonnage of the steamer in lieu of measurement.

In all cases, the gross tonnage of steamers, whether as entered in the certificate, or as determined by measurement, shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine-space.

(f) For vessels of Class II which are furnished with reliable way-bills or manifests, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the manifest may, at the option of the employer of the vessel, be taken as the maundage on which toll shall be charged: provided that the amount of tollage shall in no case be less than the amount which would be payable in respect of the tonnage of the vessel when empty. In the case of steamers that have been surveyed under Act VI of 1884, tolls shall be charged on the cargo, as thus determined, in addition to the tolls chargeable on the net tonnage of the steamer itself: provided that firms or individuals who wish to make use of this rule must be approved by the Superintending Engineer of the South-Western Circle, and that such approval may be withdrawn for any just cause.

3. Measurements shall be made daily, as soon as possible, after a vessel arrives at the toll station. From the 1st April to the 30th September, measurements shall be made between the hours of 6 A.M. and 5 P.M., and tickets under Rule 5 shall be delivered between the hours of 7 A.M. and 6 P.M. From the 1st October to the 31st March, measurements shall be made between the hours of 7 A.M. and 4 P.M., and tickets under Rule 5 shall be delivered between the hours of 8 A.M. and 5 P.M.

EXISTING RULES.

The following Rules having reference to the undermentioned navigable channels, viz. :—

(1) the river Bhagirathi, throughout its whole course from the Ganges to Nadia, or to its junction with the Hooghly ;
(2) the river Hooghly, from Nadia to its junction with the river Matabhanga ;
(3) the river Jallanghi, from the Ganges to Nadia ;
(4) the river Bhairab, from the Ganges to Nadia ;
(5) the river Matabhanga, from the Ganges to its junction with the Hooghly ;

1. Except as may be herein provided, every vessel, before leaving any toll-station, shall pay tolls in accordance with Schedule A appended to these rules.

2. The tonnage of every vessel shall, for the purpose of the Canals Act, 1864, and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

(a) The product of half the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depths from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

(b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches ; and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

(c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any fraction of 100 maunds less than 25 maunds is to be omitted ; exceeding 25 and not exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 25 maunds only ; exceeding 50 maunds and not exceeding 75 maunds is to be charged as 50 maunds only ; and exceeding 75 maunds as 75 maunds only. Above 1,000 maunds no fraction of 100 maunds is to be charged.

(d) In the case of steamers, the tonnage as determined by clauses (a), (b) and (c) shall be reduced by one-half as an allowance for engine and cabin space.

(e) In the case of a steamer that has been surveyed under Act VI of 1884, the tonnage entered in the certificate shall be taken to be the tonnage of the steamer for the purpose of these rules, no further deduction being made for engine space.

19. Measurement shall be made between the hours of 6 A.M. and 6 P.M. from April 1st to September 30th, and between 7 A.M. and 5 P.M. from October 1st to March 31st. Tickets under Rule 12 shall be issued within the hours of 7 A.M. and 5 P.M. in summer and 8 A.M. and 5 P.M. in winter.

After measurement the vessel shall be removed from the measuring ghât without delay. In any case the person in charge of a vessel shall place it in such situation as he may be required to by the Toll Collector.

5. After measurement the measuring muharrir shall deliver to the person in charge of the vessel a pass in the form appended (Appendix E I) and shall inform such person verbally of the amount of toll payable by him. The person in charge of the vessel shall then take the pass to the Toll Collector's Office, and shall there pay the toll demanded. The Toll Collector shall then deliver to him a ticket in the form appended (Appendix E II), which shall bear the stamp of the Toll Collector's Office, and the signature of the Toll Collector, or in his absence, that of the Toll Daroga. 7. (a) All tolls are payable on demand, and shall be paid as provided in Rules 5 and 6 before a vessel is allowed to proceed.

(b) Provided that vessels belonging to individuals or firms specially approved by the Superintending Engineer of the South-Western Circle, which approval may be withdrawn for any just cause, may be permitted to proceed without prepayment.

(c) The person in charge of a vessel approved as in clause (b) shall, on passing a toll station, stop and deliver at the station a form specifying such particulars regarding the vessel and its cargo as may be required by the Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle.

8. The tickets mentioned in Rules 5 and 6 must be kept on board the vessel, and must be produced for inspection when demanded by any person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in Rule 2, and shall demand payment of toll; and unless and until toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of Section IX of the Act.

9. If a vessel on which toll has been duly paid be unable, by reason of the shallowness of the water, or of any other natural obstacle, to pass along any one of the Nadia Rivers, she may be permitted to pass along any other of the rivers without extra charge, except as provided in Rule 13. If the vessel be unable to pass along any of the rivers, the Toll Collector may at his discretion, and after consideration of the circumstances of the case, refund the amount of toll which may have been paid on such vessel.

10. The payment of toll at one toll station shall entitle a vessel to travel once along the whole length of the river on which that toll station is situated, whether or no the cargo is changed during the journey, except as provided in Rule 13.

11. A vessel containing passengers, or used for fishing, shall pay toll only once in the same day: provided that no passenger vessel shall be allowed this privilege unless returning empty, or conveying the same passengers as on the first trip. The "day" to be reckoned from midnight to midnight.

12. A cargo vessel, laden or empty, which has paid toll at a toll station, shall not be [illegible]ired to again pay toll if returning to the same toll station on the same day reckoned as [R]ule 11, except as provided in Rule 13.

13. A vessel which has been measured and paid toll accordingly shall, in case additional cargo is taken on board, or a part or whole of the original cargo is changed for a cargo on which a higher rate of toll is leviable, be subject to re-measurement whether on the same or another day, reckoned as in Rule 11, and to the payment of the amount by which the total toll leviable on the re-measurement exceeds that originally paid.

14. Passenger boats having on board cargo other than what is necessary for the use of the passengers for the trip and which measure 25 maunds and upwards shall be dealt with as cargo boats.

15. (a) Boats having on board only articles which are necessary for the use of the crew for the trip shall be dealt with as empty.

(b) Empty jars, tins, casks, bags, or other receptacles used, or to be used only for the purpose of holding cargo, shall not be considered as cargo.

16. No cargo shall be taken out of any boat, whether measured or unmeasured, within toll station limits without the permission of the Toll Collector.

17. Tickets and passes issued in respect of any vessel, boat, raft, or float are not transferable to any other vessel, boat, raft, or float.

18. (a) Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the Collector of Tolls.

EXISTING RULES.

10. Immediately after entering the chowkey limits, the manjee of every cargo vessel shall take such vessel to the measuring ghât, and such vessel shall remain there until it shall have been measured in accordance with the rules for measurement.

11. After measurement shall have been duly effected, the measuring mohurir shall deliver to the manjee of the vessel a pass in the form annexed (Appendix E I), and shall inform the manjee verbally of the amount of toll payable by him.

12. The manjee shall take the pass to the Toll Collector's Office, and shall then pay the amount of the toll demanded from him. He shall then receive a ticket in the form annexed (Appendix E II) which shall entitle him to pass the chowkey limits free of all further charge. This ticket shall bear the stamp of the Toll Collector's Office and the signature of the Toll Collector, or in his absence that of the Toll Darogah.

13. The manjee or other person in charge of a vessel conveying passengers only, or laden with horses, cattle, fowls, or other live-stock, or with fruit, fish, or other articles which may be likely to be spoiled by detention, shall not be required to attend at the Toll Office, but may pay toll to the mohurir in charge of the chowkey boat at the rate of four annas for each oar of the vessel, and shall receive from the mohurir a ticket in the form annexed (Appendix E III) which shall entitle such vessel to pass chowkey limits without further charge.

6. If a vessel on which toll has been duly paid be unable, by reason of the shallowness of the water, or of any other natural obstacle, to prosecute her voyage up the river, she may, provided she returns to the toll station without unloading or taking in cargo, be permitted to pass along the other river (if any) without extra charge. If the vessel be unable to pass along either river, the Toll Collector may, at his discretion, and after consideration of the circumstances of the case, refund the amount of toll which may have been paid on such vessel.

7. Every boat or vessel carrying passengers, or used for fishing, shall pay tolls only once in the same day: provided that no passenger vessel shall be allowed this privilege unless returning empty or conveying the same passengers as on the first trip. The word "day" in this and the following rule shall mean a day between sunrise and sunset, and shall not mean 24 hours.

8. An empty cargo vessel or boat leaving and returning empty to the station limits on the same day, having paid toll, shall not be required to pay toll a second time. A vessel leaving the chowkey limits laden, and paying toll accordingly, shall not be required to pay toll again if returning empty on the same day

9. Boats or vessels which may have entered the Nadia Rivers unladen or partially laden, and paid toll accordingly, shall, if they receive on board any additional freight, be subject to re-measurement and to the payment of any additional amount of toll which may be leviable on account of the additional maundage.

14. Passenger boats having on board cargo other than what is necessary for the passengers for the trip, and which measure 25 maunds and upwards, shall be dealt with as cargo-boats.

15. Empty boats having on board articles which are only requisite for the subsistence of the crew for the trip shall be considered as empty.

16. No cargo shall be taken out of any boat, either measured or unmeasured, within the toll limits without the permission of the Toll Collector.

17. Tickets and passes are not transferable.

18. Passes collected at the chowkey boats shall be brought back into the Toll Office on the morning of the following day and counterfoiled.

19. Any vessel, raft float, or any number of vessels, rafts or floats fastened or connected together in any way, which, by reason of difficulty of proper control, or of excessive over-all length or breadth or depth, is of such a nature as, in the opinion of the Executive Engineer, Nadia Rivers Division, to be likely to cause unavoidable damage to the bandalling or other training or dredging works in the rivers, or to be likely to cause unavoidable obstruction to the traffic by grounding or sinking, is prohibited from passing into or along any of the channels comprised in the Nadia Rivers

20. A vessel which has been detained under these rules or under Section IX of the Act may not be removed from the Nadia Rivers without the order of the Toll Collector until the toll due has been paid. During such detention the manji, owner or agént, must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

21. All vessels, whether the property of Government or of private owners, are liable for toll, except those exempted by the provisions of Bengal Government Notification No. 261, dated the 21st July 1890.

22. The Supervisor may by written notice, to be posted at the Toll Offices, prohibit the dropping of anchors or the putting up of bamboos or luggoos in any specified part of the channels comprising the Nadia Rivers or on the banks.

23. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the channels comprising the Nadia Rivers without the permission of the Supervisor.

24. In every case of a sunken vessel, whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same.

25. When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor shall cause notices to be posted at the Toll Offices, or other prominent places, calling on those concerned to pay to the Toll Collector all toll which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred on the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold, under the procedure prescribed in Section IX of the Act.

26. The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of Section IX of the Act shall have the right to take it out of the channels comprising the Nadia Rivers on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the Toll Collector, without payment of tolls.

27. When any laden vessel, which has sunk, has been recovered, or when any laden vessel has been seized under the provisions of the Act or of these rules, the Supervisor shall give immediate notice of the recovery or seizure to the owner of the cargo or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay.

28. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or the abode of the owner of the cargo of such vessel, the notice prescribed in Rule 27 shall be effected by a notice exhibited in his office, and by advertisement in at least two local newspapers.

29. All vessels, whether travelling or moored, in the channels comprising the Nadia Rivers, shall, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the fore-part of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the lights prescribed above.

EXISTING RULES.

20. Any person who may have lost or mislaid his measurement ticket may apply for a duplicate. Such application shall be in writing, and shall set forth clearly the circumstances of the loss, and shall be verified by the applicant. The Toll Collector, if he be satisfied that no fraud has been intended, shall supply a duplicate on receipt of a fee of eight annas in the case of a passenger boat or empty boat, and one rupee in the case of a laden boat.

22. No fleet of vessels or rafts lashed together and exceeding 150 feet in length, or carrying or floating timber exceeding in all twenty in number, shall pass into or through any of the Nuddea Rivers at one time or abreast.

23. No single vessel or raft carrying or floating a greater number than twelve timbers shall pass into, or out of, or through, any of the Nuddea Rivers. And no single vessel or raft carrying or floating more than six timbers shall pass into or through any of the aforesaid rivers between the 1st of December of any year and the 1st of July following.

5. All vessels which may be employed solely in conveying troops on military duty, or military stores, or which may be employed solely in work connected with the maintenance or improvement of the Nuddea Rivers, as well as boats used by Police Officers on actual duty, shall be exempted from paying tolls. This shall not be held to apply to Police Officers in transit from one district to another, unless for the purpose of making an arrest or for holding an investigation.

21. Any officer of Government or other person claiming exemption under Rule 5 shall be supplied by the measuring mohurir with a certificate in the form annexed (Appendix E IV), and shall fill up and return such form to the mohurir who shall thereupon grant a passenger ticket in form (E III). In case of doubt as to the good faith of any claim to exemption from toll, the measuring mohurir may detain the vessel for which exemption is claimed, and report the case for the orders of the Toll Collector.

25. Owners and agents of steamers who may desire to avoid the delay consequent on payment of toll on passing toll stations may give notice to the Board of Revenue of their desire and willingness to pay toll in Calcutta on demand and on depositing such amount as the Board of Revenue may determine they shall be furnished with a certificate which shall entitle the steamer or flat to pass any toll station without detention, the amount of toll due on account thereof being paid in Calcutta on demand, or deducted from the amount deposited with the Board of Revenue.

26. The Commander of any vessel or vessels obtaining the privilege mentioned above shall leave at the toll station a certificate of having passed the toll station. The certificate shall mention the date of passing. It will be attached as a voucher to the bill, which will be presented for payment to the owners or agents of the vessel by the officer in Calcutta authorised to receive payment thereof.

NOTIFICATION.

SURVEYOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

No. 130.—The 27th November 1905.—The following Rules and Regulations relating to the Mathematical Instrument Office are published for the information and guidance of public officers.

F. B. LONGE, LT.-COL., R.E.,
Surveyor-General of India.

SURVEY OF INDIA.

Rules and Regulations of the Mathematical Instrument Office, 15, Wood Street, Calcutta.

1. The Mathematical Instrument Office is a depôt for the supply, repair and adjustment of mathematical and other instruments, employed in various Government Departments and Offices. The instruments issued may be new or second-hand at the discretion of the officer in charge. As a rule new instruments are not supplied if serviceable second-hand ones of the class required are available. Instruments when no longer required are also taken into store, from Government Departments and authorised offices, at a valuation which is given for each instrument returned.

2. All transactions regarding instruments between the Mathematical Instrument Office and other Government Departments or offices are adjusted by "book transfer."

3. Instruments, when they can be conveniently spared, may be issued on "cash payment" to Municipalities and other similar bodies and also to individual officers. With the approval of the officer in charge, instruments may also be sent to the Mathematical Instrument Office "for repairs" on similar terms. All instruments issued to Commercial Departments or on "cash payment" will be charged at cost price plus a suitable percentage to cover all charges in connection with their storage and issue.

4. The Mathematical Instrument Office cannot undertake the supply or repair of any description of electrical or telegraphic instrument, nor does it issue type, stationery or drawing materials.

5. All correspondence and all instruments sent to the Mathematical Instrument Office should be addressed to the officer in charge, Mathematical Instrument Office, 15, Wood Street, Calcutta. Telegrams should be addressed to "Surveys, Inst," Calcutta.

6. All indents for instruments should be submitted on the annexed form O. 38, and every indent for instruments required on "book transfer" must be duly approved and countersigned, in accordance with the instructions printed on the back of the form, before the indent can be complied with. An indent sent by telegram should be subsequently confirmed by the submission by post of the usual countersigned indent, with a note on the form intimating that the instruments have already been indented for by telegram.

7. The nomenclature and cost of the different instruments, etc, generally kept in stock, are given in a price list which can be obtained gratis on application from the Mathematical Instrument Office. The lower prices are those of instruments which, although thoroughly serviceable, are not new. An indenting officer should enter the approximate price of each description of instrument required in the column of the indent allotted for that purpose, so as to enable the officer who countersigns and finally passes the indent to know the probable expense it involves, and also to guide the Mathematical Instrument Office in selecting instruments to meet the demand.

8. In order to prevent misunderstandings, indenting officers should invariably state, on their indents, the size and class of the instrument required, and when ordering a scale, particular care should be taken to note its length, how divided and the purpose for which it is required.

9. All instruments returned for repair or adjustment should be despatched freight prepaid and at the same time, under separate cover, a requisition "for repairs" should be sent on the annexed form, O 38a.

10. Indents should be submitted as early as possible to enable the office to make arrangements to meet the demand in case the articles are not in stock, and all instruments requiring repairs should be forwarded to the Mathematical Instrument Office as soon as they are available. It is particularly requested that, when a large supply of instruments is likely to be wanted for railway surveys or other large projects, the Mathematical Instrument Office should receive as long prior notice as possible of the probable number and description of articles required.

11. Indents and requisitions "for repairs" are not required in duplicate. The forms can be obtained on application from the Mathematical Instrument Office.

12. The mode of transit and address to which instruments are to be consigned by the Mathematical Instrument Office, as well as the address to which correspondence regarding the case is to be sent, must invariably be specified in full on the indent or requisition form; when instruments are to be despatched by post the name of the Post Office, as well as of the district in which it is situated, should be given and when by railway the nearest railway station should be distinctly stated. The forms should not be accompanied by forwarding letters unless more explanation is necessary than can be given on the face of the forms.

13 When issuing instruments, which are required on "book transfer" or despatching them after repair, the Mathematical Instrument Office sends an "invoice" in triplicate showing the amount due: one copy should be signed and returned without delay as it is required, for submission with the monthly accounts of the Mathematical Instrument Office, for adjustment by the Comptroller, India Treasuries; the other copies should be dealt with as laid down in article 96, volume I, Civil Account Code. In the case of instruments issued or repaired on "cash payment" prepayment is necessary, and, whenever it is possible, they, or the railway receipt for them, will be sent by V. P. P.

14. All Government instruments, when no longer required, should be at once despatched to the Mathematical Instrument Office, freight prepaid A list of the instruments returned as "no longer required" should at the same time be forwarded by post to that Office It is particularly requested that surplus instruments may not be retained in any Government Office as they only deteriorate and become obsolete, while, if despatched as soon as they are no longer required to the Mathematical Instrument Office, they can be overhauled, put into serviceable condition and made available for issue to other officers requiring them. The Mathematical Instrument Office is, as a rule, unable to receive instruments as "no longer required" from Departments and officers who are not entitled to deal by means of "book transfer," and it is essential before sending such to that Office to enquire if it will be convenient to receive them.

15. When Government instruments are received by the Mathematical Instrument Office as "no longer required" they are there valued according to their condition and a "valuation statement" is then sent to the officer returning them; the amount of this valuation is credited to his department or office in the monthly accounts of the Mathematical Instrument Office, for adjustment by "book transfer" through the Comptroller, India Treasuries.

16 When an officer considers that Government instruments are unserviceable and that their transit charges may nearly equal or exceed their actual value as material, a survey should be held on them by a committee of Government Officers, whose report should be forwarded to the Officer in charge, Mathematical Instrument Office, who will issue instructions as to which of the instruments should be forwarded to that Office and which should be sold by auction locally or destroyed. Unserviceable chains, staves, tapes, etc., are seldom worth their transit charges.

17. As indents, requisitions "for repairs" and lists of instruments "no longer required" are dealt with in separate sections in the Mathematical Instrument Office, they should be kept quite distinct and should not be mixed up on the same form or list. In all cases reference should be made to any previous correspondence on the subject dealt with and, when instruments are forwarded to the Mathematical Instrument Office, it should be clearly stated whether they are "for repairs" or "no longer required."

18. The carriage of instruments is not paid by the Mathematical Instrument Office, consequently all consignments sent to it must be prepaid by the officer sending them and the freight on those despatched by that Office must be paid by the officers receiving them. Incidental charges for packing cases, etc., are included in the "invoices" or "bills." Owing to the very rough treatment which boxes, etc., often receive in transit, particular attention is drawn to the importance of packing all instruments with great care.

19. The accounts kept by the Mathematical Instrument Office do not permit of "loans" or "exchanges" and instruments cannot be sent "on approval." When instruments are required on "Government Service" for a limited time, however short, two distinct "book transfer" transactions are necessary; the instruments must be properly indented for and, when finished with, they must be returned as "no longer required."

20. In all dealings with the Mathematical Instrument Office the official forms in use in that Office, which are supplied gratis, must be used. The Office is conducted under Civil rules and all references to Army Regulations, Equipment Tables, etc., should therefore invariably be supplemented by a clear statement of what is required.

Assistant Surveyor-General.

Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1904-1905, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which, provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of

Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of: or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12 The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1904-1905, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previusly to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale ;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1904-1905, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA.

PROPOSED RULES.

1. Except as in these rules otherwise provided every officer and servant of the Corporation through whose hands Municipal money passes shall furnish Cash security, which should, as a rule, be 10 per cent. in excess of the maximum amount likely to be in his custody at one time, with a bond in Form A.

In special cases in which the application of this rule would cause hardship, the Chairman may reduce the amount of security as far as he may think necessary subject to an appeal to the Corporation whose orders shall be final.

2. Store-keepers and stock-takers, whether appointed permanently or temporarily, shall furnish cash security with a bond in Form A, the amount being regulated according to circumstances by the Chairman, subject to the approval of the Corporation.

3. The rule that every officer and servant who handles Municipal money shall give cash security, shall not be enforced in the case of durwans, peons and orderlies, but in future no durwan peon or orderly shall be appointed, unless he can furnish a security bond (executed by some person of known respectability and solvency), for his good and honest conduct in the following form :—

"I know A B. of son of
to be an honest man, and I agree to forfeit Rs. if called upon to do so, should he be proved to have embezzled, stolen, misappropriated, misapplied or unlawfully disposed of any money, securities for money goods or property belonging to or in the possession, care, charge or custody of the Corporation of Calcutta or paid or entrusted to or in the possession, care, charge or custody of the said in the course of his employment as a servant of the Corporation.

The amount of such bond shall be in the case of durwans, peons or orderlies drawing a monthly salary of Rs. 10 or more Rs. 50, and in other cases Rs. 25.

Native Military pensioners employed as durwans, peons or orderlies, are exempted from the operation of this rule.

4. In all cases when an officer or servant is a member of the Provident Fund and has subscribed to the declaration in the form prescribed in the Provident Fund rules, agreeing to be bound by the rules of such Fund, the amount of cash security furnished by him may be reduced by the amount of his contribution to the Fund, and the cash security be annually withdrawn up to that amount. The security of an officer or servant of 20 years' pensionable service or upwards may be diminished by a sum calculated on his monthly pay multiplied by 25, with the proviso that the security shall in no case be diminished by more than one-half.

5. The amount of the security of the Treasurer, Collector and License Officer shall not be regulated by the principles enunciated in these rules, but shall be determined by the Corporation from time to time according to the special circumstances of their appointments, and if necessary, a special form of bond shall be executed by the officers named in this rule.

6. All officers and servants who have to furnish security in the sum of Rs. 100 or upwards, shall give it in the form of Government Promissory Notes, Calcutta Municipal Debentures or Calcutta Port Trust Debentures.

In the case of officers and servants who have to furnish security of less than Rs. 100, the amount of cash deposited by the officer shall remain with the Corporation, by whom no interest shall be allowed. Provided that with the sanction of the Chairman the amount so deposited may be placed in the Post Office Savings Bank as a security deposit, the pass-book remaining in the custody of the Chairman.

7. If an officer or servant already in the service of the Corporation is unable to furnish the full amount of security due from him in a single payment, he may, at the discretion of the Chairman, be permitted to pay it by monthly instalments of not less than one-fourth of his pay, within a maximum period of five years.

The forms of bond to be used in cases where security is furnished in instalments are given in Forms B and E.

8. Personal security bonds (with sureties as in Form C) for good and honest conduct, in the sum of Rs. 1,500 shall be taken from the record-keeper, and in the sum of Rs. 250 from Accountants, Assistant Record-keepers, Head Clerks, Bill-writers and the Contract Clerk, provided that the amount of the security Bond shall not exceed Rs. 150 in the case of Bill-writers and any other officers or servants of these classes whose salary does not exceed Rs. 30. The amounts may be reduced, after 20 years' pensionable service as laid down in Rule 4.

Any officer or servant named in this rule may, if he prefers it, deposit security in cash or in Government Promissory Notes, Calcutta Municipal Debentures or Calcutta Port Trust Debentures, with a bond without sureties in Form D for the amount prescribed above in lieu of a bond with sureties. When an officer or servant named in this rule wishes to deposit securities in cash but is unable to furnish the whole of the security at once he shall execute a Bond in Form C and shall furnish sureties to the satisfaction of the Chairman until the full security is deposited.

9. When an officer or servant is transferred to another appointment and it becomes necessary to demand a higher amount of security from him owing to the increased responsibilities of the new post, no fresh bond need be executed, but a memorandum (to be signed by the Principal and his Sureties) shall be endorsed on the bond, giving particulars of the additional security and the manner in which it has or will be deposited. It shall also be expressly stipulated that the terms of the bond with regard to the security originally deposited are to be applicable to the additional security. Similar endorsements (to be signed as mentioned above), shall be made when the amount of security is reduced. When any such endorsement is made on a registered bond the memorandum shall also be registered.

Provided that, when any such officer or servant is appointed to act in a higher post for a period of not more than three months, the security already deposited by him whether in the form of cash Government Promissory Notes, Calcutta Municipal Debentures or Port Trust Debentures, or in the form of personal security as required by rule 8, shall generally be deemed to be good and sufficient.

10. Government Promissory Notes or Debentures of the nature aforesaid, or cash lodged as security shall be returned after the expiration of six months from the date when the officer or servant by whom the security was deposited ceased to be in the service of or employed by the Corporation unless the Chairman otherwise direct. Security bonds shall ordinarily be cancelled and returned before the expiration of one year from the date when the officer by whom the bond was granted ceased to be in the service of or employed by the Corporation.

11. A register of securities shall be kept in the following form :—

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Serial No.	Name of Officer or Servant.	Designation or Duties.	Amount of Security payable.	Nature of Security furnished.	Value of Security furnished.	Date of Bond.	Date of deposit in safe custody.	REMARKS.

NOTICE.

For Medical Practitioners, Druggists and Chemists

IN consequence of the spread of the morphia habit in Rangoon, action has recently been taken by the Government of Burma to restrict dealings in the drug in that province. The result of the action is that the drug may now be imported otherwise than by Government only by the following persons only:—

(a) A medical practitioner, if the morphia is produced out of India and is imported by sea. A medical practitioner is defined as a person who has been registered under the English Medical Act or who has received a medical diploma from an Indian University and practices medicine according to European methods.

(b) Any pharmacist duly authorised by the Financial Commissioner of Burma to import morphia in such quantities and on such conditions as the Financial Commissioner may prescribe. A pharmacist is defined as a person who deals in European medicines and drugs as a means of livelihood and who has been licensed to sell morphia retail.

It has been decided for the present to grant only one license for import by a pharmacist, namely, to the firm of Messrs. E. H. deSouza and Company, Rangoon, and to limit the quantity of morphia which can be imported by them at one time to 100 oz.

As there is some reason to fear that chemists and druggists in Calcutta may send consignments of morphia to Burma in ignorance of the regulations mentioned above, this notice has been issued to make the regulations known to them.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of

Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order, and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previusly to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale ;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1904-1905, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Midnapore.

No. 3670L.R.—The 20th December 1905.—It appears that an application has been made by Babu Bhuban Chunder Banerji, Zamindar of Mahal Jobat, pargana Mynachor, in the district of Midnapore, to the Collector of that district, praying that the Rajbundi bund in Hooda No. 8, pargana Moyna, in that district, which connected two Zamindari Embankments Amdia and Bansulia in the same pargana and was only 200 feet in length, might be added to the lists of Takavi Embankments in the district which were maintained by Government. The Executive Engineer, Cossye Division, after inspecting the bund, has now submitted a report to the effect that the efficient drainage of Hooda No. 8, comprising 22 villages, depended on the maintenance of that bund and has recommended that it should be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government under clause (1) of section 7 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882. It appears also that to prevent the occurrence of imminent danger to life and property, the Executive Engineer has taken immediate possession of the bund in accordance with an order issued by the Collector under section 25 of the Act and reconstructed it to its full section. Inasmuch as no one has objected to the proceedings taken by the Collector in response to a general notice issued by him under section 7 of the Act and he has reported his action, through the proper channel, for confirmation by Government, the Lieutenant-Governor, after considering the report and the opinion expressed by the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division and the Board of Revenue in favour of the action taken by the Collector, is pleased to declare, under section 14 of the Act, that the said Rajbundi bund shall be a "public embankment" under the Act.

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR GRANTS-IN-AID TO COLLEGES IN BENGAL SANCTIONED IN BENGAL GOVERNMENT ORDER No. 2838T.—G., DATED THE 24TH OCTOBER / 7TH NOVEMBER 1905.

(1) Government from time to time sanctions grants-in-aid to colleges not under Government management, which work according to the Transfer Rules of the Department and which fulfil the conditions prescribed in the following rules.

(2) Annual grants are given in aid of ordinary recurring expenditure. Special grants are given in aid of non-recurring expenditure of a special character. Temporary grants are also given in aid of boarding establishments, in accordance with the principle laid down by the Government of India that boarding-houses and hostels should be made self-supporting, so far as recurring expenditure is concerned.

(3) Grants-in-aid are given on the principle of strict religious neutrality, and no preference will be shown to any college on the ground that any particular religious principles are or are not taught therein.

(4) Applications for grants-in-aid are made direct to the Director of Public Instruction in the case of first grade colleges and through the Divisional Inspector of Schools in the case of second grade colleges.

(5) Grants-in-aid will be given only to such colleges as require the payment of fees from their students. The fee-rates shall be fixed in consultation with the Director of Public Instruction at the time when the application for a grant is being made or renewed.

(6) Free-studentships shall not ordinarily exceed 5 per cent. of the total number of pupils on the rolls. The governing body of colleges are at liberty to admit, in addition to the 5 per cent. allowable, Muhammadans as free students up to the limit of 8 per cent. of the total number of students on the rolls, but not exceeding 12 in all. Colleges requiring special arrangements for free students must obtain the sanction of the Director of Public Instruction.

(7) The governing body of any college by whom application for a grant is made must appoint a Secretary from among themselves, or some responsible member of the staff, to conduct their correspondence with the Department. Every change of Secretary must be notified to the Director of Public Instruction under the signatures of the new Secretary and the Chairman of the governing body.

(8) Before a grant-in-aid is given or renewed, full information must be supplied on the following points, on which the amount of the grant, if given, will depend:—

(a) The constitution of the governing body, and the names of its members, together with their professions.

(b) The suitability of the buildings, their site and surroundings, accommodation for students, furniture, attached library and laboratory, lighting and ventilation of the rooms, drainage of the surrounding premises, and the efficiency of the sanitary arrangements for the students and staff.

(c) The pecuniary resources, permanent and temporary, on which the college will depend for support.

(d) The names, qualifications and salaries of the teaching staff, and the conditions governing their tenure of office.

(e) The average monthly receipts from fees, Government grants and other sources, and the average total monthly expenditure of the college in detail for each of the preceding three years.

(f) The average number of students in each class for each of the preceding three years.

(g) The rate of fees charged in each class.

(h) The results of public examinations during each of the preceding three years.

(i) The provision made for physical exercise.

(j) The extent of hostel accommodation.

(k) The amount of aid sought.

(l) The treasury at which the grant, if sanctioned, is to be payable.

(m) The name and the class of the college or colleges within ten miles of the Institution.

(9) Every new election to the governing body must be notified to the Director of Public Instruction under the signature of the Secretary and the member or members elected, in the case of first grade colleges, and, through the Divisional Inspector of Schools, in the case of second grade colleges. If the governing body is not considered to be sufficiently representative, the Director may suggest any necessary alterations.

(10) No grant shall be given, or, if given, it shall be withdrawn, unless the particulars given in connection with Rule 8 (b) are satisfactory.

(11) No new building shall be constructed for the college until the plan and estimates have been approved by the Director of Public Instruction.

(12) The appointment and dismissal of every Principal, Professor or Lecturer shall be notified to the Department. The Department shall have power to enquire into any case of removal of a member of the teaching staff.

(13) No grants shall be given, unless the conditions of residence of students are satisfactory, and unless due attention is paid to this point by the authorities of the colege.

(14) Any college to which aid is given, together with all its account books and other records, shall at all times be open to inspection by the Director of Public Instruction, or a senior officer of the Department who may be deputed by Government for the purpose. In the case of second grade colleges, all account books and other records shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Divisional Inspector of Schools.

(15) All receipts from whatever sources or for whatever purposes collected must be entered in the account books of the college.

(16) Any balance at the credit of the college must be employed for college purposes only, and no portion of it shall be spent for any other purpose without the previous sanction of the Director of Public Instruction.

(17) The surplus funds of the college must be placed to the credit of the college in some Bank at the end of each quarter, and the account should be made out in the joint names of the Secretary and one of the members of the governing body who will be selected for the purpose by that body.

(18) The following books shall also be kept :—

(a) An admission register.
(b) Attendance registers of Professors and students.
(c) A students' conduct register.
(d) A register of transfer certificates issued and received.

(f) A book containing the proceedings of the meetings of the governing body of the college.
(g) A register of the progress of the students, indicated specially at periodical examinations.
(h) A correspondence file.
(i) A library catalogue.
(j) A stock book of scientific apparatus, chemicals, etc.
(k) A fee and fine collection book.
(l) A subscription book.
(m) An acquittance roll.
(n) A cash book.

(19) At visits of inspection, the inspecting officer shall enquire into the information supplied in accordance with the provisions of Rule 8, and also into—

(a) the efficiency of the teaching;
(b) the state of discipline;
(c) the adequacy of the professorial staff, college library, teaching appliances and equipment of laboratories;
(d) the courses of study, subjects taught, routine of work and arrangements for exercises and tutorial assistance;
(e) the strictness with which the college registers are kept and the transfer rules observed;
(f) the degree of efficiency attained in the supervision of the hostels and messes attached to the college.

(20) Grant-in-aid colleges shall as a rule follow the rules in Government colleges in the matter of holidays. Exceptions may be made under special circumstances and with the sanction of the Director of Public Instruction.

(21) Government may claim a fair share of any balance at the credit of a grant-in-aid college at the time of its abolition, as well as of the sale proceeds of any college building or furniture towards the erection or purchase of which a grant may have been made by Government.

Annual Grants.

(22) Annual grants-in-aid shall not exceed in amount the sums to be expended from private sources (after excluding the fees of scholars), except in special cases, under special orders of Government.

(23) Grants will be sanctioned ordinarily for a period of three years; but the Director of Public Instruction may, at any time during its currency, recommend the revision of any grant for reasons to be stated, and to which the college authorities shall have an opportunity of replying.

(24) The grant is payable every month or every quarter at the option of the Department.

(25) The monthly or quarterly bill in the accompanying form must be sent in duplicate to the Director of Public Instruction for countersignature, and must be accompanied by a certificate that all salaries due for, and up to, the previous month have been paid in full.

(26) The monthly bill and the certificate must be signed by the Secretary of the governing body or the Principal of the college.

(27) Salaries for service in any month become due on the first day of the following month:—

SPECIAL GRANTS.

(28) Grants may be given to the governing body of colleges in aid—

(a) of erecting, enlarging or furnishing college buildings;
(b) of executing extensive repairs; and
(c) in special cases, of paying off debts incurred in erecting or enlarging college buildings.

NOTE 1.—Expenditure in the purchase of buildings may be treated as expenditure in the erection of buildings.
NOTE 2.—The sum to be allotted annually for building grants to colleges will be fixed provisionally for a term of years. It will not, in ordinary circumstances, be reduced, though it may be increased for any year during that term.
NOTE 3.—Every application for a grant must be submitted to the Department not later than the 31st December, if the grant is to be admissible for sanction during the following financial year. If found to be in accordance with the rules, and in other respects deserving of support, it will be included in the list of 'approved applications.' If not so included the reasons shall be notified to the governing body.
NOTE 4.—In case of an application for a repair grant under this rule (b), the governing body will be required to show that the necessity for such a grant has not arisen from the neglect of current repairs in previous years.

(29) Except in the case of the foregoing rule, no grant shall be made in consideration of former expenditure in college buildings.

(30) In general the proportion of the Government contribution made under Rule 28 shall not exceed one-half of the amount guaranteed from private sources.

(31) Before a building grant is sanctioned, the site, plans, estimates, specifications, title and draft-trust deeds must be approved by the Director of Public Instruction. If the college receives no monthly grant, the governing body must also satisfy the Department that it is likely to be maintained in efficiency and that it will be open to inspection.

(32) The trust-deed must declare the building to be granted in trust for college purposes only. It must also provide for the legal ownership of the premises, for the proper maintenance of the building and for the inspection and management of the college.

NOTE (1)—This rule does not preclude the governing body from using the building for other purposes, subject, if necessary, to the sanction of the Department, when not required for the purposes of the college.
NOTE (2)—When the grant does not exceed Rs. 1,000, the governing body may execute a deed of acceptance in place of a trust-deed—vide Government order No. 584, dated the 13th November 1890.

(33) No grant is finally sanctioned until a certificate is received from the governing body setting forth that the funds in their hands will, when added to the grant, be sufficient to meet all claims and to close the account.

(34) Advances may be made from time to time out of the sanctioned grant on receipt of a report from the Public Works Department that the work is proceeding satisfactorily.

(35) The grant is not paid in full until:—

(1) a report is received from the Public Works Department or other sufficient authority that the building is satisfactorily completed;
(2) the trust-deed is duly registered and lodged with the Department.

NOTE.—"Title-deeds of property mortgaged to Government on account of building grants may, as hitherto, remain with the mortgagor,"—vide Government order No. 44T.—G., dated the 16th June 1890.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bona fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previusly to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1904-1905, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Candidates who may then fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys, on horseback, will be awarded from 100 to 200 marks, according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination. PUBLIC.

Calcutta, the 19th January 1905.

No. 147.—The following rules regarding the submission of petitions to the Government of India are published for general information in supersession of the rules published with the Home Department notification no. 1812, dated the 11th October 1889, as amended by subsequent notifications:—

RULES REGARDING THE SUBMISSION OF PETITIONS TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

NOTE 1.—In these rules the words "Local Government" include a Local Administration, the Commander-in-Chief in India, and a Lieutenant-General Commanding the Forces, and also, except as regards rule 11(7), the head of a department directly under the Government of India.

NOTE 2.—These rules do not apply to non-pensionable subordinate, clerical, and menial establishments employed in the construction and working of State Railways, to whom Circular no. VI-Railway, Public Works Department, dated 1st June 1888, applies.

NOTE 3.—These rules apply, so far as may be, to all memorials, letters and applications, etc., addressed to the Governor General in Council.

NOTE 4.—These rules apply also to petitions by persons no longer in military employ who have served in the Army or the Royal Indian Marine, or have been attached to regiments or batteries or the staff or departments of the Army in any capacity.

SECTION I.

As to the submission of petitions to the Government of India by private persons or public bodies.

1. Every petition to the Government of India should be forwarded through the Local Government having jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the petition. In cases where no Local Government is in a position to deal with the subject-matter of the petition, it should be forwarded through the Local Government within whose jurisdiction the petitioner is or has last been residing or employed.

2. A petition may be either in manuscript or in print but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the petitioner, or, when the petitioners are numerous, by the signatures of one or more of them, and it must conclude with a specific prayer.

3. Every petition should be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Local Government requesting its transmission to the Government of India, and, when any order of a Local Government is appealed against, by a copy of such order, as well as of any orders passed in the case by subordinate authorities.

4. Communications on matters connected with any bills before the Council may be addressed either in the form of a petition to the Governor General in Council or in a letter to the Secretary in the Legislative Department, and must in either case be sent to the Secretary in the Legislative Department. Ordinarily such communications will not be answered. Except in the case of the High Court at Fort William, such communications from courts, officials or public bodies should be sent through the Local Government.

SECTION II.

As to the submission of petitions by officers in civil employ.

5. Every officer wishing to petition the Government of India should do so separately.

6. Every petition should be submitted through the head of the office or department to which the petitioner belongs, and should be forwarded by him through the usual official channel.

7. No officer may submit a petition in respect of any matter connected with his official position unless he has some personal interest in the matter.

8. No notice will be taken of a petition relating to any matter connected with the official prospects or position of an officer still in the public service unless it is submitted by the officer himself.

SECTION III.

As to the transmission or withholding of petitions by Local Governments.

9. Every petition to the Government of India should be forwarded by the Local Government concerned with a concise statement of the material facts and (unless there are special reasons for not doing so) an expression of opinion.

If the petition is an appeal against an order of dismissal from Government service, the papers submitted by the Local Government should show whether the charge against the petitioner was reduced to writing; whether his defence was taken and reduced to writing; and whether the decision was in writing. Where service or character books are maintained these also should be submitted.

10. When the petition is not in English, the Local Government should transmit a translation with it.

11. Local Governments are vested with discretionary power to withhold petitions addressed to the Government of India in the following cases :—

(1) When a petition is illegible or unintelligible.

(2) When a petition contains language which, in the opinion of the Local Government, is disloyal, disrespectful, or improper.

(3) When a previous petition has been disposed of by the Secretary of State for India or the Governor General in Council, and the petition discloses no new facts or circumstances which afford grounds for a reconsideration of the case.

(4) When a petition is an application for pecuniary assistance by a person manifestly possessing no claim.

(5) When a petition is an application for employment from a person not in the service of Government: or is a request for exemption from the provisions of any law or rule prescribing the qualifications to be possessed by persons in the service of Government or by persons engaging in any profession or employment.

(6) When a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision with which the executive has no legal power of interference.

NOTE 1.—In the following cases, namely :—

(a) when a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision in a case in which the Government has reserved any discretion of interference, or

(b) when a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision in a suit to which the Government was a party, or

(c) when a petition is practically a prayer for mercy or pardon, or contains such a prayer, the petition must be transmitted to the Government of India, unless it falls under clause (13) of this rule.

NOTE 2.—When a petition of the kind referred to in clause (c) of Note 1 is addressed to the Government of India after a previous petition has been rejected by the Local Government, the petition must be transmitted, unless the case is one of which the Local Government is competent to dispose on its own responsibility under the orders contained in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department no. $\frac{20}{1403-13}$, dated the 14th October 1885.

(7) When a petition is an appeal against an order of the Local Government upholding on appeal the dismissal, removal, reduction or other punishment of a Government servant or an employé of a local authority whose salary was not more than R 100 a month.

(8) When a petition is an appeal against a decision which by any law or rule having the force of law, is declared to be final

(9) When a petition is addressed by an officer still in the public service and has reference to his prospective claim for pension, except as provided in Article 915 of the Civil Service Regulations.

(10) When a petition is an appeal against the non-exercise by the Local Government of a discretion vested in it by law or rule.

(11) When a petition is an appeal in a case for which the law provides a different or specific remedy, or in regard to which the time limited by law for appeal has been exceeded.

(12) When a petition is an appeal against an order or decision of the Local Government, and is made more than six months after the communication of such order or decision to the petitioner without satisfactory explanation of the delay.

(13) When a petition relates to a subject on which the Local Government is competent to pass orders and no previous application for redress has been made to the Local Government.

(14) When a petition makes a proposal regarding legislation which the Local Government is not prepared to support.

12. If a petition is withheld, the petitioner should be informed of the fact and the reason for it.

13. A list of petitions withheld under rule 11, with the reasons for withholding them, shall be forwarded quarterly to the Government of India in the proper department.

No. 148.—The following rules for the submission, receipt and transmission of memorials and other papers of the same class to His Majesty the King, Emperor of India, or to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India are published for general information in supersession of the rules published with the Home Department Notification no. 707, dated 29th March 1878, as amended by subsequent notifications :—

RULES REGARDING THE SUBMISSION OF MEMORIALS AND OTHER PAPERS OF THE SAME CLASS TO HIS MAJESTY THE KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, OR TO THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

N.B.—These rules do not in any way affect or supersede orders issued on the same subject by the military authorities for the guidance of the army.

I.—No memorial will be received or attended to unless forwarded as hereinafter prescribed.

II.—Every memorial should be accompanied by a letter requesting its transmission to the authority to which it is addressed.

III.—Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India should be presented through the Local Government having jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the memorial. In cases where no Local Government is in a position to deal with the subject-matter of the memorial, it should be presented through the Local Government within whose jurisdiction the memorialist is or has last been residing or employed or, if there is no Local Government answering to these descriptions, then through the Government of India.

IV.—Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India presented through the Government of Madras or Bombay should be forwarded direct by the Local Government, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, except in the case of a memorial which—

(a) relates to—

(i) any rule or standing order of the Government of India, or

(ii) any Legislative Proceeding of the Governor General in Council or to an Act to which the Governor General has assented, or

(iii) a case which has been previously under the consideration of the Government of India, whether on appeal or otherwise, or

(b) if granted, would cause expenditure for which the Imperial and not the Local Government would be primarily responsible.

Every such memorial should be forwarded with a covering letter containing a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion to the Government of India in the proper Department for transmission to the Secretary of State* for India.

V.—Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India presented through a Local Government, other than the Government of Madras or Bombay, should be forwarded by the Local Government, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, to the Government of India in the proper department for transmission to the authority addressed.†

VI.—Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India from a person who has been employed in the army should, if it relates to a military subject, be forwarded through the Lieutenant-General Commanding the Forces of the Command in which the memorialist has served. The Lieutenant-General will forward it, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, to the Government of India in the Military Department for transmission to the authority addressed.‡

VII.—No limit is fixed to the time within which an appeal from an order of the Governments in India must be preferred to the Home Government, except in the case of an appeal from a judicial decision in which the judge is a political officer, and in which the appeal ordinarily lies to Government in the Political Department. Such appeals must be preferred within a period of twelve months from the date of communication to the person concerned of the order to which objection is taken.

VIII.—A memorial may be transmitted either in manuscript or in print, but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the memorialist on each sheet, and must conclude with a specific prayer.

IX.—Memorials, together with their accompanying documents, should be in English.§ If the accompanying documents must necessarily be forwarded in the vernacular, an English translation should be appended, which should be attested by the signature of the memorialist.

N.B.—It will be well for the transmitting office to examine such translations, and if they are found to be incorrect or faulty, to notice the fact in sending on the memorial.

X.—It is not necessary that memorials should be forwarded in duplicate or triplicate The originals will invariably be transmitted to England, a copy being made and retained by the Government of India, if necessary, for record.

XI.—As a general rule, the transmission to England of a memorial duly forwarded through the proper channel should not be delayed by the transmitting Government in India beyond a month after the receipt of the memorial.

* "In the case of memorials and petitions against, or regarding Acts passed by the Legislative Council of the Governor General, the Legislative Department is to be considered to be the department having cognizance of the subject-matter of the memorial. Such memorials will be transmitted to His Majesty's Secretary of State through that department; and to it should be referred all memorials of the kind now described, which may reach any other department of the Government of India. The Legislative Department will, when necessary, consult the executive department concerned before disposing of, or transmitting, such memorials."—Home Department no. $\frac{\text{22-Public}}{\text{996—1001}}$, dated 24th May 1878.

Memorials involving questions relating to pensions, gratuities, allowances, and the like should be forwarded through the Government of India.—Home Department Notification no. 5153, dated 10th September 1901.

† Appeals by private persons from the orders of the Lieutenant-Governors lie, in the first instance, to the Governor General in Council. An appeal to the Secretary of State will lie only in the event of an appeal to the Governor General in Council having been rejected.

‡ Appeals by individuals from the orders of the Lieutenant-General Commanding the forces, lie in the first instance to the Governor General in Council and thereafter to the Secretary of State.

§ "As it frequently happens that the disposal of vernacular petitions presented to the Government of India is delayed owing to their being unaccompanied by English translations, and as Local Governments and Administrations have greater facilities for translating the vernaculars in use under their different provinces than the Government of India have, I am directed to request that in order to avoid inconvenience and delay, all vernacular petitions transmitted by a Local Government and Administration to the Government of India may invariably be accompanied by an English translation."

2. "It should, however, be clearly understood that it is not the intention of the Governor General in Council that any petition presented for transmission to the Government of India or the Secretary of State should be refused by reason of its being in the vernacular or because it is unaccompanied by a translation. The great majority of the population do not know English, and cannot obtain the services of an English petition-writer; and it is most undesirable that in a country like India the free right of petition should be curtailed. But as the languages of India are many and diverse, it is desirable that any vernacular petition or memorial forwarded to supreme authority by or through a Local Government should be accompanied by an English translation."—[Home Department no. 54—2086-95 (Public), dated 21st November 1878.]

XII.—The Governments in India are vested with discretionary power to withhold the transmission of memorials addressed to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India in the following cases:—

(1) When a memorial is illegible or unintelligible.
(2) When a memorial contains disrespectful or improper language.
(3) When a second memorial is presented after a decision has already been given by the authority to which it is addressed, and when no new facts or circumstances are adduced which afford grounds for a reconsideration of the case. A memorial addressed to His Majesty by a person whose appeal to the Secretary of State for India has already been rejected, shall be held to be a second memorial to the same authority, and shall not be transmitted.
(4) When a memorial is a mere application for pecuniary assistance by a person manifestly possessing no claim.
(5) When a memorial is an application for employment under one of the Governments in India from a person not in the service of the Government or is a request for exemption from the provisions of any law or rule prescribing the qualifications to be possessed by persons in the service of Government or by persons engaging in any profession or employment.
(6) When a memorial is a mere appeal from a judicial decision.

NOTE 1.—If the memorial is practically an appeal for mercy or pardon, or contains such an appeal, it must be transmitted, unless it falls under rule XIII.

NOTE 2.—When a memorial of the kind referred to in Note 1 is addressed to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India after a previous petition has been rejected by the Government of India or the Local Government, the memorial must be transmitted unless the case is one of which the Local Government is competent to dispose on its own responsibility under the orders contained in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, no. $\frac{7}{1101-78}$, dated the 15th August 1890.

(7)* When a memorial is an appeal against an order of a Local Government regarding the dismissal, removal, reduction or other punishment of a Government servant or an employé of a local authority whose salary was not more than R100 a month; or when it is an appeal against a similar order of a Local Government confirmed by the Government of India from a Government servant or an employé of a local authority whose salary was not more than R250 a month.

NOTE.—The first sentence in this clause applies to the orders of the Government of India as well as to those of Local Governments.

(8) When a memorial is an appeal against a decision, which by any law or rule having the force of law, is declared to be final.
(9) When a memorial is addressed by an officer still in the public service and has reference to his prospective claim to pension.
(10) When a memorial is a mere appeal against the non-exercise by one of the Governments in India of a discretion vested in such Government by law or rule.
(11) When a memorial is an appeal against the action of a private individual or of a body of private individuals, regarding the private relations of the memorialist and such individual or body.
(12) When a memorial is an appeal against orders refusing the grant of a pension to an inferior servant who is not eligible for such grant under the pension rules.

XIII.—The Government of India may withhold the transmission of a memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India unless the memorialist has previously memorialized the Government of India and the Local Government concerned on the same subject: provided that, when the memorial is one for pardon which no authority in India has power to grant, it should be addressed to His Majesty and forwarded to the Secretary of State for India.

XIV.—When a memorial is withheld, the memorialist should be informed of the fact and of the reason for it.

XV.—A list of memorials withheld under the discretionary power conferred by rule XII, with the reasons for withholding them, will be forwarded quarterly to the Government of India in the case of memorials withheld by Local Governments under the same discretionary power, and by the Government of India in the department concerned to the Secretary of State for India.

* "The Governor General in Council considers that the discretionary power of withholding petitions under clause 8, rule XIII † of the rules for the submission, receipt, and transmission of memorials and other papers of the same class addressed to His Majesty the King, Emperor of India, or to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India, by private persons or by officers of all civil departments should be used with caution, and only after full consideration of the facts in each case. Having regard to the constitution and character of the Indian subordinate services, dismissal of Government officials often involves serious distress, if not actual ruin, to them, and it is right that, under such circumstances, every opportunity should be allowed to them of making themselves heard. Further, when, as sometimes happens, their representations reach the Secretary of State through non-official channels, it is convenient that he should be in a position at once to deal with them, instead of being obliged, as may now be the case, to refer for information to this country. Such petitions, therefore, should not be withheld when there is any reasonable prospect of difference of opinion as to the order passed on them by the Government of India, or when they contain anything to which the attention of the Secretary of State is likely to be especially directed."—Home Department Resolution no. 1438 (Public), dated 24th September 1880.

AMENDMENT OF THE RULES GOVERNING THE ADMISSION OF MEMBERS OF THE INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE TO INVALID ANNUITIES.

No. 77, dated Calcutta, the 21st January 1905.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

THE Government of India have had under their consideration the question of the suitability of the existing rules governing the admission of members of the Indian Civil Service to invalid annuities. Under article 561 of the Civil Service Regulations, a member of the Indian Civil Service who has been twenty-five years in the service and who has rendered twenty-one years' active service is entitled on his resignation of the service being accepted to an annuity of £1,000. An officer who is declared by a medical certificate to be incapacitated for further service and is therefore permitted to resign the service before he is entitled to such an annuity, is entitled under article 564 of the Regulations to a gratuity or annuity calculated as follows :—

(i) if he has been in the service for less than five years—a gratuity of £500.

(ii) if he has been in the service for five years or more—an annuity of £150, plus £20 for each complete year of service in excess of five; provided that the whole annuity shall not exceed £450.

2. The Governor-General in Council considered that the difference between the annuity of £1,000 for which an officer is eligible after twenty-five years' total and twenty-one years' active service, and the maximum annuity of £450 to which he can look if his service falls short by ever so small a period of either of these terms, was so great that acute feelings of disappointment and distress were naturally aroused on every occasion when ill-health forced an officer to retire when he was within a short distance of completing his qualifying service. His Excellency in Council recognized that as a consequence of this disproportionate difference between the two amounts officers whose health had completely broken down were sometimes led to stuggle to the utmost to complete their full term of service to the serious detriment of their health Moreover in the interests of the public business it appeared to the Government of India eminently undesirable that a strong inducement should be offered to officers of impaired physique to remain in the service for the sake of securing their full pension.

3. The Government of India accordingly made proposals to His Majesty's Government with the view of removing what they regarded as a reproach upon the administration and they are now pleased, in accordance with the orders received from the Secretary of State, to lay down the following revised scale of invalid gratuities and annuities in lieu of that contained in article 564 of the Civil Service Regulations. In future an officer incapacitated within the term of that article will be entitled to receive:—

(i) for less than five years' service—a gratuity of £500 ;

(ii) for five years' completed service—an annuity of £150, rising by £20 for each additional year up to twelve;

(iii) for twelve years' service—an annuity of £290, rising by £30 for each additional year up to twenty-three ;

(iv) for twenty-three years' service—an annuity of £620 ;

(v) for twenty-four years' service—an annuity of £660 ;

(vi) for twenty-five years' service (of which less than twenty-one have been active service)—an annuity of £700.

The effect of these orders is to enhance appreciably the annuities earned by service of more than twelve and less than twenty years, and very considerably those earned by service of more than twenty years. It is not intended to give retrospective effect to the introduction of the amended scale. The Governor-General in Council trusts that these orders will obviate the occurrence of all such cases of hardship as have occasionally resulted in the past.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information and for communication to all members of the Indian Civil Service serving under their orders, and to the Foreign / Finance / Public Works / Revenue / Legislative Department for information and necessary action; also that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

IT is notified for public information that, with effect from the 1st April 1905, the following changes will be made in the method of publishing the daily telegram issued by the Meteorological Department of the Goverment of India which gives a summary of the weather of the previous day and a brief forecast for the following twenty-four hours :—

(5) In place of the present practice by which the telegram is sent free of charge to certain selected newspapers, it will now be supplied on payment to any newspaper in India which is willing to subscribe. The charge for any newspaper, private individual or association willing to subscribe will be—Monthly Rs. 10. Daily 6 annas.

The Report of the Indian Police Commission, 1902-03.

Appointment of Commission.

IN July 1902 the Governor General in Council determined, with the approval of the Secretary of State, to appoint a strong and representative Commission to inquire into the administration of the Police in British India. This decision was the natural outcome of proceedings and correspondence which had been going on since the year 1888. The Government of India had actually before them, or in course of submission, far-reaching and costly proposals for reorganization from three large provinces, while their own examination of reports and statistics had led them to the conclusion that serious crime had increased materially, and that, owing largely to defective organization and administration, there was great need for improvement in the detective and preventive methods of the Police. Their chief reasons for appointing a Commission, instead of dealing with the matter by separate correspondence with the different local Governments, were that by a Commission alone could a homogeneous plan of reform be attained such as would secure a reasonable degree of uniformity in the organization and working of the District Police, and especially of the Railway Police whose operations extend over several provinces, and that in the process of recording evidence in public the non-official as well as the official aspects of the case would have every chance of being heard. The constitution of the Commission, the scope of their inquiries, and the method of procedure laid down for them were publicly announced in the Home Department Resolution of the 9th July 1902. A prominent feature in the scheme of operations was the arrangement by which small local Committees were appointed in each Province to conduct preliminary investigations, and to prepare a statement of the facts and conditions into which the Commission would have to inquire. This statement, together with the views of the local Government upon it, was presented to the Commission before they entered upon their inquiry, while the addition of a local member to their number during their visit to each Province offered a further guarantee for the completeness of their operations. The European members of the Commission assembled at Simla on 15th October 1902, and, after considering the local statements, proceeded to frame a set of questions covering the main heads of the subject. Copies of the questions were issued to the witnesses designated by the local Governments, and to a number of persons who came forward to give evidence in response to an invitation issued by the Commission. After examining the replies, the Commission selected for oral examination those persons whose views demanded further elucidation. In the course of their tours the Commission visited all Provinces of British India with the exception of Baluchistan; they held 50 public sittings; they received replies to their questions from 683 persons; and they examined orally 279 witnesses, most of whom had also replied to their questions. Their sittings were open to the public, and the evidence was published in the newspapers in more or less detail at the time. The Report of the Commission was signed on the 30th May 1903, seven months and a half from the commencement of their laborious investigations. That they were able within this time to deal exhaustively with a subject of such great importance and such wide range is due to the judicious manner in which their inquiries were organized, and to the fact that the ground to be covered was to some extent prepared for them by the local Committees already referred to.

Unanimity of report.

2. The Government of India regard the report of the Commission as an admirable and valuable piece of work. It is commendably brief and the conclusions are stated and argued in a concise and easily intelligible form. It bears the impress of the representative character of the Commission and of the authority which they possess in virtue of their long and varied experience; it expresses (with a single note of dissent on two collateral issues) the unanimous opinion of all the members; and it testifies throughout to the exhaustive character of their preliminary inquiries and to the care with which their final conclusions have been worked out. The Commissioners have placed before Government an able and conscientious attempt to discover a practical solution of a problem which has long been a subject of anxious consideration, and the form of which constantly varies with the changing conditions arising from the general progress of the country. The correspondence with local Governments, the substance of which is stated below, brings out the remarkable unanimity of opinion with which they have received the proposals of the Commission. There is no single recommendation of the first importance that has not been accepted by at least a majority of the Governments consulted. This is no doubt due to the procedure described above, which not only gave the amplest opportunity for the expression of all shades of opinion, but was supplemented in most provinces by personal discussion of the resolutions of the Commission with the head of the Government and his principal advisers, or with representative officers who were thoroughly conversant with local conditions.

History of police: reforms advocated by Lord Lansdowne's Government.

3. The first Chapter of the Report sketches in broad outlines the history of police organization in India. It shows how the indigenous systems of police, based upon the responsibility of the landholders or the village communities, were gradually modified by the progressive intervention of the State; how a series of experiments in different provinces culminated in the comprehensive reorganization effected by the Police Commission of 1860; and how the arrangements then introduced and improved from time to time, as Provincial resources admitted, fall short at the present day of the higher standard of efficiency which modern conditions demand.

In their anxiety to emphasize the necessity for further reform the Commission have omitted to mention the important correspondence and inquiries which, beginning in 1888, led to a large number of valuable improvements in the establishment and working of the police, involving the addition of considerable sums to the public expenditure, and laid down recommendations for further reforms which, though the conditions of the finances at the time rendered it difficult to give effect to them, would no doubt have been brought into operation had the resources of the State been able to bear the cost. Among the conclusions and recommendations of Lord Lansdowne's Government in 1890 were the following:—

(1) that the net pay of constables should be fixed at not less than R7 a month;

(2) that the pay and position of investigating and inspecting officers should be greatly improved, and that deserving inspectors of Police should be considered eligible for appointment to the Provincial Service;

(3) that a reform in the system of selecting gazetted officers (assistant district superintendents of Police) was necessary;

(4) that the District Magistrates should exercise closer supervision over the work of subordinate magistrates, especially with the object of avoiding delays in the disposal of cases;

(5) that measures should be taken to strengthen the law with respect to the prevention of offences;
(6) that the Crown should be properly represented in criminal prosecutions;
(7) that the statistical forms exhibiting the results of police action should be revised and improved, so as to enable a proper comparison to be made between those results in different provinces.

The establishment of provincial training schools for the police was due to Lord Lansdowne's Government; and the question of arming the police, and training them in the use of fire-arms, was dealt with by them in a comprehensive manner. One of the most important reforms that have been introduced in regard to the superior officers, viz., the recruitment of the European element mainly in England, was also brought into operation during the same administration.

In view of these carefully considered attempts to improve the administration of the Department, the Government of India are unable to endorse the opinion, expressed in paragraph 27 of the Report, that the efficiency of the police has been sacrificed to financial considerations. Of the measures now advocated by the Commission many of the most important had already been accepted in principle, and considerable progress had been made in bringing them into operation. If it has now been found possible to deal also with the pay and grading of the European officers, the administrative organization of the force, the railway police, the river police, and the important questions of criminal investigation and intelligence, this is because the investigation lately undertaken has exposed to view a wider area of practicable and necessary reform.

Popular opinion regarding the Police.

4. The second Chapter entitled "Popular opinion regarding the Police and their work" is a conspicuous instance of the candour which is a notable characteristic of the Report. The Commission begin by quoting the late Sir John Woodburn's opinion that the investigating staff (sub-inspectors and head constables) is "dishonest and tyrannical." In this opinion they "emphatically record their full concurrence." The five paragraphs that follow develop the general proposition, that the police are dishonest and tyrannical, into a number of particular charges against all grades of the native service. It is shown how constables extort money when making enquiries on beat, when investigating cases, and by arresting respectable people for committing nuisances; how head constables and sub-inspectors can and frequently do levy fees for all acts done in their official capacity; how every investigation yields a rich harvest to the police officer conducting it, more especially if it relates to valuable property like the alluvial lands on the great rivers of Bengal, where the shifting of the stream is constantly bringing titles into dispute; how complainants, witnesses, and accused are bullied into saying what the police wish them to say, and how an enquiry into a case results in the harassment and annoyance of all the decent people in the village. Even the inspectors are only "less dishonest than the grades below," and their reputation is such that respectable parents are unwilling to allow their sons to accept direct appointments to that rank. As regards the European superintendents the Commission observe that they are, "with the rarest exceptions, upright men beyond the influence of corruption." But they are described as having in many cases an imperfect acquaintance with the vernacular, as being out of touch with the people, especially with the respectable classes, as paying insufficient regard to public opinion, and as failing to realize the importance of their own duties.

5. The picture is painted in vivid colours, but in examining it certain considerations should be borne in mind. In the first place, it must be remembered that Chapter II is mainly a descriptive summary of the evidence given before the Commission; that it purports to present, as is indicated by the heading given to the chapter, a concise view of "popular opinion" and not to express a critical appreciation of the grounds of that opinion; and that in putting themselves in the place of the witnesses who addressed them, and entering into their point of view, the Commission have conveyed a general impression which needs qualification in the light of the remarks recorded in paragraph 30 and of the final judgment pronounced in the closing paragraph of the Report. In the former passage, after observing that their object has been "to give an account of the reputation of the police force and of the feelings of the people towards them," the Commission go on to admit that the police do as a rule desire to discover and bring to justice the persons really guilty; that the removal of a police station is generally opposed by its immediate neighbours; that there has been some improvement in the department; that the picture of inefficiency and corruption placed before them by many of the witnesses is not one of universal experience; and that the failings which have been described are due partly to the attitude and tendencies of the people themselves, and partly to the low pay and poor prospects of the members of the force. In the latter place, where conclusions only are stated and no descriptive matter intervenes, a careful distinction is drawn between the statement of fact that the police is far from efficient, that it is badly organized and supervised, and that it has failed to secure the confidence of the people; and the statement of popular opinion that it is "generally regarded as corrupt and oppressive." It is true that in the body of Chapter II the two points of view are not always clearly discriminated. The Commission begin by quoting the opinions of others; but where they agree with these, they insensibly glide into a corroboration of them which is hardly distinguishable from an independent and personal verdict. It appears to the Government of India, however, that the chapter, as a whole, should be read in the light which the foregoing observations throw upon it.

6. There are other considerations deserving of attention. In estimating the validity of the charges brought against the native members of the force, it should not be forgotten that the department is to a great extent untouched by the influence of English education and of the English traditions that accompany it, which have done so much to raise the standard and elevate the tone of the Revenue and Judicial services. Its traditions are native, and, it may be added, so are the traditional beliefs regarding it. If an ideal police could be called into existence to-morrow, it would be regarded as corrupt until it had lived down its popular reputation. So it is with individuals: the honest sub-inspector is likely to be suspected only of being more astute than his dishonest colleague. As to the European officers, many of them are admirable servants of Government, and even in cases where the disparaging remarks of the Commission may be held to apply, it may be pointed out that their deficiencies have been due in the main to the careless fashion in which young men were appointed before the present system of recruitment was introduced. The strictures upon the quality of the officers now in the Police service relate, indeed, almost entirely to those who entered it before the introduction of that system, and therefore are not required in order to enforce the Commission's argument for a reform which had already been carried out by Lord Lansdowne's Government. Nor do they admit of universal or even general application. With many of the elder generation of Indian police officers an intimate knowledge of the country and the people, combined with great activity in the discharge of their duties, made up for any shortcomings in the matter of mere book knowledge; while some have attained to conspicuous success as practical administrators. In the case of both Natives and Europeans the prospects of reform have been constantly deferred by the low scale of pay in relation to the laborious character of the work, and the physical energy, mental alertness, readiness of resource, and attention to minute details which its proper performance demands.

7. It may further be observed that even if each separate statement in the chapter is regarded as true, true statements may be so combined as to form an exaggerated picture; and this particular picture, even if read subject to the qualifications of paragraph 30, appears to the Government of India to convey an impression the acceptance of which would not be fair to the Indian police force as a whole. Each statement is doubtless true sometimes, in some places, of some people, and in some cases; perhaps often, in many places, of many people, and in many cases; but not (as is implied) almost always, of almost all people, and in almost all cases. Above all, while each individual malpractice which is described does undoubtedly exist, all of them do not exist in that combination in which Chapter II presents them. By picking out and massing together all the separate blots which at various times disfigure police work in India, the Commission have produced a picture which would, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, give to any outside observer a somewhat over-coloured idea of the ordinary conduct of a police inquiry or of the habitual behaviour of the police, at any rate in the majority of Indian Provinces. It seems to him that the Commission have perhaps hardly made sufficient allowance for the tendency of the Indian witness to exaggerate, especially when he has a genuine grievance. Nor have they sufficiently borne in mind that much of what is called corruption is little more than a highly developed form of that system of paying expedition money which is not unknown in Europe. It must also be remembered that the giving and taking of money, whether mere gratuities or something more serious, is still traditional among the Indian people, and quite as much so among the givers as among the takers; and is objected to only when it exceeds certain recognized limits, and becomes injurious and excessive. Where the materials are inferior and the standard of personal conduct is low, the quality of the work done is bound to reflect the character of the agency employed. The subordinate police officer is worse than the similarly placed subordinate in many other Departments mainly in so far as his power and opportunities are greater.

8. But whatever view may be taken of the subject-matter of this chapter, whether it be regarded as a summary of popular opinion or as a deliberate expression of conclusions arrived at, the Governor General in Council has no hesitation in giving publicity to the Commission's statement of the case. The agency which is exposed and censured is in the main an indigenous agency; its shortcomings are by none more freely denounced than by the inhabitants of India themselves; the picture itself brings out the difficulty of the task of governing India, arising from the nature of the instruments which it is necessary to employ; and the state of affairs now, unsatisfactory as it may be, represents an immense advance on that described in the report of the Commission which investigated the cases of police torture in Madras in 1855. Nor can the Commission be accused of any racial prejudice or partiality, since their strictures have not been confined to either nationality, and since the increase of expenditure that they advocate is in the ratio of six to one upon the Indian as compared with the English constituents of the force. As is pointed out by the Commission themselves, police administration in England was, before the reforms of Sir Robert Peel, very nearly as much open to criticism as it is now in India, if due allowance is made for the different circumstances of the two countries.

Village police.

9. Chapter III of the Report deals with the important and difficult subject of the village police. Here the Commission lay down that it is of paramount importance to develop and foster the village agencies available for police work. They go on to sketch the history of the village police in the different provinces of India and to notice the extent to which it is utilised in police administration. Thus they lead up to the specific recommendations:—

(1) that the responsibilities of the village watchmen for the performance of village police duties should be recognized and enforced in every province, and that the village watchman should be a village servant, subordinate to the village headman and not to the regular police.

(2) That the supervision and control of village headmen should be entrusted to the Collector or Deputy Commissioner and his subordinate officers.

(3) That the regular periodical attendance of village watchmen at the police station is unnecessary and undesirable.

(4) That it is expedient to relegate the trial of petty offences to village headmen and panchayats, and that, where this system does not exist, it should be cautiously and experimentally introduced.

The Government of India agree entirely with the principles enunciated by the Commission. They have invited the local Governments to undertake a careful review of the village systems of the provinces with reference to the possibility of preserving them from decay by rendering them more efficient agents in the prevention and reporting of crime. This, it would seem, may best be effected by conferring upon the village officers a defined status and powers to deal judicially with certain kinds of offences. Their dignity and authority will thus be greatly enhanced, and they will be enabled to relieve the regular criminal courts of trivial cases. The question, however, is so closely connected with the systems of land tenures and village organization, which differ from province to province, that it will probably have to be dealt with by separate legislation for each province.

Regular police and cognate questions.

10. In the foregoing paragraphs the Government of India have given the reasons which led to the appointment of the Commission, have passed in review the general character of their report, have analysed and commented on certain passages which might give rise to misapprehension, and have stated the course of action that will be followed in respect of the reorganization of the village police. They now proceed, with the approval of the Secretary of State, to issue general orders on the proposals made by the Police Commission regarding the following subjects :—

(1) The organization, recruitment, training, and pay of the general Police force, and their relations to the superior District Officers (Chapters IV, XII, and paragraph 114 of the report).
(2) The Police of the Presidency towns and Rangoon (Chapter V, and paragraphs 94 to 105).
(3) Railway Police (Chapter V, paragraphs 106-112).
(4) River Police (Chapter V, paragraph 113).
(5) The Provincial Criminal Investigation Departments, and their relations to the Central Intelligence Department (Chapter VIII, paragraphs 165 to 174).
(6) Statistics and records (Chapter X).
(7) The strength and cost of the Police (Chapter XI).

These seven headings comprise practically the whole of the expenditure entailed by the Commission's proposals, with the exception of that involved in the question of buildings and of improved methods of prosecution. In discussing the substantive proposals of the Commission under these headings, and stating their decision on each point, the Government of India propose to follow the order of treatment adopted in the body of the report.

Duties of constables: beat system and employment on extraneous duties condemned.

11. Para. 53.—On the subject of the employment of constables to collect local information the Governor General in Council accepts the Commission's views. He agrees both with them and with the local Governments in condemning, as a general rule, the so-called 'beat system', under which constables are given a roving commission to make periodical visits to certain areas without being controlled by any definite instructions. At the same time he desires to leave the necessary latitude to local Governments in respect of the application of this general principle. In Burma, for example, where there are no village chaukidars, the beat system should be retained as a link between the headman and the police station, the functions of the beat constable being preventive not detective, and the rules being modified so as to render them less rigid and to guard against the constable's visit becoming an occasion for oppression. In Bombay the tracts of country on the ghâts inhabited by lawless classes, and certain areas interlaced with native territory, may require constant patrol by armed police and the retention of protective outposts of the kind referred to by the Commission in para. 57 of their report. In all provinces, again, there are places where road patrols will be required.

The further proposal that constables should not be employed on extraneous duties is universally accepted, though it is doubtful whether it can be fully applied in Bengal. In a province which at present possesses neither land revenue subordinates nor village communal officials, the police are the only agency that can be employed for various miscellaneous duties. To take a recent illustration, it is certain that without the assistance both of the regular and of the village police no census could ever have been taken in the Lower Provinces.

Constables: local recruitment approved, subject to certain exceptions.

12. Para. 54.—The principle of the local recruitment of constables is generally accepted. It must, however, be regarded as subject to exceptions in certain provinces, as, for example, in Bengal, where the natives of Bengal proper and most Uriyas are unfitted by physique and temperament for the duties and discipline required. In Bengal and Orissa, therefore, it may be anticipated that a considerable stiffening of natives of Behar and Upper India will always be necessary. The same remarks apply, though in a less degree, to the Central Provinces. The matter is one in respect of which the conditions of different provinces differ greatly, and the Government of India are disposed to accept, at any rate for tracts similarly situated, the view stated by the Inspector-General of Police in the United Provinces, that although men should not ordinarily be required to serve at a great distance from their homes, yet the bulk of the district force should be composed of persons who do not belong to the district. In particular the portion of the force which is retained as an armed reserve for the purpose of securing public tranquillity must, it is evident, be drawn from those localities where the best material is to be found, and local recruitment would in this case not unfrequently fail to secure a proper standard of military efficiency.

Constables: training to be at central schools, except in Burma.

13. Para. 55.—All local Governments but one accept the views of the Commission as to the training of constables at central schools. The United Provinces Government objects on the grounds (1) that the prospect of being drafted to a distant school would deter many men of the best class from entering the police; (2) that a central school could not be established without increasing the line of cleavage between the armed and the unarmed branches; (3) that the Government could not find the money for the necessary buildings for a long time to come. On the other hand, the local Inspector-General approves strongly of the proposal to establish central schools, and observes that for the reasons given by the Commission there can be no effective training of constables in district reserves. The first of the objections taken by the United Provinces Government will probably be removed by the increase of pay which will reduce the disinclination of the constable to serve at a distance from his home while under training. The second is too indefinite to call for serious examination. As regards the cost of establishing the schools, the Government of India think it likely that the estimates can be sufficiently reduced under other heads to meet this item of expenditure, and that a certain number of buildings will in course of time be set free by the operation of other causes. They are not therefore disposed to admit the objections taken by the local Government. The case of Burma, on the other hand, is peculiar, and in that province, where most police recruits are married men, the Governor General in Council, following the recommendation of the Commission, agrees to the retention of the system of district training as being better suited to the characteristic usages of the people.

Constables: minimum pay to be fixed by local Government, with special allowances in particular localities.

14. Para. 56.—The recommendations of the Commission relating to constables are among the most important from the financial point of view, since in their original form they involve an increased expenditure of 44 lakhs, of which 24 lakhs is on account of enhanced pay. Even as since modified the increase under the head of unmounted constables costs R33,39,826, of which R19,96,846 represents increased pay, and R13,42,880 increased numbers. This increase of strength is required, not only to provide a sufficient reserve for ordinary duties, but also to guarantee the tranquillity of the country in the event of military operations on or beyond the frontier occupying the bulk of the troops now cantoned throughout India. The provision of additional men is therefore a matter of high importance, both military and civil, and the Government of India are of opinion that it should take precedence, in combination with the general increase in constables' pay, in the application of such funds as may be available for improving the police system. As regards initial pay, the Commission propose a minimum of R8 in India, or R12 in Burma, with local allowances where the minimum is deemed too low. Five local Governments accept the suggestion. The Madras Government considered, when the question was first referred to them, that R7 would be sufficient if local allowances of R2 were given in districts where recruitment is difficult. They have since represented that the inadequacy of R7 as the minimum pay of a police constable is daily becoming more apparent, and not only hampers recruitment but prevents the retention of suitable men in the force. For these it would be feasible, even in the larger provinces, to insist upon a uniform standard, and they therefore propose to determine the proportion for each province separately, on a consideration of all the circumstances, in communication with the local Government concerned.

Sub-inspectors: to be trained in central schools.

21. Para. 59.—The Commission propose that all sub-inspectors should be trained in a central school, and should then undergo a probationary year of practical training. This plan has generally commended itself to local Governments, and is approved by the Government of India.

Sub-inspectors: pay R50 to R100 in five grades except in Burma.

22. Para. 60.—The Commission recommend that the pay of sub-inspectors should be fixed at R50, rising to R80 in four grades. The Governments of Madras, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Assam agree to this proposal; the Bombay Government are willing to accept it, but would prefer to make the minimum salary R60 and the maximum R125; the Bengal Government is inclined to add a grade on R100, which would include 100 out of the 474 appointments in the R80 grade; while the United Provinces Government considers the proposals needlessly liberal and would retain the existing grading, raising the pay R10 all round. In view of this difference of opinion the Government of India consider it unnecessary to insist upon the same scale everywhere. The guiding principle is that the status of sub-inspectors should be placed on a par with that of naib-tahsildars, or corresponding officers, on the revenue side of the administration; and, subject to this condition the Government of India will now proceed to fix the pay of sub-inspectors for each province in communication with the local Government or Administration concerned. For this purpose the Governor General in Council has decided to lay down as a maximum standard a scale of pay consisting of five grades on R50, R60, R70, R80 and R100, the last being a small grade, comprising only five per cent. of the officers concerned. The lowest grade should also be relatively small as it will consist mainly of probationers. In respect of pay this proposal is substantially identical with that made by Lord Lansdowne's Government in 1890. The distribution among the grades will be as follows:—

1st	on R100	... ...	5 per cent
2nd	,, 80	... ...	20 ,,
3rd	,, 70	... ...	25 ,,
4th	,, 60	... ...	34 ,,
5th	,, 50	... ...	16 ,,

In Burma circumstances are peculiar, and the Government of India accept the local Government's proposal to institute a 6th grade on R40 to be filled by men with a good vernacular education but no knowledge of English. Here exceptional treatment is justified by the fact that men with the requisite qualifications can be obtained in Burma for that rate of pay. Similarly in the case of Coorg, where, as is explained below, the pay of inspectors must be lower than elsewhere, a somewhat lower scale is necessary for sub-inspectors. The Chief Commissioner proposes rates of R40, R50 and R60, but the Governor General in Council prefers an initial pay of R50 with two other grades on R60 and R70.

While at a training school probationary sub-inspectors should receive R25 a month as proposed by the Commission. In respect of horse allowance there is some small difference of opinion, the Bombay Government proposing R20 for the Presidency proper and R15 for Sind, and the United Provinces Government suggesting R10. The local Governments will be empowered to fix the horse allowance up to a maximum of R15. The proposal to give an advance for the purchase of uniform, horse, etc., is generally accepted by local Governments and is approved by the Government of India.

Inspectors: usually to be selected from among sub-inspectors; not more than 10 per cent. to be appointed direct.

23. Para. 61.—The next question for determination relates to the recruitment and duties of inspectors of police. The Commission propose that inspectors should be selected from among sub-inspectors, but that Government should reserve the power to appoint direct a certain number, not exceeding twenty per cent. Local Governments generally agree with this view. The Bombay Government would appoint only five per cent. direct; the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces would limit outside appointments to ten per cent; and the United Provinces Government would lay down no hard-and-fast rules on the subject. The Chief Commissioner of Assam, on the other hand, lays stress on the effect of educational influences in raising the tone of the public service in India, and would therefore reserve one-third of the vacancies for direct appointment. The object in view will, however, equally be attained under the present scheme by means of the higher educational qualifications required from sub-inspectors; while it is obvious that the efficiency of the force would be liable to be impaired if so large a proportion of these important posts were reserved for young men with no previous experience of police work. The Government of India consider that the rule should be that inspectors should ordinarily be appointed by promotion from among sub-inspectors, but that direct appointment should be permitted up to a maximum of ten per cent. of vacancies. The duties of inspectors will be to hold charge of circles comprising several police stations, or a large town; and within these they will exercise general supervision and should be ready to assist in investigations. They will, in short, be responsible to the superintendent for all police work in their circle.

Inspectors: pay R150 to R200 in three grades, with a few special appointments on R250.

24. Para. 62.—The Commission propose that the pay of inspectors should range from R150 to R200 in three grades, a few special appointments on R250 being reserved for good officers who are unfit for further promotion. The balance of opinion among local Governments is in favour of those views. The Madras Government, however, recommend a scale of pay from R110 to R250 in four grades, in order to reduce the interval between the pay of a first grade sub-inspector and the lowest grade of inspector, and to make the scale approach more closely to that of tahsildars. The United Provinces Government divides inspectors into the three classes of circle, court, and reserve inspectors, and suggests a somewhat more liberal scale of pay for the two latter classes. It further proposes to abolish all allowances with the exception of the allowance of R25 a month granted to the kotwals of six large cities. The Madras suggestion that the pay of the lowest grade of inspectors should be R110 does not commend itself to the Government of India in view of the facts that in 1890 Lord Lansdowne's Government considered that the minimum pay for inspectors all over India ought to be R150, and that the decision to fix the maximum pay of a sub-inspector at R100 will reduce the interval to which the Madras Government take exception. The proposals of the Commission regarding the pay of inspectors are based upon the view that the duties and responsibilities of these officers in police matters are analogous to those of tahsildars in respect of revenue business, and that unless the pay of the two departments is so far assimilated as to attract much the same kind of men it will be impossible to secure suitable candidates for the police. In the case of sub-inspectors the principle of equalising, so far as may be, the prospects of police and revenue officers, has already been accepted by the Government of India, and they have decided also to apply it to the grade of inspectors, which will be recruited chiefly by promotion from among station-house officers. They accordingly sanction the Commission's recommendation that the scale of pay should run from R150 to R200 in three grades, with a few special appointments on R250. An exception should be made in the case of Coorg, where tahsildars and subordinate magistrates receive only R100, R125, and R150, and inspectors of police should be paid on the same scale. The local allowances to kotwals in a few large cities in the United Provinces will be retained by reason of the special status and obligations of these officers. As regards travelling allowances the Government of India have decided to grant to circle inspectors a daily allowance of R1 when absent from head-quarters, and to sanction fixed horse or conveyance allowances for inspectors in charge of towns and prosecuting and reserve inspectors.

reasons, which they enforce by specific instances, they now express their concurrence in the recommendations of the Commission. The Bengal Government, while maintaining that the Commission were right in fixing R8 as the minimum pay, is prepared for the present to accept a minimum of R7 in certain districts where the standard of living is admittedly low. The United Provinces Government suggests that an initial pay of R7, rising after three years to R8, and after five years more to R9, will be sufficient. In view of the variety which exists throughout India in local conditions as to the cost of living and the wages required to attract a suitable class of men, the Government of India, while agreeing that a good case has been made out for raising the minimum pay (though not entirely for the reasons which have been stated by the Commission), think it unnecessary to insist on absolute uniformity in this respect, and have therefore decided that those local Governments who consider that a minimum of R7 is sufficient for constables should be allowed to retain that limit, and that a minimum of R8 should not be prescribed for general adoption. Even where the initial pay is not raised the position of a constable will be greatly improved by the abolition of deductions from pay and the concession of local allowances in special tracts.

Constables: to receive increments of R1 after 3, 10 and 17 years' approved service.

15. The Commission propose that a constable should receive an increment of R1 after three years' service, and again on the completion of eight and fifteen years' service. On this point, while the principle advocated by the Commission is generally accepted, there is some difference of opinion among local Governments as to the precise method in which it should be applied. The Madras Government propose an increment of R1 at five years, ten years and seventeen years' service; the Bombay Government would give two increments only, the first at five years and the second at ten years; the Punjab Government suggests intervals of five, twelve and twenty years; the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces would give two increments only, at any rate until the lowest grade of head constable on R12 has been abolished; the Chief Commissioner of Coorg would give a minimum pay of R9 and an increment of R1 after three and four years respectively. By way of compromise among these various opinions, the Government of India have decided that three increments of R1 each should be given after three, ten, and seventeen years' approved service. It is important that the first increment should accrue at an early stage in order to remove the temptation to resign prematurely, and that the final increment should not come too late to induce a man to serve his full time and to enable him to enjoy the higher pay for a reasonable period before he takes his pension. When the prospects of the service are thus improved, stress may properly be laid on the condition, indicated by the Commission, that increments should be given only to men who really deserve them, and should not be awarded by seniority as a matter of course.

Constables: to get free kits, but no good-conduct pay.

16. The Government of India accept the general opinion that the practice of making deductions from the pay of constables on account of kit and other charges should cease, and that the pay fixed should be handed over to the men in full. This necessary reform was contemplated by Lord Lansdowne's Government as long ago as 1890, when they suggested to all local Governments, except Madras, that, if possible, no constable should receive less pay than R7 net. They also agree in thinking that if increments are given on the scale and in the manner now sanctioned there will be no necessity for maintaining the existing system of good-conduct pay.

Constables: to get local allowances in special tracts.

17. The Government of India also agree with the local Governments in accepting the Commission's view that local allowances should be given in special tracts where the provincial minimum pay would be too low. This will meet the difficulties of recruitment that have been experienced in parts of Madras, the Central Provinces, and Burma.

Constables: to get two annas a day when deputed beyond inspector's circle.

18. The Commission propose that when a constable is sent on duty to any considerable distance beyond the limits of the jurisdiction of the station he should be granted an allowance of two annas a day. The Government of India regard this proposal as too indefinite, though the rate suggested is fair, and they have decided to restrict its application by declaring a constable's jurisdiction for the purpose of article 1039, Civil Service Regulations, to be coterminous with the limits of the inspector's circle. The allowance will be two annas a day in India, and four annas in Burma.

Head constables: pay to be R15, R17-8, and R20.

19. Para. 57.—All Governments, except the United Provinces, agree with the Commission's proposal to fix the pay of head constables at R15, R20 and R25, except in Burma where the rates should be R5 higher. As these officers will almost invariably be promoted constables, the United Provinces Government suggests that it will for some time suffice to maintain the three grades now in existence, and to raise the pay of each by R2. The Government of India agree with the Commission that head constables should not be put in charge of police-stations, or employed, except in unavoidable emergencies, as investigating officers; and that they should exercise subordinate authority over a number of constables, or should be employed on clerical work. Seeing that their responsibilities will thus be greatly reduced, and that a certain proportion of them will have a chance of rising to be sub-inspectors, their rates of pay may properly be fixed at R15, R17-8 and R20. The last figure is the maximum pay of a non-commissioned officer of the Indian Army. This will effect a reduction of rather more than four lakhs in the increased cost (estimated by the Commission at R8,81,000) of the proposals under this head.

Sub-inspectors: recruitment to be direct as far as possible; a certain proportion to be promoted head constables.

20. Para. 58.—The next question relates to the recruitment of sub-inspectors, who will be in charge of police stations, and will be responsible for the investigation of cases throughout the country. This is perhaps the most important class of officers in the whole force, and on it the largest amount of additional expenditure will be incurred, the number being increased from 5,500 to 9,900, and the cost from R33,39,000 to R78,65,000. The Commission propose that sub-inspectors should be recruited direct between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-five; that their educational standard should not be lower than the matriculation or the school final examination; and that promotions from the class of head constable should be limited to fifteen per cent. of the vacancies. The opinions of local Governments are generally in accord with these views. The Bengal Government considers that the educational test should vary in different parts of the province. The United Provinces Government observes that in the present state of education it is not possible to insist on the qualifications suggested by the Commission without excluding the most desirable candidates. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces suggests that half of the sub-inspectors who are directly appointed should be selected by competition among men nominated by magistrates of districts. This suggestion is not in accordance with accepted educational policy and cannot be adopted. The Government of India admit the general principle that sub-inspectors should, as far as possible, be recruited direct, and that a maximum proportion of appointments should be fixed for each province for promotion to this class from that of head constables. In view, however, of the great difference between provinces and parts of provinces in respect of education, it seems to the Governor General in Council that uniformity in this matter is not attainable, and that the local Government should fix the highest qualifications it thinks suitable, reporting to the Government of India, for confirmation, the standard adopted. As regards the maximum proportion of appointments to be filled by the promotion of head constables, the Bombay Government recommends twenty-five per cent. and the Punjab twenty per cent., to be reduced in each case gradually to fifteen per cent. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces would leave the matter to the discretion of local Governments, and observes that he himself would give preference to those who possessing the requisite educational qualifications, have entered as head constables or even as constables and have worked their way up. On the other hand, the Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province would fix the maximum for promotions from the lower rank at not less than sixty-six per cent. In view of the diversity of local conditions, the Government of India doubt whether at R300, R400 and R500 in three grades. In view of improved prospects and easier pension conditions the United Provinces Government thinks it unnecessary to raise the pay of the first grade beyond R450. It desires also to retain the local allowance of R100 now attached to the charge of the subdivision of Lalitpur, to give similar allowances for Kassia and Karwi, and to grant an allowance of R50 on account of dearness of living in six stations. The Government of India adopt the Commission's proposals as to rates of pay. With regard to the further opinion that no local allowances should be granted, on the general ground that these can no longer be justified when the pay and prospects of the service have been materially improved, the Governor General in Council will leave it open to local Governments to propose the retention of such allowances in places where living is exceptionally dear.

District Superintendents: pay R700, R800, R900, R1,000, and 1,200.

31. As regards the pay of superintendents the proposals of the Commission have been generally approved by local Governments. The Madras Government, however, suggest that the pay of the highest grade of superintendent should be fixed at R1,100. The United Provinces Government advocates a scale rising from R600 to R1,000 in addition to local allowances aggregating R9,600 a year. The Lieutenant-Governor considers a grade on R1,200 unnecessary in itself and inconsistent with the proposal which he makes regarding Deputy Inspectors-General. Nor does he think it necessary that an officer should rise at once from R500 as a first grade assistant to R700 as a fifth grade district superintendent, and he suggests the introduction of a small grade of R600 in which a man would not remain long. The Burma Government recommends that for superintendents the rates in force for executive engineers should be introduced with an improved grading and a similar system of increments for approved service. Whatever rates may be adopted for India he thinks that superintendents in Burma should get R100 and assistants R50 in excess of the Indian scale. In support of his proposal the Lieutenant-Governor refers to the case of the Forest and Public Works services, and observes that in regrading the Burma Commission the pay of 1st grade assistant commissioners was fixed at R1,000 in consideration of the high cost of living in Burma. It is true that officers of the two former services, when employed in Burma on pay not exceeding R900 or R1,000 a month, receive a local allowance of R100, and that the same concession has recently been extended to officers of the Indian Medical Service on pay not exceeding R1,000. But the reason is that these services are Imperial, that they are not recruited specially for Burma, and that it is necessary to give them some compensation for the disadvantages of serving in that province. This argument cannot, in the opinion of the Government of India, be extended to the police, and the special rates proposed could only be justified on the general ground that recruitment for the Indian police as a whole would be injuriously affected by the liability to be posted to Burma on the system of selection by rotation which obtains in the case of the Indian Civil Service. It is impossible at present to say that this would be the case, and the Governor General in Council is not prepared to entertain the Burma proposal until its necessity has been proved by experience. The Chief Commissioner of Assam, while generally accepting the recommendations of the Commission, thinks that the pay of a fifth grade superintendent might be fixed at R600. After considering carefully the views of the local Governments the Government of India have decided to accept the Commission's proposals as to the pay of District Superintendents of Police.

District Superintendents: only men fit for the most important districts to be promoted beyond R900.

32. The Bombay Government demur to the proposal that superintendents should not be promoted beyond the class of R900 if they are considered unfit to hold charge of the most important districts, on the ground that the question is a delicate one and extremely difficult to pronounce upon finally. The condition, however, is strictly analogous to that under which members of the executive branch of the provincial service receive promotion up to R400 by seniority, and reach the higher grades only by selection, and the Government of India have no hesitation in approving it.

Deputy Superintendents: to be natives of India qualified for provincial service; pay R250, R300, R400, R500.

33. Paras. 66 and 68.- All local Governments save one agree with the proposal of the Commission to create a Provincial Police service to be filled by natives of India called deputy superintendents, who are qualified for the existing provincial services. Their functions and their departmental status will be similar to those of assistant superintendents; they will help the superintendent in his duties of control and supervision, and will relieve him of office routine so that he may be more free to tour about his district. This new class of officers will be distributed among four grades on pay rising from R250 to R500. The United Provinces Government, however, suggests that the pay should range from R250 to R450 in five grades so as not to exceed the maximum which it proposes for assistant superintendents. As the latter suggestion has been rejected, the argument no longer holds good and the Government of India sanction the recommendation of the Commission. They observe that this proposal was cordially accepted by the Maharaja of Darbhanga failing the acceptance of the alternative put forward by him in the second part of his note of dissent. The Governor General in Council trusts that it may be found possible to secure good material for this class, on whose judicious selection will greatly depend the enlistment of the sympathies of educated Indians on the side of the police, and who will furnish the source from which Indian district superintendents may eventually be drawn.

Native District Superintendents: to be appointed when fit, but no appointments to be reserved.

34. Para. 67.—There is general agreement among local Governments that it would be inexpedient to reserve a certain fixed number of district superintendentships of police for natives of India, and the Government of India accept this view. Deputy superintendents, however, will be eligible for promotion to district charges where their fitness is fully established. When thus promoted their pay will run from R600 to R900 in four classes as proposed by the Commission.

Deputy Inspectors-General: pay R1,500 and R1,800.

35. Para. 70.—For Deputy Inspectors-General the Commission propose three grades of pay—R1,500, R1,750 and R2,000. In referring the question to local Governments the Government of India remarked that these rates appeared to them to be probably unnecessarily high. The Madras Government observe that Deputy Inspectors-General of Police may be taken to correspond with Conservators of Forests and Superintending Engineers of the Public Works Department. As none of these officers receive more than R1,600, they think that the pay of the three grades of Deputy Inspector-General should be R1,600, R1,400 and R1,200, and that the pay of the highest grade of district superintendents should be fixed at R1,100. The Bombay Government also refer to the Forest and Public Works Departments, but consider that, having regard to the importance of securing good men for the police, the rates proposed by the Commission are not unreasonably high. They are, however, not prepared to say that a maximum of R1,800 is not sufficient, provided the five appointments required in Bombay are graded so as to give two on R1,800, one on R1,650 and two on R1,500. The United Provinces Government thinks that the pay proposed by the Commission would put the senior Deputy Inspectors-General on a better footing than heads of departments, such as the Inspector-General of Prisons or the Sanitary Commissioner. In view of the improved prospects of pension it proposes a scale of R1,200, R1,500 and R1,800. The Burma Government also refers to the Forest and Public Works Departments, and remarks that Deputy Inspectors-General hold rank corresponding to that of Conservators and Superintending Engineers, who are graded on R1,400 to R1,600. The Lieutenant-Governor points out that in the two departments named there is approximately one prize appointment to eight other appointments, whereas in the police the proportion will be only one to twenty. At the same time he apprehends difficulty if the rates of pay in the police exceed those of corresponding appointments in other departments, and suggests that Deputy Inspectors-General should be graded at R1,400, R1,600 and R1,800.

25. The proposals of the Commission on the important subject of the recruitment and training of the European officers of the Police are contained in paragraphs 63 and 64 of the report and are summarised in Chapter XII as follows:—

European officers: method of recruitment.

(1) That the recruitment of the European service should be by competitive examination in England, on the same conditions as at present, except that the age limit for candidates should be 18 to 20.
(2) That successful candidates should be required to undergo a two years' course of training at an English residential university where there is a Board of Indian studies, each candidate receiving an allowance during this period of £100 a year; and that the course of study should include criminal law and practice, taking of notes of cases in the criminal courts, an Indian vernacular, Indian history, geography and ethnology, and riding. Probationers should also be required to join a volunteer corps and become efficient.
(3) That in addition to this probationary training in England each Assistant Superintendent should, on arrival in India, be attached for one session to the provincial training school.

26. Concerning the expediency of recruiting the European branch of the service solely by competition in England, and thus debarring from it the European born in India, there is some difference of opinion among the local Governments consulted. The Madras Government report that on the only three occasions when candidates for the police were selected locally, all of them had received their education in England; and that the chief result of local recruitment hitherto has been to admit young men educated in England who came out to India because they had no hope of entering the service by competition at home. They observe that Europeans born in India are statutory natives, and that, as such, they would be eligible for the provincial service, and would have a chance of becoming superintendents by promotion. The Bombay Government are emphatically in favour of recruitment by competitive examination in England, and would not go further in the direction of local recruitment than to provide that Europeans may be appointed in India with the sanction of the Governor General in Council. The Bengal Government is strongly opposed to recruitment in this country for the Indian as distinguished from the provincial police service. If this view is not accepted, the Lieutenant-Governor recommends that the number of vacancies filled in India should be as few as possible and that no officer should be recruited in this country who has been educated in England. The United Provinces Government dwells upon the increased facilities for obtaining a cheap education in England, and the tendency of Anglo-Indian parents at the present day to send their sons home, which it considers not likely to be checked by any improvement of European schools in India. On the other hand, the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab remarks that he knows from personal experience that nomination in India, though it has given the service some of the worst, has also produced some of the best police-officers. He would therefore recruit annually for one appointment in India, provided that a suitable candidate is forthcoming. The Lieutenant-Governor of Burma says that he has had no experience of Anglo-Indians enlisted by competition in India, but on general grounds he thinks that a limited number of youths of this class should be recruited in India by nomination followed either by a qualifying examination or by competition. For Burma he would prefer nomination without competition. The Chief Commissioner of Assam would reserve a certain number of appointments for competition in India among boys nominated by headmasters of Anglo-Indian schools. The Chief Commissioners of Coorg and the North-West Frontier Province are also in favour of making some direct appointments in India.

Views of local Governments.

27. The question turns upon the individual capacity of a few members of a large and not altogether homogeneous community for the discharge of duties demanding certain qualifications which the education and surroundings of the class to which they belong do not ordinarily tend to produce. The factors of problem are in themselves obscure, and the divergence of views on the part of competent authorities points to the difficulty of arriving at any certain conclusion. The Secretary of State is strongly impressed with the expediency, urged upon him by officers of long and recent experience in India, of keeping open the higher branches of the Police to that class of Europeans whose knowledge of the people, their language, and their ways has in the past given to the service some of its best and most skilled officers. It seems to him probable that if domiciled Europeans are compelled by a change in the rules to send their sons who aspire to Police employment to England for their education, the result will be the loss of that intimate knowledge of native habits and modes of thought, which has hitherto distinguished police officers drawn from this class. The Secretary of State also feels very strongly that a decision which closed the superior service (except in the provincial branch) to a class which has hitherto been among the most successful in it would be greatly and not unjustifiably resented. He is unable to admit that for police purposes the locally educated European must necessarily be inferior, as is suggested by the Commission in paragraph 69 of their report, and he thinks that the arguments in favour of continuing to utilise him, as he has hitherto been utilised, greatly preponderate. It has, therefore, been decided, as the best solution of the matter, to reserve to the Governor General in Council the power to make such appointments in exceptional cases on the special recommendation of a local Government in favour of an individual, and subject to the condition that the candidate put forward has attained an adequate standard of educational qualifications.

Conclusions of Secretary of State.

28. While admitting the necessity for subjecting European police officers to a thorough preliminary training, both general and special, in subjects a knowledge of which will tend to produce professional efficiency, the Government of India have ultimately determined, after considering various alternative proposals, that it will not be expedient to confer this training at any of the English Universities. They recognise that there is something to be said for the view advocated by the Commission that the elements of the Indian vernaculars are acquired by Europeans most correctly from European teachers, who are accustomed to take note of linguistic difficulties, and are best qualified to explain to students those points in the structure of a vernacular language which have given themselves most trouble in acquiring it; but they see no reason why, in the training schools in India to which candidates will be sent on arrival, instruction of this kind should not be forthcoming. Indian ethnology, again, cannot be studied in Europe with the fulness with which it can be studied in India, where the necessary illustrations are at hand; and valuable as a course of reporting cases in Court may be in teaching the elements of procedure in police cases, there is so much difference between Indian and English criminal practice that the Government of India cannot regard this part of the proposed training as essential.

European officers: method of training.

29. For these reasons the Government of India are of opinion that the training of probationary Assistant Superintendents must be carried out in India, that they should proceed to this country as soon as they have been pronounced fit for service and have passed in riding, and that they should remain at a training school in India for not less than eighteen months. This is the view taken by all local Governments, with the exception of the Chief Commissioner of Assam, who proposes to place probationers for two years under selected district superintendents, and the Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province, who would give eighteen months' training partly at provincial head-quarters and partly at a police-station and at a district head-quarters. The necessary arrangements will be made in consultation with local Governments for the course of study to be pursued, under well qualified teachers, at these schools which the Governor General in Council regards as of the utmost importance to the efficiency of the Indian Police service. He is disposed to agree with the opinion expressed by some authorities that they should not be located at Presidency towns.

30. Para. 65.—All Governments, except the United Provinces, accept the proposals of the Commission to fix the pay of assistant superintendents

Assistant Superintendents: pay R300, R400 and R500.

The new scheme of pay proposed by the Commission for Deputy Inspectors-General appears to the Government of India to be higher than the circumstances of the case demand in view of the fact that police officers will continue to be eligible for the appointment of Inspector-General. They further apprehend that the result of adopting it would be to create dissatisfaction with the present scale of remuneration in other Indian services. In their opinion it is not probable that this dissatisfaction would be removed by considerations drawn from the general average of pay in the police. For these reasons, and also having regard to the duties which these officers will have to perform, the Governor General in Council has decided that two grades of pay on R1,500 and R1,800 will be sufficient.

Deputy Inspectors-General: to be eligible for additional pension of R1,000.

36. Concurring with the local Governments the Government of India have decided that the appointment of Deputy Inspector-General should be made by selection from among superintendents, and should be regarded as the highest prize absolutely reserved for the police department. They also agree with the Commission and with the local Governments in thinking that Deputy Inspectors-General of Police should be eligible for an additional pension of R1,000 a year.

37. The proposal made at the end of paragraph 70 of the report to introduce a system of family pensions seems to the Government of India to have been insufficiently considered. The Commission have not referred to the existence of a provident fund nor to the fact that police-officers may subscribe to the Uncovenanted Service Family Pension Fund; and the recommendation involves the extension to a number of other services of a general principle which has at present been applied only to the Army and the Indian Civil Service. As at present advised therefore the Government of India do not intend to proceed further in the matter.

Inspector-General: pay in larger provinces R2,500—100—3,000; in Central Provinces local allowance of R450 subject to maximum of R2,500; in Assam R2,250.

38. Para. 71.—For the appointment of Inspector-General the Commission propose a pay of R2,500—100—3,000 in the larger provinces; a local allowance of R250 a month in Assam and the Central Provinces; and in the North-West Frontier Province the pay of a first class Deputy Inspector-General, R2,000 a month. All local Governments agree except Bombay and Assam. The former remark that the pay of a second grade Commissioner is R3,000 and they propose that when the appointment is held by a civilian it should be graded as a Commissionership and the salary fixed at R3,000. But it is evidently undesirable to make exceptions in particular provinces to the general scale; and the Commission's proposal really secures all that is needed. By the time a district magistrate selected as Inspector-General has become eligible for promotion to a Commissionership he will probably have attained the maximum pay of his rank, and it is not intended that an officer should enter the Inspector-Generalship when he has already become a Commissioner, but merely that, having taken the appointment as a magistrate, he should have no pecuniary inducement to leave it when promoted to the charge of a division. The object which the Bombay Government have in view—the retention of an Inspector-General for a substantial time—will thus be attained; and the Government of India are unable to accept their modification of the Commission's proposal.

In view of the small size of the province and of the fact that the Inspector-General of Police has been relieved of excise work, the Chief Commissioner of Assam is not sure that an allowance of R250 in addition to the officer's pay as a member of the Commission is needed. If no material change is made in the extent of that province it seems to the Government of India sufficient that the maximum salary should be R2,250 a month. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces has not referred to the proposals of the Commission. Since the addition of Berar the pay of the Inspector-General has been increased by a local allowance sufficient to bring his emoluments up to those of a first grade deputy commissioner, viz., R2,250 a month. The Government of India think, however, that in the Central Provinces (as in other provinces except Assam) the maximum pay should be equivalent to that of the lowest grade of Commissioner. They have decided, therefore, that the Inspector-General of the Central Provinces should be given the pay of his rank, plus an allowance of R450, subject to a maximum of R2,500.

The Commission recommend that the appointment of Inspector-General should for the present ordinarily be held by a selected district magistrate, but that in exceptional cases police officers may also be eligible. The appointment is one of such importance that the Government of India deem it undesirable to make any announcement on this subject which would tie the hands of the Government in future, and they would leave to local Governments full discretion to fill the post either from the Indian Civil Service or from the Police as may seem most expedient. For the reasons stated by the Commission the Inspector-General should not be a Secretary to Government, but he should have free access to the head of the local Government and should communicate unofficially with the secretariat.

Armed reserves: history of question.

39. In paragraphs 72 to 77 of their report the Commission deal with the subject of the armed police reserves and the military police in British India. These forces must be organized in such a manner as to enable them to deal promptly and effectually with ordinary tumults and local disturbances without the aid of the military arm, and also to render effective help in maintaining internal security in the event of a general mobilization of the field army. In view of the importance of the subject the Government of India deem it advisable to refer in some detail to the past discussions relating to it.

In 1886 certain religious disturbances in Northern India led Lord Dufferin's Government to consider the question of police reserves. In addressing local Governments on the subject they called attention to the principles laid down by the Police Commission of 1860 and recognized on subsequent occasions, viz.:—

(i) that the functions of a civil police were to protect the community against all local criminal classes and to put down all riots and local disturbances;

(ii) that they should be so far drilled and disciplined as to enable them to deal with large bodies of non-military men;

(iii) that they should only carry arms where there is a chance of their often having to deal with armed, or desperate men, or when employed on duties the nature of which required them to be armed;

(iv) that the strength of the force should be no greater than is needed for purely police purposes, a reserve being kept at some head-quarters to be available against sudden local outbreaks.

After considering the replies of local Governments Lord Lansdowne's Government decided in March 1889 (i) that the principles laid down in 1860 should be strictly adhered to, and that as far as possible the arrangements then proposed should be preserved or restored as the case might be; (ii) that a sufficient reserve should be maintained, if possible, in every district, but at all events at convenient centres, to put down all riots and local disturbances, and ready, or capable of being concentrated, for extraordinary emergencies; (iii) that the reserves should form part of the district force, and should not be relieved of all escort duty; (iv) that all recruits should, as far as possible, pass through the reserve, and be capable of serving with it as occasion might require; (v) that Snider rifles should only be given to special reserves employed as military police or against dacoits; that the ordinary reserves did not require rifles, but ought to have such arms as would enable them to deal effectively with large bodies of rioters at close quarters; and that a suitable weapon for this purpose would be a breech-loading smooth-bore carbine to fire ball or buckshot.

40. The principles adopted by the Government of India in 1889 for the organization of the reserves have not been modified by any subsequent orders. The system has not, however, been developed in all provinces on the lines intended, and in Bombay and the United Provinces the force has been divided into armed and unarmed branches. The Police Commission condemn this arrangement on the ground that it either imposes a heavy strain on the armed branch, or leads to an unnecessarily extravagant scale of establishment, and recommend a reversion to the plan approved by the Government of India in 1889, under which all the members of the force are to be taught the use of arms and instructed in drill. The Commission further propose that there should be at the head-quarters of each district, or perhaps, where the districts are small, at convenient centres in groups of districts, a body of armed police called the head-quarters force, available for the performance of all guard, orderly and escort duties at head-quarters, including the supply of escorts to bring in treasure and sometimes prisoners from sub-divisional stations, and that a certain proportion of this force, which might ordinarily be fixed at 25 constables and 2 head constables, should be kept in reserve, ready for despatch in any direction at a moment's notice. The proposal is not, perhaps, altogether clear, and might be interpreted as meaning that the whole head-quarters forces of more than one district might be collected at a single head-quarters. The Government of India understand the intention to be, that only the portions of these forces to be kept in reserve for despatch on emergencies should be so collected. The Commission consider that the charge of this head-quarters reserve should be given to a European inspector assisted, where it is a large one, by one or more European sergeants, and that through it all members of the force should periodically pass for courses of training of suitable duration.

Proposals of Commission.

41. After careful consideration of the subject the Government of India have now decided, (i) to approve the system of reserves proposed by the Police Commission for Madras, Bengal, the Punjab, Burma, the Central Provinces and Assam; (ii) to allow the Bombay and United Provinces Governments to retain the existing division of the force into armed and unarmed branches, at the same time expressing preference for the system advocated by the Commission and urging its adoption as opportunity offers; (iii) to maintain the military police in Assam, Burma and Bengal, and in the two former provinces to look to this branch only of the police force for the maintenance of order in times of emergency; and (iv) to arm the force ordinarily with bored-out Martinis, the rifles now in its hands being retained and their number increased temporarily in cases of necessity. The Governor General in Council believes that these arrangements will be sufficient to hold the country in a time of emergency without in any way interfering with the due performance by the district police of the normal duties entrusted to them.

Conclusions of the Government of India.

42. Para. 78.—The Commission admit that some force of mounted men is required, especially in large cities and in places where dacoity is rife; but in view of the expense they consider that they should not be employed unless the necessity is clearly established. In so far as mounted police are required in the presidency towns and Rangoon the subject is dealt with under the head of city police. As regards their use in mufassal areas, the Bombay Government represent strongly that it would be dangerous to diminish the force to the extent suggested by the Commission. They are prepared, however, to attempt some reduction in those districts of the presidency proper where the number of mounted police has already been reduced below ten. In Sind, where it is alleged that mounted men are the only efficient police, they deprecate any decrease at all. The United Provinces and Punjab Governments consider it impossible to reduce the existing mounted establishment, which in the former case has already been brought down to the strength recommended by the Commission. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces is prepared, though reluctantly, to reduce the existing force to 4 dafadars and 46 sowars—a saving of R17,000 a year. The Government of India however are decidedly of opinion that the present strength of 5 dafadars and 95 sowars should be retained for use in pursuing dacoits and dispersing rioters. There have been serious outbreaks in Nagpur city, and there is no cavalry station nearer than Jubbulpore. In all of these cases the view of the local Government that the existing force should be maintained is accepted. There seems to have been some hesitation in carrying out the reductions in the number of mounted men which have already been effected, and the Government of India think that in areas in which they are found to be specially useful in suppressing disturbances the local Governments should not be debarred from reconsidering the question whether the numbers have not been too much reduced.

Present strength of mounted police to be maintained.

Discipline and relations between district officers and police.

43. Para. 81.—The difficult question of the relations between the district magistrate and the district superintendent has not been made easier by a certain indistinctness, if not inconsistency, in the Commission's recommendations, which has presented difficulties to most of the local Governments. In para. 81 the Commission lay down the principle that the maintenance of discipline must be trusted entirely to the officers of the force. They state that in the Madras Police Act (XXIV of 1859) and the General Police Act (V of 1861) there is no mention of the district magistrate or the Commissioner in connection with the discipline of the force. The General Police Act differs from the Madras Police Act in that, while in section 7 it declares the appointment of all police-officers, other than gazetted officers to rest with the superior officers of the force and describes the punishments which can be awarded to them, in section 4 it declares the administration of the police throughout the local jurisdiction of the magistrate of the district to be under the general control and direction of such magistrate. This is one of the most vital matters affecting police administration and the Government of India propose to examine it in some detail.

Bombay Act IV of 1890.

44. The Bombay Act IV of 1890, the provisions of which were discussed at length between Lord Lansdowne's Government and the local Government, is fuller and more precise than any of the other Acts. The relations between the district magistrate and the district superintendent are defined in the following provisions :—

(1) Section 12 provides that the district superintendent shall, subject to the orders of the Inspector-General and of the magistrate of the district within their several spheres of authority, direct and regulate all matters of arms, drill, exercise, observation of persons and events, mutual relations, distribution of duties, study of laws, orders and modes of proceeding, and all matters of executive detail in the fulfilment of their duties by the police force of his district.

(2) Section 13 places the district superintendent and the police force of a district under the command and control of the magistrate, but in exercising this authority the magistrate is to be governed by such rules and orders as the Government may from time to time make, and is to be subject to the lawful orders of the Commissioner.

(3) Section 15 empowers the magistrate to require from the district superintendent reports, either general or particular, on any matter connected with crimes, the condition of the criminal classes, the prevention of disorder, the regulation of assemblies and amusements, the distribution of the police force, the utilization of auxiliary means and all other matters in furtherance of his control of the police force and the maintenance of order.

(4) Section 16 empowers the magistrate, if he observes marked incompetence, or unfitness for the locality or for his particular duties, in any officer subordinate to the district superintendent, to call on the latter to substitute another officer for any officer whom he has power to remove, and the superintendent is bound to comply with such requisition. In the case of an inspector or officer of higher grade the magistrate may communicate with the Inspector-General, who must thereon determine the measures to be taken with careful attention to the views of the magistrate, and must inform him of the orders he may issue.

Commission's views as to discipline.

45. Further, under section 29(3) the Inspector-General is given power to punish inspectors in accordance with sub-section (1) of that section, while the district superintendent may punish any officer subordinate to an inspector, and may even suspend an inspector pending the orders of the Inspector-General. The exercise of these powers is subject to such rules and orders as may be made by Government. The district magistrate is not, under the Bombay Act, empowered to punish or dismiss any police-officer any more than he is under Act V of 1861, but by sections 12, 13, 15 and 16 of the former Act he is given large powers of control and direction, both general and specific, which extend to the discipline of the force, just as under Act V of 1861 he is given general powers of control and direction. The Government of India understand that the Commission's recommendations as to discipline are:—(i) that the magistrate should be empowered to direct the superintendent to make an inquiry into the conduct of any subordinate police-officer; (ii) that if dissatisfied with the results of any inquiry into a case of misconduct he should be at liberty to bring the matter to the notice of the Deputy Inspector-General, and, if necessary, of the Inspector-General. So far as the Governor General in Council can judge, the Commission's remarks in para. 81 are made solely with reference to the punishment of the officers of the force, power in respect of which is, under all the Acts, reserved to the Government or to the departmental officers.

Commission's views on relations of police to district magistrate not altogether distinct.

46. The observations of the Commission in para. 121 of the report are, however, somewhat indistinct. It is essential, they say, "to preserve the responsibility of the district magistrate for the general success of the criminal administration of his district, and to afford him prompt means of ensuring the obedience of the organised constabulary to his lawful orders." He must have the power, therefore, to issue to the police any orders necessary to secure the efficient discharge of their duties in the preservation of the peace or in the prevention or detection of offences. But his "intervention is not intended to be constant or detailed. It is intended to be confined to what is necessary to maintain the magistrate's control over the criminal administration of the district, and his responsibility for the maintenance of the peace, but it is not intended to extend to the administration of the police department, except where interference in that is necessary for maintaining the above control and responsibility."

In para. 122 the Commission refer to the extension in some provinces of the district magistrate's control in the matter of appointments and of that of the Commissioner and district magistrate in respect of appeals. After noticing that the different manuals go too far in subordinating the district superintendent to the magistrate the Commission proceed:—"It is true that the absolute necessity for maintaining the responsibility of the district magistrate demands that he should receive the fullest assistance from the superintendent, or that the latter should promptly carry out his orders." They add—"though he must carry out the lawful orders of the district magistrate, he is not his assistant in the sense in which an assistant collector is." Again in para. 123 they say: "the district magistrate must be kept informed of the progress of criminal administration." He is able to ensure this because (i) he receives important diaries and reports of arrests; (ii) he can collect information from the people on tour; (iii) the district superintendent must bring to his notice everything of importance in connection with crime and criminals, must discuss the work of the police with him, and must take his advice on all important matters. "The district magistrate should rarely, and only of necessity, interfere in ordinary police work or in investigations, but the discretion must be left to him as to when interference is necessary." "He should only rarely have to interfere in police work, though he certainly must have the power to interfere when necessary." Finally the Commission consider "that, in the interests of the people, the police must remain under the general control and direction of the district magistrate."

Opinions of local Governments.

47. The views of local Governments upon the questions raised in the foregoing paragraphs are by no means unanimous. The Madras Government suggest that the district magistrate should be empowered (1) to order an enquiry into the conduct of any police-officer and to make suggestions to the Inspector-General, (2) to recommend the removal of an inspector from any charge in his district, and that if the Inspector-General disagrees he should be bound to lay the case before Government. The Bombay Government merely say that the promotion of sub-inspectors should be made by the Deputy Inspector-General in consultation with the district magistrate and the superintendent. The Bengal Government, while holding that the discipline of the force should rest with the departmental officers, suggests (1) that in cases of misconduct affecting outsiders the papers should be sent to the magistrate for information, and that it should be in his discretion to advise the superintendent or to refer the case to the Inspector-General if the superintendent does not agree with him; (2) that in other cases the magistrate should have the power to order an enquiry into the conduct of any police-officer and to bring to the notice of the Deputy Inspector-General and Inspector-General any misuse by the superintendent of his disciplinary powers: and (3) that the magistrate should have a veto on the promotion of sub-inspectors. The United Provinces Government claims full powers of control for the district magistrate, and would retain in the hands of the Commissioner the police functions which he now exercises. The Punjab Government, on the other hand, is about to modify the system under which authority over the police is shared between the Inspector-General and the Commissioner. The Burma Government deprecates the weakening of the general control of the district magistrate, and observes that the superintendent should keep him fully informed of all matters of importance affecting the police, should consult him, and should take his advice. The magistrate should not interfere in questions of petty discipline and the internal economy of the force. As to the Commissioner, Sir Hugh Barnes agrees with the concluding portion of para. 120 of the Commission's report which expresses the state of things existing in Burma. The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces dwells on the necessity of having one authority in the district, who will take a broader view of personal questions than the superintendent of police, and deprecates the restriction of the district magistrate and the Commissioner to advisory functions. The Chief Commissioner of Assam thinks that departmental control is less effective than that of the district authority for "the maintenance of the relations with the people upon which the value of the police so greatly depends." He suggests that any comments on the conduct of the police made by a court should be laid before the district magistrate and forwarded by him to the Inspector-General, and that the former should have the right to refer to the Government if in his opinion the action taken by the Inspector-General is not adequate. Mr. Fuller accepts the view that Commissioners should not be charged with police functions, but he would hold them responsible for bringing to the notice of the Government any serious defects or failures.

Principles suggested : as to district magistrate.

48. The Government of India have considered the whole subject carefully in the light of the correspondence which took place with the Bombay Government on the subject of Bombay Act IV of 1890. It seems to them as necessary now as it was then to maintain the principle that, since the district magistrate is and must continue to be the chief executive authority in the district, and in that capacity is responsible for the peace and good order of his charge, the police must be completely under his control and direction, and he must, subject to the usual control of the Commissioner and the Government, have unquestioned power to employ them as he thinks best for the maintenance of law and order and the detection and suppression of crime. He should not, however, interfere in matters of departmental management and discipline, except where the conduct and qualifications of a police officer affect the criminal administration of his district. Even then his power of intervention should be exercised, not by issuing direct orders, but by bringing the case to the notice of the superior officers of the police. Owing to the indistinctness of the law as it now stands some local Governments have given magistrates larger and more detailed powers than were originally contemplated, or than are necessary for the purpose of giving effect to the principle stated above. It is essential, in the view of the Government of India, that the law should now be made perfectly clear on this important subject, so as to remove all occasions for the complaint that the district magistrate's powers have been improperly extended, and the authority of the district superintendent over his own subordinates unduly reduced. It is equally essential that the supervision of the district magistrate over the action of the police should be real, and that there should be no room for doubt as to his full responsibility for the criminal administration of his district.

As to Commissioner.

49. The Governor General in Council now passes to the question of the relations between the Commissioner and the police. The principle determining the Commissioner's position and powers is that it is his duty, as the local head of the general administration, to exercise supervision and control over the action of the district magistrates in respect of police matters. It follows from what has been said that there is no necessity for conferring on him the powers given by sections 17 to 20 of the Bombay Act. The objects of these sections can equally well be attained by executive order. Nor need he be a Deputy Inspector-General. Since the Inspector-General will in future be an Indian civilian (often of Commissioner's standing) or a picked man from the department, it need not, in the opinion of the Government of India, be anticipated that well considered views expressed by a Commissioner will be lightly disregarded. The case of the Commissioner in Sind requires special treatment. The Government of India think that he should be given the powers of a local Government for police purposes to be exercised subject to the general control of the Governor in Council.

Proposals as to law.

50. Of the detailed provisions required to give effect to these principles some will be embodied in a general Police Act for India, while others will be included in rules to be made under that Act with the sanction of the Government of India. Following the order of treatment in the Bombay Act the matters to be dealt with in the law are the following :—

(1) Inspectors and sub-inspectors should be appointed by the Inspector-General; subordinates by the district superintendent, subject in each case to any rule that the local Government may make.

(2) Matters of arms, drill, exercise, and internal discipline should be under the district superintendent.

(3) The power of punishment should be defined as in section 29 (3) of the Bombay Police Act, the list of punishments admissible being amended in accordance with the Commission's recommendations (paragraph 82 of the report) and the power of fining being struck out.

(4) The district magistrate should be empowered to direct enquiry into misconduct on the part of police officers.

(5) He should also have the powers described in sections 15 and 16 of the Bombay Act IV of 1890, and summarized in paragraph 44 above.

(6) The district magistrate should be empowered by law to issue orders as to the conduct of particular investigations.

(7) The general position of the magistrate should be defined as in section 13(1) of the Bombay Act, the words "control and direction" being substituted for "command and control" which seem to the Governor General in Council inappropriate. Effect will be given to this general principle, and exceptions made to it, by rules passed with the sanction of the Government of India.

Proposals as to rules.

51. The rules under the Act will also provide for the following points :—

(1) The Deputy Inspector-General should have the power of transferring officers within his range subject to the control of the Inspector-General.

(2) The course of appeal should be from the district superintendent to the Deputy Inspector-General, from the Deputy Inspector-General to the Inspector-General, and from the Inspector-General to Government, but only one appeal should be allowed from the original order, and there should be no appeal from the minor punishments mentioned in paragraph 53 below.

(3) The records of all serious cases of misconduct and of cases affecting the public should be submitted to the district magistrate, and he should have power to send them on, with his recommendations, through the Commissioner to the Deputy Inspector-General or Inspector-General. He should also have power to call for any papers relating to the conduct or character of a police-officer.

52. Para. 82.—Following the opinion of local Governments the Government of India approve of the adoption of the black mark system and the abolition of fines in favour of the forfeiture of leave. They think however that the period required to wipe out a black mark should be raised from three months to six. This matter also would be dealt with in the rules to be made under the Act.

Punishments.

53. Para. 83.—The Government of India agree with the Commission that there should be no appeal against an order of confinement to quarters, punishment drill, extra guard, fatigue or other duty, black mark, or forfeiture of leave. In all other cases one appeal should be allowed in the rules made under the Act.

Appeals.

54. Para. 84.—In this paragraph the Commission make the suggestion that police officers believed to be corrupt should be liable to be removed from the service on evidence of general repute, and endeavour to support it by reference to the treatment of habitual offenders under section 117(3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The analogy, however, is misleading. An habitual offender is not imprisoned on the strength of his general reputation. Evidence on that point merely leads to his being required to furnish security for good behaviour; and he is imprisoned, not because of his reputation, but because no one will stand surety for him. The Commission, however, qualify the proposal by saying that they do not recommend its adoption unless the Government are willing to extend it to other departments of public service. The Governor General in Council is unable to accept this recommendation.

Removal on ground of reputation disallowed.

55. Para. 85.—The Commission's proposal to remove inefficient officers from the service raises various large questions which are not confined to the police and cannot conveniently be discussed here. The Government of India propose to take them into consideration separately.

Removal for inefficiency to be considered separately.

56. Paras. 86 and 60.—The Commission's recommendations on the subject of promotion are—Promotion.

(1) that superintendents should be empowered to promote officers of and below the rank of sub-inspector;
(2) that the promotion of sub-inspectors should be subject to the magistrate's veto;
(3) that inspectors and European sergeants should be promoted by the Inspector-General.

The Madras Government slightly vary these proposals by suggesting that promotion should ordinarily be made by seniority by the Deputy Inspector-General on the recommendation of the superintendent subject to the magistrate's veto. Their object is to enable the Deputy Inspector-General to redress inequalities of promotion within the districts included in his range. The Punjab Government recommends that the promotion of sub-inspectors should be by ranges, on the ground that where districts are small and the number of sub-inspectors is limited district promotion must produce either a block or an unequal flow of promotion. The Chief Commissioner of Assam is also opposed to district promotion and thinks that sub-inspectors should be on a provincial list. The Government of India are deterred from deferring to the opinions of the two dissenting local Governments by the following considerations:—

(1) if the superintendent is to exercise due authority in his district he must be given the power to reward or to pass over investigating officers;
(2) the Deputy Inspector-General cannot know the sub-inspectors of his range well enough to be able to make proper use of the power of promotion;
(3) in any case the power of transfer will rest with the Deputy Inspector-General, who will thus be enabled to redress inequalities, and to correct any tendency to make an eccentric use of the power of district promotion;

(4) the argument drawn from the analogy of naib-tahsildars overlooks the facts that these officers are less numerous than sub-inspectors and that their work admits to a far greater extent of being judged by returns.

All other local Governments accept the proposals stated at the beginning of this paragraph, and the Government of India have no hesitation in endorsing their opinions.

Service for pension: to be separately considered.

57. Para. 87.—The Government of India are unwilling to delay a decision upon more emergent matters by considering the difficult question of the period of service for pension. They propose therefore to deal separately with the Commission's proposals under this head.

Buildings.

58. Para. 88.—The Government of India accept the proposals of the Commission that quarters should be provided for sub-inspectors and officers of lower rank, and if possible for the families of such officers also; and that there should be in each province one or more standard designs for buildings.

Uniform.

59. Para. 89.—In the case of European officers the Government of India propose to prescribe a general uniform, and their decision regarding its details will be promulgated hereafter. They accept the views of the Commission as to the uniform of the rest of the force.

Nomenclature.

60. Para. 90.—The Government of India agree with the proposal made by the Commission to adopt a standard system of nomenclature in police matters throughout India.

Legislation.

61. Para. 91.—All local Governments, except Madras and the Central Provinces, agree with the Commission in thinking that there should be a single Police Act for the whole of India. The Madras Government give no reasons for their dissent, nor are the Government of India convinced by the views expressed by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces. In their judgment the improvement of communications and the increasing intercourse between provinces afford conclusive reasons for uniform legislation on the subject of police. Such latitude as may be required for different provinces can be given by rule-making powers, but these powers should, the Government of India consider, be exercised subject to the control of the Governor General in Council. A Bill has been prepared embodying the views as to the discipline of the police and its relations to the district officers which are set forth above, and local Governments will now be consulted on the subject.

Police manual.

62. Para. 87.—The Government of India accept the general opinion of local Governments that the proposal to have a single police manual containing rules and instructions of general application must be put aside as impracticable.

Municipal and cantonment police.

63. Para. 114.—The Government of India agree with the Commission and with local Governments that municipal and cantonment police should form an integral part of the provincial force and should be under the control of the provincial authorities.

Special police forces.

64. The preceding paragraphs deal with the questions arising for determination with reference to the provincial police generally. The Government of India will now consider the case of certain special bodies of police which differ from the ordinary police in their organization and in the character of their work and therefore demand special treatment. These are the police of the three presidency towns and Rangoon, the railway police, the police required for work on large navigable rivers, and the police employed in municipalities and cantonments.

Presidency towns: status of Commissioner of Police.

65. Paras. 94-95.—In these paragraphs the Commission examine the history and constitution of the police forces which are maintained under the authority of Acts of the local legislatures in the three presidency towns of Madras, Bombay and Calcutta, and in the city of Rangoon. Their views on this subject are thus stated in the summary of recommendations in Chapter XII of the report :—

(1) That the complete separation which now exists between the city and district police does not conduce to systematic co-operation between the two forces, and leaves the Inspector-General in ignorance of the police work in the most important charge in the province.

(2) That if the Commissioner of Police is placed under the Inspector-General, the former must retain much larger powers of discipline and control than are accorded to district superintendents.

(3) That the Commissioner of Police should be graded as a Deputy Inspector-General.

(4) That the office of Deputy Commissioner as now constituted should be abolished.

(5) That the present class of superintendents should be abolished, their place being taken by a small number of officers of the rank of district superintendent, who should be deputed for duty in the city.

(6) That in respect of the lower ranks, the organization should be similar to that of the district police, but that a larger proportion of Europeans is necessary.

These proposals are accepted without hesitation by the Madras and Burma Governments. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal found, on examining the problem of the proposed subordination of the Commissioner of Police to the Inspector-General and the amalgamation of the two forces from the point of view of the head of the province, that there was much to be said on the other side of the question. When first addressing the Government of India on the subject he put forward detailed arguments in favour of leaving the Calcutta system untouched for the present save in a few particulars which can be dealt with by executive orders, and was "very strongly of opinion that it would be inexpedient to adopt any measures which would tend to diminish the authority of the Commissioner of Police, or lower his position in the eyes of the public." Sir A. Fraser believed that the continuance of the necessary co-operation between the city and district police, which the amalgamation ought to secure, and which is said already to exist owing to the combined efforts of the present Inspector-General and the present Commissioner of Police, can be guaranteed by "a slight change in procedure which will in no way impair the Commissioner's authority or affect his prestige." At a later period, while accepting the views of the Commission as to the theoretical solution of the question and the ultimate object to be aimed at, the Lieutenant-Governor explained that he desired to avoid recourse to legislation, which would be necessary if the Commissioner's status were altered. The Bombay Government, after agreeing that the Commissioner of Police should "be graded with Deputy Inspectors-General of Police and be subject to the general orders of the Inspectors-General," proceed to express the opinion "that, except for purposes of co-ordination and co-operation with the district police, the largest local powers should, as at present, be entrusted to the Commissioner of Police within the limits of the city of Bombay." If such co-ordination and co-operation can be secured at Bombay, as the Lieutenant-Governor thinks they can at Calcutta, without impairing the present responsibility of the Commissioner, it may perhaps be concluded from these words that the Bombay Government would prefer to make no other change.

Question deferred for further consideration.

66. The question is of real importance only so far as it affects the Presidency Police of Calcutta and Bombay. The city of Madras includes a large area, much of which does not differ in character of occupation or in population from the mufassal, and it is possible that there may be little objection to the amalgamation proposed. In Rangoon the Commissioner of Police was removed from the jurisdiction of the Inspector-General only in 1899, and it may perhaps be desirable to revert to the arrangements which existed previously to that date. In Calcutta and Bombay, however, the present system has always prevailed. These great cities, each containing a crowded population approaching a million and living in conditions unlike those of any other parts of the province, require, for their efficient police administration, officers of long special experience of those conditions, who must be accustomed to responsibility, and ought not to be checked in the exercise of it by the consciousness of subordination to a departmental superior. On the other hand, it may be urged that if the Inspector-General is a selected district magistrate, his experience would probably be confined to the very different conditions prevailing in the mufassal; that he is present in the capital for only a small part of the year and can hardly be in close touch with local feelings and habits; and that where his opinion on a question of city police administration differed from that of the Commissioner it would hardly command the authority which special knowledge confers. It may be said, moreover, that in view of the frequent presence of the local Government at the Presidency towns (and of the Government of India at Calcutta) it will always remain necessary that the Commissioner of Police should be in direct communication with head-quarters, and should not be bound to refer questions or receive instructions through the Inspector-General. Promptitude of action, full sense of responsibility, and the prestige imparted by the possession of power are, it may fairly be argued, essential for the administration of so difficult a task as the police control of great cities like Calcutta and Bombay, where European conditions prevail to an extent found nowhere else in Calcutta. It may be added that European precedents are in favour of the separate constitution of city police forces in such towns, rather than of their amalgamation with the general police. For these reasons the Government of India have determined to defer the issue of final orders on this part of the Commission's proposals in order to ascertain, in consultation with the local Governments concerned, whether the necessary unity of action with the district police cannot be attained without introducing a subordination of the Commissioner to the Inspector-General, which might on emergencies be fraught with danger, and in the daily working of police administration might interpose needless delay and weaken responsibility.

Present city superintendents to be abolished, and replaced by smaller number of district superintendents with free quarters and local allowance.

67. Para. 96.—The Madras, Bombay and Burma Governments accept the Commission's proposals that the present class of superintendents in the Presidency towns should be abolished and replaced by a smaller number of district superintendents, to be styled Deputy Commissioners, who should receive free quarters and a local allowance of R100 a month. The Bengal Government proposes to retain three of the present superintendents for the charge of the intelligence department, the reserve and the port, but says that if the Hugli River is made a river police district a district superintendent will be required to take charge of the port and the river. The Government of India consider this latter arrangement suitable, and they would therefore retain only two of the present superintendents on salaries of R400 and R500 respectively. One of these should be in charge of the reserve, and the other should administer the criminal investigation department under the general control of the personal assistant to the Commissioner. For the four district superintendents who will be in charge of divisions of the town, and for the fifth who will be the personal assistant, the Bengal Government proposes free quarters with a consolidated allowance of R250. The Government of India regard this proposal as unduly liberal, since the additional expense of living in Calcutta is due mainly to the high charges for house-rent, and all of these officers would be given free quarters. They would therefore fix the allowance at R100 as suggested by the Commission. This amount is considered sufficient for Rangoon, where the conditions are very similar to those of Calcutta. They accept the Bengal proposal that there should be an assistant superintendent to learn the work and to replace Deputy Commissioners on leave. This officer should receive free quarters with a consolidated allowance of R100. While the Government of India regard this reform in the character of the superior staff of the city forces as in itself most desirable for the reasons given by the Commission, they recognise that it can only be carried out gradually, and they admit that there may be difficulty at first in finding, among district superintendents drawn from the mufassal, the necessary qualifications for the charge of city police divisions. Some apprenticeship to the peculiar conditions of the Presidency towns will be needed in order to secure efficiency of administration. This can probably best be secured by attaching several assistant superintendents of police to the office of the Commissioner, and authorising him to employ them on such duties as will qualify them to take charge of city divisions when these are formed.

City inspectors: pay R200, R250, R300 with free quarters and conveyance allowance.

68. Para. 97.—The Governments concerned concur generally in the Commission's proposal that inspectors should be in charge of circles consisting of several police-stations, should be recruited from the rank of sub-inspectors, should receive pay of R200, R250 and R300 in three grades, and should be given free quarters and a horse allowance of R25 or R30 a month. The Bengal Government would fix the pay at R225, R250 and R300, and Burma would make the horse allowance R30 for Europeans and R20 for natives. The Government of India accept the Commission's proposals and would give a conveyance allowance of R25 to all inspectors. They consider that none of these officers should be recruited direct. For Calcutta, the local Government proposes that there should be two inspectors to each of the four divisions of the city and the Government of India think the suggestion is a sound one; but they are unable to agree to the further proposal that each Deputy Commissioner should have an inspector on R225 with a conveyance allowance of R50 as his personal assistant. They regard this suggestion as in itself extravagant and as tending to bring about the undesirable result of converting the Deputy Commissioners into administrative officers.

City sub-inspectors: pay R75, R100 and R125 with quarters and conveyance allowance. Europeans to get R150 as deputy inspectors.

69. Para. 97.—The Commission propose that city police stations should be in charge of sub-inspectors, who should be recruited direct, with a considerable infusion of the European element, should be trained at the provincial school, should be paid R75, R100 and R125 in three grades, and should receive free quarters and a horse allowance of R25 or R30. All local Governments agree except Bengal, which would call these officers junior inspectors and would fix their pay at R125, R150 and R200. Admitting that a higher scale of pay may be required in Calcutta, these rates appear to the Government of India excessive, while, on the other hand, the pay proposed by the Commission is not altogether consistent with their own remark that a large proportion of the appointments should be held by Europeans. In these circumstances the Governor General in Council has decided to modify the Commission's scheme to the extent of creating in Calcutta and Bombay a class of officers on R150 a month who will be called deputy inspectors, and will be placed in charge of those thanas and other sub-inspectors' posts where Europeans are required. The conveyance allowance of deputy and sub-inspectors will be R20.

European sergeants and constables.

70. Para. 98.—The next question relates to the pay of European sergeants and constables. For Madras the Commission propose R80—5—110, and for Bombay, Calcutta and Rangoon R90—5—130. The two former Governments agree with the Commission. The Bengal Government suggests R110, R120 and R130, the highest grade being reserved for deserving constables who are unfit for promotion to sub-inspectors. The Burma Government would accept the Commission's proposal as to constables, but would give the one European sergeant who is required R150. The Government of India sanction the rates recommended by the Commission, which apply to both constables and sergeants. In the case of the European sergeant and constable in charge of the dock police in Calcutta the mess allowances now given will be retained.

Head constables and constables.

71. Para. 99.—The Madras and Bombay Governments accept the Commission's proposal that head constables should be paid on the scale of R15, R20 and R25 proposed for the district police. The Bengal Government suggests R20, R25 and R30, while Burma recommends R30, R35 and R40, remarking that the scale proposed by the Commission would be less than is given in the districts. For Calcutta, Madras and Bombay the Government of India accept the Commission's proposal which will give slightly higher pay than has been sanctioned for head constables of the district police. They believe that if free quarters are given the cost of living for natives in Calcutta is not materially higher than elsewhere. For Rangoon they approve of R25, R30 and R35, which is R5 higher than the district scale proposed by the Commission and accepted by the local Government.

72. For constables the Commission propose in Madras R8, R9, R10 and R11, with a local allowance of R1 in each group; for Bombay R12, R13 and R14; for Calcutta R10, R11 and R12; and for Rangoon R12, R14, R16 and R18 for Indian constables, each rate being raised by R2 when Burmese are employed. The Madras, Bombay and Burma Governments accept these proposals; Bengal would give R10, R11, R12 and R13. The Government of India sanction for Madras R9, R10, R11 and R12; for Bombay R11, R12, R13 and R14: for Calcutta R10, R11, R12 and R13, and for Rangoon, where the present rates vary from R13-9-0 to R17-7-0, in the case of Indian constables, R14, R15, R16 and R18, with an addition of R2 in the case of Burmese. These increments will take effect at three years, ten years, and seventeen years' service as proposed above in the case of the district police. City constables should be trained in the same manner as the district police.

73. Para. 100.—The Commission propose that when horses are supplied and maintained by Government the pay of mounted police should be the same as for the foot police. Local Governments, with the exception of Burma, accept these recommendations and they are accordingly sanctioned. The Government of India see no reason for accepting the Burma proposal that mounted constables should receive a special allowance of R15 in the case of Europeans and R4 in the case of natives. Service of this kind is attractive in itself and involves no special expenditure.

Mounted police.

74. Para. 101.—The views of the Commission that there should be a special criminal investigation branch in the cities, the members of which should receive a substantial local allowance, are accepted without remarks by the Madras, Bombay and Burma Governments. The Bengal Government proposes the following allowances—

City criminal investigation department.

Inspectors ...	Personal allowance R50, plus conveyance allowance R50.
Sub-inspectors	Personal allowance R30, plus conveyance allowance R30.
Head constables	Personal allowance R15.
Constables ...	Personal allowance R5.

The Government of India consider that the special character of the work requires picked men and that local allowances should be given in addition to the pay of rank. They would fix these at R50 for inspectors, R30 for sub-inspectors, R7 for head constables and R3 for constables. Conveyance allowance should follow the general rules on the subject already suggested. No separate finger-print bureau need be maintained in the presidency towns.

75. Para. 102.—The Commission observe that for the prosecution of the less important offences a staff of court or prosecuting inspectors is required, and they propose for Madras, Bombay and Rangoon two inspectors and two sub-inspectors, and for Bengal five inspectors. The Madras and Bombay Governments concur in these proposals; the Burma Government thinks two inspectors are necessary, but says nothing about sub-inspectors, while the Bengal Government has already given effect to the Commission's proposals by appointing special inspectors to prosecute cases in the presidency magistrates' courts. The Government of India sanction the proposals as thus modified. They understand that the sub-inspectors proposed by the Commission for Rangoon are not at present required.

Prosecuting inspectors and sub-inspectors.

76. Para. 104.—The Government of India agree with the Commission that in all cases quarters should be provided for the city police and that house-rent should not be granted. The question of improving the existing buildings is one for local Governments to deal with as funds are available.

Buildings.

77. Para. 105.—The observations of the Commission on the delay in the disposal of cases in the Calcutta police courts have been met by the introduction of the reforms suggested by them.

Courts.

78. Para. 106.—Following the unanimous opinion of the local Governments the Government of India accept as a general principle the Commission's view that the jurisdiction of the railway police forces should be coterminous with the limits of provinces. In giving effect to this principle the Governor General in Council rejects the United Provinces proposal that that Government should retain jurisdiction over the line from Delhi to Simla, and accepts the Punjab proposal that those lines should be under the local Government within whose territory they are situated. For the same reason the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces should have jurisdiction over the East Indian Railway from Jubbulpore to Kutni, and over the Great Indian Peninsula Railway from Jubbulpore to the Bombay boundary. It is also desirable that the Indian Midland section of the Great Indian Peninsula from Itarsi to the frontier of the United Provinces, together with the Bhopal-Ujjain and Bina-Baran branches which are partly in native states and partly in the Central Provinces, should be under the Chief Commissioner.

Railway police: jurisdiction to be coterminous with provinces.

The Government of India have decided, however, to admit the following exceptions to the general rule:—

(i) The North-West Frontier Province railways will be under the Punjab Government.

(ii) The Agra-Delhi chord line, which runs through portions of both the Punjab and the United Provinces, will be under the latter Government

(iii) The Quetta Section of the North-Western Railway will be under the Bombay Government.

(iv) The Eastern Bengal State Railway extension to Dhubri and eventually to Gauhati will be under the Bengal Government.

(v) The Assam-Bengal Railway from Chittagong to the Assam border will be under the Assam Government.

They also think that the Rajputana-Malwa system, except the Rewari-Bhatinda section which lies wholly in the Punjab, should be under one officer subordinate to the Agent to the Governor General in Rajputana, within whose jurisdiction the bulk of the line is situated. The officer should be selected from the United Provinces police and should have his head-quarters at Ajmer.

79. Para. 107.—The Government of India agree with the Commission and local Governments in rejecting the suggestion that the superintendent of railway police should be a member of the railway staff.

Superintendent not to be a railway servant.

80. Paras. 108 and 112.—The Government of India further concur with the Commission and the local Governments in holding that the primary duty of the railway police is the preservation of law and order, and that they should not be called upon to undertake the watch and ward of railway property. It follows that they should not be required to intervene in cases of shortage or missing goods, or to examine the seals of goods wagons, unless they have reason to suspect the commission of a cognisable offence. The Government of India understand that in the Punjab it has been found that, if seals are examined by the police at certain main stations, thefts from wagons are better localised and offenders often traced. Under this system the railway still remains responsible for the guarding of its wagons, and the police merely help for their own purposes in examining seals at fixed points. The Government of India have no objection to leaving the matter to the discretion of local Governments, on the clear understanding that the functions of the police are merely auxiliary, and that they accept no responsibility. It also follows that if the railways wish to despatch their own treasure by train under police guard they should be charged for the guard. The durwan system in force on the Burma railways should be modified in accordance with these principles.

Duties of railway police defined.

Railway police to be under a Deputy Inspector-General.

81. Para. 110.—The Government of India agree that the organization of the railway police should follow the lines recommended for the district police, and that they should be under a Deputy Inspector-General who should also be the head of the Provincial Criminal Investigation Department. They rely on the relations between this officer and the Central Criminal Intelligence Department to secure the requisite degree of co-operation between the various railway forces, and to obviate the necessity of an Inspector-General of railway police for the whole of India—an arrangement which would tend to convert the railway police into an imperial department. They are unable to accept the suggestion made by the Burma Government that a special training school should be maintained for the railway police.

Local allowances

82. As regards local allowances the Government of India accept the Commission's views that superintendents and assistant superintendents should receive R150 and R100, respectively, in addition to the pay of their rank. They regard this concession as justified, not only by existing practice, but also by the harassment and exhaustion involved in constant railway travelling.

Power of search.

83. Para. 111.—The Government of India agree with the Commission that it is necessary that the officer in charge of a railway police station should be given the power of search in all district police station limits through which his section of the railway runs.

Recruitment from district police not to be insisted on.

84. On the suggestion made to local Governments that the railway police should be manned from the district police, receiving a small additional allowance and only serving for a limited term on the railway, the opinions received are not entirely in accord. The Madras, Punjab and Burma Governments express unqualified disapproval. The Bengal Government also thinks that the system would not work satisfactorily anywhere and that it is specially unsuitable for Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, cites with approval the opinion of Mr. Barnard, Assistant Inspector-General of railway police, that at each investigating centre a constable from the district police, selected for his knowledge of bad characters, should be deputed for a year to the railway police in order to serve as a link between the two forces. The United Provinces Government considers the proposal to recruit from the district police in every way excellent, and thinks that it will do more to secure co-operation than any rules. The Bombay Government see no inherent objection but doubt whether in practice such interchanges could be carried out systematically. The Assam Government would give the system a trial but thinks there would be difficulty in instructing the men in railway procedure. The Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province thinks the proposal valuable, but takes the same objection as the Chief Commissioner of Assam. The preponderance of opinion is on the whole adverse to the suggestion, and the Government of India are not prepared to prescribe it as a general rule for recruitment. It will always be open to local Governments to recruit from the district police: and the authority of the Deputy Inspector-General, who will be placed in charge of the provincial railway police, may be relied upon to ensure co-operation on the part of the district force.

Relations between district and railway police.

85. Para. 109 and Appendix VI.—After full consideration of the replies of the local Governments regarding the Commission's suggestions for co-operation between the railway and the district police the Government of India prefer (subject to slight modifications) the rules in force in the United Provinces to the rules which the Commission proposed. Power will be taken in the general Police Act for local Governments to appoint superintendents of railway police and to determine their relations to District Magistrates.

86. Para. 113.—In para. 75 of their report the Commission refer to the prevalence of dacoity and other serious crime upon the large navigable rivers of Bengal and Assam and dwell on the necessity for securing the safety of travellers by water. They make no attempt to work the subject out fully, and merely remark that a special force under a superintendent of river police will be necessary. In communicating their views the Government of India asked the local Governments concerned to frame a practicable scheme, and emphasized the desirability of securing the co-operation of the river steamer companies. In reply the Bengal Government has put forward proposals costing nearly two lakhs a year, exclusive of the purchase of launches, which have been drawn up in consultation with the Governments of the United Provinces and Assam. Its leading features are:—

River Police: proposals incomplete, final settlement deferred.

(1) To place the Hugli river and the Calcutta port under a district superintendent of police with river police stations at Chinsura and Barrackpore.

(2) To form the rest of the rivers of Bengal, with the Ganges up to Allahabad, the Gogra up to Fyzabad, the Brahmaputra to Gauhati, and the Megna to some point in Sylhet, into a general police district under a senior district superintendent, who would be stationed at or near Goalundo, and would have two European assistants, one of whom would be of the rank of district superintendent.

(3) To establish sixty-one river police stations, each under a sub-inspector with a staff of one head constable and 5 constables. At each station there would be a fast boat with a manjhi and four mallahs, and these boats would be constantly on patrol, meeting the boats of other stations wherever possible.

(4) For European officers a fixed travelling allowance of R150 is suggested, for inspectors R30, sub-inspectors R15, and head constables R10. For constables a minimum pay of R9 is suggested, for manjhis R12, and for mallahs R9.

(5) A proposal made by Mr. Bramley, a district superintendent of police of the United Provinces, who has been employed to inquire into the depredations of criminals from that province in Bengal, to introduce a system of registering all trading boats is under consideration, and the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to consult the Chamber of Commerce on the subject.

The question is one of no little difficulty, and the Bengal letter tends to show that the offence of piracy on the great rivers of Assam, Bengal, and the lower part of the United Provinces has never been adequately dealt with, though it seems probable that the necessity for affording special police protection to river traffic has hitherto escaped notice not less from the indisposition of those exposed to the depredations of river thieves to have their journey interrupted by the necessary police enquiries than because a special agency has not been employed for the purpose. The general scope of the Bengal scheme is fairly well defined, and an officer of the United Provinces police has been deputed to conduct further enquiries and to assist in maturing detailed proposals. The Government of India observe, however, that in two essential respects it has not been completely worked out. The registration of boats has not yet been fully considered, nor have the river steamer companies been approached. In both these directions commercial interests of importance are involved which demand careful consideration. It is also possible that, with better information than has previously existed, the protection of some of the waterways might be left more largely to the local district police. Meanwhile the Government of India have sanctioned as a provisional and temporary measure, pending the conclusion of the enquiries referred to, the appointment of 3 district superintendents, 1 assistant superintendent, 6 inspectors, 30 sub-inspectors, 44 head constables and 314 constables to form the nucleus of an effective river police.

87. Para. 166.—The Government of India accept the proposals of the Commission for the creation of provincial departments of criminal investigation as summarised in this paragraph. The allowances for the subordinate staff will be the same as those sanctioned above for the investigation branches of the presidency town police. In the event of a difference of opinion arising between a Provincial Criminal Investigation Department and the Central Criminal Intelligence Department, the Director of the latter Department should submit the question for the orders of the Government of India through the local Government concerned.

Provincial Criminal Investigation Department.

88. Paras. 189—199.—The Government of India have now stated their views upon all the question connected with the organization, strength and pay of the regular police. The proposals of the Commission involve a recurring additional charge on the revenues of India of about a million sterling per annum. This amount will be somewhat reduced by the decisions set forth above. In the absence of provincial details the effect of these cannot be stated precisely, but the total increase will probably be somewhat less than the sum estimated by the Commission. The Government of India do not contemplate incurring the whole of this expenditure at once, nor would it be possible to do so even if the requisite funds could be made available. In view however of the importance of pushing the most essential measures to completion with the least possible delay the Government of India have allotted between the different Governments and Administrations fifty lakhs of rupees in the budget for the coming financial year as a grant in aid of the reform of the police. This sum has been distributed roughly in proportion to the increase of expenditure proposed in each province, that is to say, in the measure of the comparative needs of each. The actual amounts thus permanently added to the resources of the local Governments are:

Finance.

	Lakhs.		Lakhs.
Madras . . .	10	Burma . . .	5
Bombay . . .	5	Central Provinces . .	4
Bengal . . .	12	Berar . . .	1
United Provinces . . .	6½	Assam . . .	½
Punjab . . .	5	Minor Provinces . .	1

As regards the order in which the reforms now approved should be carried out, the Government of India think that precedence should be claimed, in view of the urgency of the matter with reference to military necessities, by that part of the scheme which contemplates the strengthening of the armed Police reserves, since until this portion of the Police is rendered sufficient to obviate any risk of local disturbances, the concentration of troops in their new stations, and the abandonment of minor cantonments, cannot be carried out. The next object that should be provided for is the improvement of the pay of constables, including under this head the abolition of deductions from pay, the raising of the minimum to the figure which may be approved by the Government of India in communication with local Governments, and the raising of the pay of constables who have served three years by one rupee, the good-conduct allowances at present granted being merged in the increased pay. Third in order of urgency the Governor General in Council places the increase in the number of sub-inspectors, so far as may be necessary to provide one for each station, and the raising of the pay of the lowest grade of these officers to the approved scale.

Full effect cannot be given to the scheme in respect of the pay of superior officers until funds have been made available for the purpose, which will not be possible during the coming financial year. It will however be arranged as far as possible, that the higher pay to be given in future to European officers recruited in England shall take effect, in each class and grade, from the same date throughout India, so that equal advantages in this respect may be offered to all the candidates selected in England by open competition. It would evidently be a grievance if an Assistant Superintendent recruited in England were to receive less pay, if posted to one province, than his contemporary who had been allotted to another.

The effect of the reorganisation now sanctioned will be to grant increased rates of pay to the European officers of the force, and the question obviously arises whether the exchange compensation allowance now drawn by them should not be discontinued, and if so, under what conditions. The Government of India propose to consider the subject separately and to report their conclusions for the approval of the Secretary of State.

Prevention and investigation of crime and prosecution.

89. The recommendations made by the Commission in Chapters VII, VIII and IX of the report regarding the prevention of crime, the reporting and investigation of offences, and the prosecution of offenders cover a wide range and some of them involve important changes in the law. The Government of India have therefore decided to reserve these portions of the report for separate consideration hereafter.

Police statistics and records.

90. The Government of India concur generally in the proposals relating to police statistics and records contained in Chapter X of the report. Local Governments will be addressed separately regarding certain matters of detail which call for settlement.

Conclusion.

91. Of all the branches of the public service in India, the police, by its history and traditions, is the most backward in its character. Its origin may be traced to the feudal obligation of the landowners to maintain, by means of an underpaid and disorderly rabble, the semblance of order on their estates. The taint of its earliest antecedents still affects the morale of the lower ranks: the constable has inherited the reputation, if not the methods, of the barkandaz. The history of the Indian Police under British rule is marked by a series of attempts to introduce more advanced standards of conduct and integrity, and to raise the tone of the force by improving the pay and prospects of its members. The latest of these efforts is represented by the labours of the Commission appointed nearly three years ago. The reforms proposed by them extend to all grades of the Police; they leave untouched no detail of its organization; and they are planned on a scale more comprehensive than has ever been deemed feasible in the past. The present condition of the public revenues has enabled the Government of India to accept the main proposals of the Commission, and to provide at once a large proportion of the cost of carrying them out. It will take a long time to give full effect to the scheme, and longer still before its larger purpose can be visibly fulfilled. The reconstruction of the Police is, indeed, merely a step towards the improvement of the administration of criminal justice in India. Success in that higher aim will depend not only on the qualifications and training of the force, but even more on the honest co-operation of the people themselves in the work of reform; on the adoption of higher ethical standards; on the diffusion of general education, especially in its primary branches; on the growth of genuine public spirit and a sense of the common good; and most of all perhaps on the decline of faction and the discouragement, by a more healthy and more courageous public opinion, of the vicious practice of resorting to the machinery of the criminal courts in order to gratify private animosities. As the popular conscience developes in these directions the Governor General in Council hopes that the great undertaking, the initial stage of which is now approaching completion, will alleviate evils which affect in varying degrees all classes of society, and will confer upon the people benefits commensurate with the labour and thought devoted to its inception and the immense outlay which its execution will entail.

(3) Save as hereinafter provided, there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any package unless the same is covered with suitable material so as effectually to prevent the exposure of such iron or steel.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the manufacture, possession and sale of explosives in British India.

All rules heretofore made by the Governor General in Council or any Local Government under the said Act, for regulating the manufacture, possession or sale of explosives, are hereby cancelled, except rules of the kind referred to in clause (2) of rule 1 of the present rules.

(4) The expression " safety fuze ", as used in these rules, means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze would not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

(5) The expression " safety cartridge ", as used in these rules,—

(i) means a cartridge for small arms, the case of which can be extracted from the small arm after firing, and which is so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges ; and

1. This license is granted subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), and the rules thereunder.

2. The whole vessel, barge or craft in or on board which the explosives are stored shall be deemed to constitute the magazine.

3. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of such explosives as may be specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosives.

4. The interior of the magazine, and the benches, shelves and fittings therein, shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel in such manner, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel or similar substance in such manner, as to come into contact with the explosives in such magazine; and such interior, benches, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean.

5. The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning conductor, which shall be tested previous to the storage of explosives.

6. No charcoal, whether ground or otherwise, oiled cotton, oiled rags or oiled waste, and no article whatever which is liable to spontaneous ignition, shall be taken into the magazine.

7. Before repairs are done to or in any part of the magazine, it shall, so far as practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosives, and by a thorough washing out. After being so cleaned, it shall not be deemed to be a magazine until explosives are again taken into it.

8. There shall be constantly kept in the magazine, affixed in such manner as to be easily read, a copy of the license, and of any special rules that may be issued from time to time for the keeping of explosives in a floating magazine.

9. All tools and implements used in any repairs to or in any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood or copper or brass or some soft metal or material, or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material.

10. No fires, lights or lucifer matches, and no substance or article which is likely to cause explosion or fire, shall be permitted to be at any time in the magazine.

11. Due provision shall be made, by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, or of suitable shoes, or by searching or otherwise, or by some such means, for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches or any substance or article which is likely to cause explosion or fire; and for preventing the introduction of any grit, iron or steel, into any part of the magazine where it would be likely to come into contact with explosive; and in any part of the magazine in which any explosive is kept which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from such part; but this condition shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion; and so much of this condition as relates to the exclusion of grit, iron or steel shall not be obligatory in the case of a magazine in which no explosive other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept.

12. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

13. (1) The licensee shall not employ any vessel, barge or craft to carry an explosive to or from the magazine unless the cabin, hold or other part of the vessel, barge or craft in which the explosive is or is to be carried—

(a) is constructed without any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof,

(b) contains only explosives, and

(c) is closed or otherwise properly covered over:

Provided that clause (a) shall not apply in the case of any vessel, barge or craft which carries no explosive other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or which is specially exempted by an order of the Chief Inspector of Explosives or by an order of the Local Government endorsed on this license.

(2) The licensee shall see that the explosives to be placed on any vessel, barge or craft so employed are loaded, carried and unloaded with all due diligence and with such precautions and in such manner as will sufficiently guard against any accidental ignition.

14. The licensee shall see—

(a) that no fire, unprotected light or smoking is allowed while any explosive [other than explosives of the 1st division of 6th (ammunition) class] is being received or delivered, or while the hatches or door of the magazine, or the hatches or coverings of any vessel, barge or craft alongside containing any such explosive, are open; and

(b) that no receipt or delivery of explosive is carried on, and that the hatches or door of the magazine are or is kept closed, when any vessel, barge or craft having on board a fire (other than engine-fires properly banked up) or an unprotected light is alongside a magazine containing an explosive other than explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or in its immediate vicinity.

15. A person under the age of fourteen years shall not be employed in or enter the magazine, except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown-up person.

16. In the case of the magazine being approachable at low water by carriages, the words "vessel, barge, or craft," in Nos. 13 and 14 of these conditions, shall be taken to include a carriage.

17. (1) Two or more descriptions of explosives, which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine, may be possessed in the same magazine, if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in one compartment from extending to another compartment:

(2) Provided as follows:

(a) the various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound), and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuze belonging to the 1st division of class 6 (ammunition), and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition), as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(c) such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(d) the various explosives of the 3rd division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space;

(e) the various explosives of class 7 (firework) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(3) Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosive shall not be kept in the same magazine.

Candidates are at liberty to name any of these branches of knowlege with the proviso that the maximum number of marks that can be obtained from the subjects chosen is limited to 6,000. If this maximum is exceeded by a candidate's selection he will be required to indicate one of his subjects, the marks for which should, in his case, be reduced so as to bring his maximum marks within the prescribed limit. The marks so reduced will be subject to a correspondingly reduced deduction under Clause 6.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks; and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (a) in order to secure that no credit be allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

7. The Examination will be conducted on paper and vivâ voce, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the branches in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained, after the deduction abovementioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case, the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected Candidate. A Candidate entitled to be deemed a selected Candidate, but declining to accept the nomination as such, which may be offered to him, will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

In Hindustani the Candidate will be required to be acquainted with both the Persian and the Nagari character; and in the case of the last two Provinces mentioned above, a Candidate whose Vernacular Language is either of the languages shown against his Province, must offer the other for examination.

† These subjects may not be offered by any Candidate who has offered them at the Open Competition.

In this Examination, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the Open Competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The Examination will be conducted on paper and vivâ voce, as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination."

If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination.

10. The selected Candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in Riding.

The examinations in Riding will be held as follows:—

(1) Shortly after the result of the Open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year

(2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination, Candidates who may then fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys on horseback, will be awarded from 100 to 200 marks according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination. Candidates who fail to obtain 100 marks, but are reported by the Civil Service Commissioners to have reached a minimum standard of proficiency in riding, and are certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, will, on their arrival in India, be subjected to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government.

A Candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that he has reached the minimum standard of proficiency in riding will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Selected Candidates.

11. The Selected Candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probation, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, W., at any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. No person will be admitted to the Examination from whom the Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners has not received on or before the 1st July (or, if that date should fall upon a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open), in the year in which the examination is to be held, an application, in the handwriting of the Candidate, on the prescribed form.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements:—

(i) Selected Candidates will be allotted to the various Provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.

(ii) An allowance amounting to £100 will be given to all Candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews and Aberdeen; Victoria University, Manchester; University College, London; and King's College, London: provided such Candidates shall have passed the Final Examination to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, have conducted themselves well and complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of Selected Candidates. The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted, except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.

(iii) The allowance of £100 will not be paid to any Selected Candidate until he has been certified by the Civil Service Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India; and every Certificated Candidate must, before receiving his allowance, give a written undertaking to refund the amount in the event of his failing to proceed to India.

(iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Selected Candidates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations.

(vi) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vii) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination held in any year will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

N.B.—A Manual of Rules and Regulations applicable to members of the Covenanted Civil Service of India has been compiled by permission of the Government of India, and may now be procured either from Messrs. A. Constable & Co., 16 James Street, Haymarket, S.W., or from Mr. E. A. Arnold, 37 Bedford Street, Covent Garden. Price 2*s.* 6*d.*

The Commissioners have been requested by the Secretary of State for India to draw the attention of Selected Candidates to the prefatory note attached to this manual, as it is considered important that it should be clearly understood that this compilation is not to be regarded in any other light than that of a collection, made for facility of reference, of certain information and rules; that it is by no means exhaustive, and that it is liable to such modifications as may from time to time be sanctioned by competent authority.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA;

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE; AND EASTERN CADETSHIPS.

Syllabus showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria:

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spencer, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies).

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated:—

1.	A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800.
(1906)	[Pope to Cowper.]
2.	A.D. 1800 to A.D. 1832.
(1907)	[Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.]
3.	A.D. 1360 to A.D. 1600.
(1908)	[Chaucer to Spencer.]
4.	A.D. 1600 to A.D. 1700.
(1909)	[Shakespeare to Dryden.]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700; all the works of Swift within the period 1700 to 1800; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.

2. The Haj will be open during the ensuing pilgrim season to any resident in India, subject to the regulations hereinafter stated.

3. The orders contained in the Home Department Notification No. 1309, dated the 12th September 1904, are hereby cancelled.

4. The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct—

(1) that no person shall be permitted to embark with the object of making a pilgrimage to Mecca except at the port of Bombay in the presidency of Bombay;

(2) that no person shall be permitted to embark for such purpose at such port unless he has been kept under observation in a place appointed for the purpose at or near the port of embarkation until such time as the medical officer in charge shall be satisfied that all risk of such person conveying the infection of plague has completely abated;

Military Secretary to the Viceroy.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Home Department, are republished for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATIONS.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Simla, the 26th October 1905.

No. 1159.—The services of Mr. R. Nathan, C.I.E., of the Indian Civil Service, Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General, are replaced at the disposal of the Government of Bengal, with effect from the 18th November 1905.

EXAMINATIONS.

The 27th October 1905.

RULES FOR THE EXAMINATIONS OF JUNIOR CIVILIANS IN ORIENTAL LANGUAGES.

No. 708.—The following amended rules* for the encouragement of the study of Oriental languages among the junior members of the Indian Civil Service have been substituted for those published in the Home Department notification No. 1, dated the 2nd January 1880. They are published for general information, together with a detailed list of authorized text-books and with relevant extracts from the Civil Service Regulations.

[The rules will come into force from the 1st January 1906, except as regards the examinations in Persian and Arabic. In respect of Persian and Arabic they will come into effect from the 1st April and 1st July 1906 respectively.]

* These rules do not in any way affect the departmental examinations in law, language, etc., which junior civilians have to pass under the orders of Local Governments.

I.—The standards of examination and the donations to be given to successful candidates will be as follows:

Standard	Language	Rs.
Higher Standard ...	Persian	500	With certificate from the presiding examiners.
	Arabic	800
	Sanskrit	800
High Proficiency ...	Urdu	1,000	With certificate from the presiding examiners.
	Hindi	1,000
	Bengali	1,000
	Uriya	1,000
	Persian	2,000
	Arabic	2,000
	Sanskrit ...	2,000
Degree of Honour ...	Urdu	2,000	With diploma from the Government of India.
	Hindi	2,000
	Bengali	2,000
	Persian	4,000
	Arabic	5,000
	Sanskrit	5,000

II.—Subject to the condition that an officer serving in the Upper Provinces will not be eligible for examination in Bengali or Uriya, until he has obtained a certificate in one of the other languages, candidates may present themselves for examination in any of the languages enumerated in rule I. A civil servant attached to the Upper Provinces, who may have obtained a certificate of high proficiency in Urdu, Hindi or Persian, under the rules of the 2nd October 1861, or the rules of the 24th March 1870, or the rules of 2nd January 1880, will be deemed to have satisfied the foregoing condition.

III.—No civil servant will be permitted to present himself for examination by two standards of the same language simultaneously, but he may have the option of competing for the higher examinations in any language without first undergoing any inferior test.

IV.—No civil servant will ordinarily be permitted to appear more than twice as a candidate at any examination; but if a special recommendation be made by the examiners, a candidate will be allowed to appear a third time.

V.—No civil servant will be permitted to present himself for the higher standard, high proficiency, or honour examinations after the expiration of five, ten and fifteen years, respectively, counted from the date of his first arrival in India. No exception to this rule will be made on account of leave or any other cause.

Civil servants may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiration of the periods specified in this rule, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; and their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must under any circumstances be caused to the State. In such cases it will be within the competence of Local Governments to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination, when compliance with such applications would involve inconvenience to the public service.

VI.—Civil servants who may have passed examinations under the rules of 1861 (cancelled in section VII of the rules of 1870) or of 1870 (cancelled in section I of the rules of 1880) or of 1880 (cancelled in the preamble to the present rules) will not be eligible to compete at corresponding examinations in the same language or languages under the rules now passed.

VII.—Civil servants who are natives of India are not eligible for rewards in passing in the vernacular of the district in which they were born or educated. The Local Government shall determine in each case what languages come within this definition.

VIII.—Examinations will be held quarterly on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October of each year at Calcutta.

Civil servants desirous of attending examinations must apply for leave to do so to the Local Government at least three months before the date of examination, and a copy of such permission should be forwarded to the Secretary, Board of Examiners, Calcutta, in the case of examinations held at the Presidency; but civil servants attached immediately to the Government of India must apply for leave to the Home Department, through the department of the Government of India under which they are serving, and such application must be accompanied by a certificate from the Accountant-General of the province to which the applicant belongs that he has not exceeded the time of residence mentioned in section V.

UNIFORMITY OF TREATMENT IN THE SPELLING AND ARRANGEMENT OF INDIAN PERSONAL NAMES IN OFFICIAL PUBLICATIONS.

Nos. 3842—3874, dated Calcutta, the 30th November 1905.

RESOLUTION.

THE question of prescribing greater uniformity of treatment in the spelling and arrangement of Indian personal names in official publications has recently received the careful consideration of the Government of India. Their action in the matter is the natural sequel of the discussion of somewhat similar questions in the past. In 1872 rules were laid down for the transliteration of names of places, and lists were prepared, which were revised in 1900. A proposal was made as early as 1875 to adopt a systematic spelling of personal names in the Army List, but no steps were taken to carry this out for some years, and it was not till 1884 that a hand-book by Mr. (now Sir) C. J. Lyall was published under the title 'Guide to the transliteration of Hindu and Muhammadan names in the Bengal Army.' Subsequently, a manual of Hindu names peculiar to the Madras Presidency was prepared. But these names are transliterated according to a special system and need not be referred to here.

2. Although the adoption of a uniform system in the case of the names of places has affected to some extent the transliteration of personal names, neither this nor the publication of corrected lists of names entered in the Army List has been found in practice to be sufficient to secure reasonable uniformity in the spelling of the large number of personal names which are identical or closely similar in form Further anomalies and diversities arise in the process of determining what portions of certain names should be treated as surnames for the purposes of official publications. The result has been that the spelling and the arrangement of names in civil lists and histories of services are inconsistent and confusing. These defects are reproduced in the India List, which is compiled in England from the provincial histories of services. As this work deals with the whole of India and is frequently consulted by persons who are not familiar with Indian vernacular names or languages, it must be prepared on uniform principles.

3. On these grounds local Governments were invited to consider the advisability of introducing in official publications a closer approach to uniformity both in the matter of spelling and as regards the recognition of certain classes of names as virtually equivalent to surnames. Their replies indicated a general consensus of opinion that a uniform system of spelling was both practicable and desirable, and with this view the Government of India were thoroughly in accord. The treatment of surnames presented more difficulty, as it was doubtful whether certain appellations should be treated as surnames, and whether in the indices priority should be given to personal names or to surnames. In order to obtain material for a decision on the general questions raised, local Governments were asked to prepare a list of all vernacular names in their current civil lists showing the arrangement of each name in full and the system on which it should be shown in the index.

4. The complete lists have been received and examined by the Government of India, and it is now possible to issue general orders on the subject. The final decision has been greatly facilitated by the careful manner in which the lists have been prepared, especially those sent up by the Governments of Bengal (where the question was considered by a special committee of which the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Mukherji was a member), Madras and the United Provinces.

5. To take the question of surnames first, it seems to the Government of India that use of these is fully established in Bengal and Assam and in the case of most Hindu names in Madras and Bombay. In other parts of India the practice is less clearly defined. The generic appellations affixed to individual names differ in origin, being sometimes sectarian or territorial in character, and sometimes referring to distinctions of caste or tribe. To their treatment as surnames the objection has been taken that they do not form an essential part of an individual's designation and are not invariably used in signatures; while in so far as they denote membership of a religious sect it is argued that they cannot be regarded as distinctive of particular persons. Apart, however, from the question whether these appellations really represent surnames in the European sense, the Government of India are satisfied that in most provinces their use is frequent enough to justify their treatment as surnames for the purposes of civil lists and similar publications. Whether priority should be given to them in indexing depends on local usage. Thus in Madras, where almost every Hindu uses a name of this sort, and the names are invariably known, they should be employed as the main entries. Where, on the other hand, as in the case in the United Provinces, they are used less frequently and are not commonly known, the personal name should form the principal entry in the index, but the caste-name or title used should also be indexed, with a cross reference to the personal name.

6. The question of spelling is complicated by various linguistic and phonetic difficulties, and no single criterion can be entirely relied upon as conclusive. There are many cases in which the pronunciation differs from the written form, and the combined lists have shown that the same name may be spelt in half a dozen different ways. To prescribe absolute uniformity of spelling for all Hindu names of identical or cognate origin would conflict too sharply with popular usage, but in revising the lists prepared by local Governments it has been found possible to reduce the variant forms in each case to two or three for the whole of India. In the case of Muhammadan names, which have been less affected by dialectic changes, consistent methods of transliteration are clearly appropriate.

7. Such are the general principles which the Governor-General in Council has decided to adopt in dealing with this intricate question. Their application in detail will be explained separately to local Governments in letters dealing with the several lists of vernacular names submitted, and so far as the official treatment of all names occurring in such lists is concerned, the Government of India think it important that no deviations from the standard form should be admitted. In conclusion the Government of India would remind local Governments that the question of securing a reasonable degree of uniformity in the treatment of native personal names is of wider import and larger interest than the mere convenience of persons who have occasion to refer to official lists. It is highly desirable on all grounds that incorrect, variable, and debased spellings should disappear from written usage throughout India in favour of accurate and consistent forms. The present orders relate only to a special and limited class of publications, but the Government of India hope that local Governments will endeavour to extend the standard forms of spelling now prescribed to all classes of official documents. They would be glad also to see the influence of high judicial authorities throughout India exerted in the direction of giving wider effect to the reforms now instituted. Native usage in these matters is naturally conservative, and there will doubtless be a tendency for private individuals to adhere to some of the inaccurate variants now current, but the success which has attended the standard system of transliteration for place names encourages the Government of India to hope that the example of a system of spelling calculated to preserve the historical character and associations of Indian personal names will in course of time commend itself to the feelings of the people.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations, all Departments of the Government of India, and offices subordinate to the Home Department, for information and guidance.

ORDERED also that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information.

BY the orders contained in the Resolution cited above the Commissioners of the Nadia Municipality were superseded for a period of one year under section 65 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884; and the Government ordered, under section 66, that all their powers and duties should during that period be exercised and performed by Babu Barada Das Basu, Deputy Magistrate, who was at that time Subdivisional Officer of Ranaghat.

2. That period will expire on 5th January 1905. Babu Arun Kumar Bose, Deputy Magistrate, the officer who is at present vested with all the powers and charged with all the duties of the Commissioners of the Nadia Municipality, has submitted a proposal under section 9(e) of the Act that the number of Commissioners should be reduced from twelve to nine; and the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that a notification declaring his intention to issue orders to that effect be published in the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette.

"115. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman is primarily responsible that every necessary entry is made, specially in regard to leave or suspension, but it is also the duty of each employé to remind the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Secretary, when any entry is necessary, and to see that his own service-book is properly written up and attested. It should be carefully explained to each employé that, unless he does so, there may be a difficulty hereafter in verifying his service when his claim to pension shall come to be investigated and considered. Service-books shall be introduced and kept up, whether rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities have been framed or not.

At the time of preparing the pay-bill for March in each year, a detailed statement of the permanent pensionable establishment existing on the 1st April should be prepared in Form XXIIIA and transmitted to the Accountant-General direct not later than the 15th April. In preparing the statement the following instructions should be carefully observed:—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent pensionable appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown.

(e) A detailed statement in Form XXIIIB should be given at foot of the original return, Form XXIIIA showing new names of officers which are not found in the return of the previous year, and when these new names include those of persons who have entered the service of the District Board for the first time, the particulars of their previous service and the rules or orders under which their service qualifies for pension should be given. Columns are also provided in Form XXIIIB for information required in regard to the names of officers which appeared in Form XXIIIA of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding officers who have been on leave, other than privilege leave, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension.

(f) If any person on the establishment is a Government pensioner, or is not the servant of the District Board solely, the fact should be noted in the statement. If he be an officer transferred from the pensionable service of Government, for whose pension contribution is paid, a note should be entered against his name to the effect "Contribution paid to Government for pension."

When completed in accordance with the preceding instructions, the statement should be carefully checked with the service-books, as it will be the authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested by the Accountant-General.

PERMANENT ADVANCE.

44. On first receiving or taking charge of the permanent advance, the President shall sign and file an acknowledgement in these terms:—"I acknowledge to have in my possession a permanent advance of Rupees (Rs.), which sum is due from me to the Joint-Committee, and I am personally accountable for the amount."

45. A similar acknowledgment shall also be given by the President on the first working day of each year.

46. The permanent advance when first drawn shall be charged in the cash-book to the head "Advances," and shall be debited to the President's account in the advance ledger.

47. There will be no further operations upon the ledger account until the advance is finally repaid. It need not be repaid at the end of each year. If the amount originally fixed for the permanent advance is subsequently increased or decreased by the Joint-Committee, the original advance shall be repaid and a fresh advance drawn.

48. The President shall make payments from his permanent advance from time to time as may be required, and for each payment he shall obtain and hold a bill receipted by the payee, or, in the case of petty office expenses, a written detailed statement of the sum spent.

49. These bills or statements shall be numbered consecutively, enfaced or stamped "paid in cash," and entered in the register in Form VII, the classification of the charges being carefully entered in the columns provided for the purpose.

50. The permanent advance may be recouped whenever necessary, and it must always be recouped on the last working day of the month, except when the expenditure falls below Rs. 10, for which no cheques can be drawn upon the treasury

51. The procedure of recoupment is as follows:—The President shall compare the sub-vouchers with the entries in the permanent advance account; he shall deface them by stamping them "cancelled," so that they cannot be used again. He shall total and initial the column "Amount of sub-voucher" in the permanent advance account, and also the amounts in the classification columns, the cross total of which should agree with the total of the column "Amount of sub-voucher," and shall rule a red-ink line across the page, immediately above which, in the last two columns, the number, date and amount of the voucher for recoupment shall be shown.

52. The voucher for recoupment shall be drawn out in Form No. VIII, and it shall be enfaced with the usual payment order. The President shall draw out a cheque in his own favour for the amount, and sign the certificate in the voucher and the entries in the last two columns of the register.

MONTHLY, QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL ACCOUNTS.

53. As soon as possible, after the end of a month, the entries on the receipt side of the cash-book (Form No. III) shall be posted in the register of monthly receipts (Form No. IV) against the heads concerned. In cases in which there is more than one item classifiable under the same head, the total only should be posted against the head in the body of the accounts, the details being posted at foot in the column for the month concerned. All the payments entered in the cash-book should be posted in the monthly register of payments (Form No. V). For this purpose the classification of the charges should be noted in red ink on each voucher. The vouchers should then all be arranged in the order of the heads in the monthly accounts. If there are more than one voucher under any head, the several items with the numbers of the vouchers should be posted at foot of the monthly account in the column for the month concerned, and the total only posted against the head in the body of the account, the two entries being connected with each other by indicative letters. In such cases the numbers of the vouchers should not be posted in the body, but only against the details at foot. The monthly accounts of receipts and payments should then be totalled and the balances reconciled.

54. An extract from these accounts, showing the figures for the month and the progressive totals to the end of it, should be forwarded to the Accountant-General, Bengal, not later than the 15th of the month following that to which the accounts relate.

55. The annual account of the school should be compiled from the monthly accounts and subsidiary registers in the form prescribed by the Educational rules, and copies of this account should be forwarded to the Accountant-General, the Director of Public Instruction, and the District Board and Municipal Office.

ADVANCES AND DEPOSITS.

56. All sums advanced to officers or employés of the Joint-Committee or to contractors or other persons, whether as permanent advances or otherwise, shall be charged in the accounts at once to the head "Advances" and be entered at the same time in the register of advances in Form No. IX, in which recoveries or adjustments of the advances should also be entered as soon as they are effected.

AUDIT.

57. The accounts of the Joint-Committee's Fund shall be examined and audited by the Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal as far as possible not less often than once in twelve months.

58. In auditing the accounts, the Examiner shall see that they have been kept and are presented in proper form, that the particular items of receipt and expenditure are stated in sufficient detail, and that the payments are supported by adequate vouchers and authority. He shall examine whether all sums received, or which ought to have been received, are brought into account, and also whether the expenditure is in all cases such as might lawfully be made. He shall also reduce such payments and charges as are exorbitant; and shall surcharge moneys not duly accounted for, or lost by negligence, upon the person who ought to account for the same, or whose negligence or improper conduct has caused the loss, and shall disallow and strike out such payments as are not authorized by law or competent authority.

59. Copies of the reports of such examination shall be forwarded by the Accountant-General, Bengal, to the President of the Joint-Committee and the Commissioner of the Division. The President shall be bound to remedy any defects or irregularities that may be pointed out by the Accountant-General or the Examiner, and within three months of the date of the receipt of the report, he shall submit a statement, giving particulars of the action taken thereon to the Commissioner, who shall forward the same with his remarks to the Accountant-General.

RECORD OF SERVICE.

60. A service-book in Form No. XI, printed in English and the vernacular, shall be supplied at his own cost to every employé holding a substantive appointment on the permanent establishment of a Joint-Committee. It shall be kept in custody of the President, whose signature as well as that of the employé on the first page shall be attested every five years.

The service-book is a contemporary record of the employé's official life, including leave of every description, every period of suspension from employment, and every other interruption of service, with full details of its duration. Every entry relating thereto shall be written across the page and attested by the President or Vice-President, or the Secretary.

61. The President or Vice-President is primarily responsible that every necessary entry is made, especially in regard to leave or suspension, but it is also the duty of each employé to remind the President, Vice-President, or Secretary, when any entry is necessary, and to see that his own service-book is properly written up and attested. It should be carefully explained to each employé that, unless he does so, there may be a difficulty hereafter in verifying his service when his claim to pension shall come to be investigated and considered. Service-books shall be introduced and kept up, whether rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities have been framed or not.

At the time of preparing the pay-bill for March in each year, a detailed statement of the permanent pensionable establishment existing on the 1st April should be prepared in Form No. XII and transmitted to the Accountant-General direct not later than the 15th April. In preparing the statement the following instructions should be carefully observed:—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty, or absent on leave or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown.

(b) The date of birth, of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person should be entered in the appropriate columns of the statement; the date of birth by Christian era should be given, and if the exact date is not known, the approximate date or year should be stated.

(c) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(d) If the acting incumbent holds a permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated.

(e) A detailed statement in Form XIIA should be given at foot of the original return, Form XII, showing new names of officers which are not found in the return of the previous year, and when these new names include those of persons who have entered the service of the Joint-Committee for the first time, their age and health certificates should be attached to the statement. Columns are also provided in Form XIIA for information required in regard to the names of officers which appeared in Form XII of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding officers who have been on leave, other than privilege leave, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension.

(f) If any person on the establishment is a Government pensioner, or is not the servant of the Joint-Committee solely, the fact should be noted in the statement. If he be an officer transferred from the pensionable service of Government, for whose pension contribution is paid, a note should be entered against his name to the effect "contribution paid to Government for pension."

When completed in accordance with the preceding instructions, the statement should be carefully checked with the service-books, as it will be the authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested by the Accountant-General.

always be written up only by the Government Treasury Department by whom the origi. account is kept.

18. No entries or marks shall, under any circumstances, be made in the pass-book by any one connected with the Joint-Committee's office.

19 The President shall examine this pass-book from time to time, and shall immediately call the attention of the Treasury Officer to any discrepancy that may appear between the credits and debits shown in the pass-book and those shown in the accounts of the Joint-Committee's office.

20. The form of the pass-book is as follows:—

DR. The Treasury or Bank of . . . . in Account Current with the Joint-Committee's Fund . . . . CR.

21. When a grant is made to the Joint-Committee's Fund from Provincial revenues, either as a general grant-in-aid, or for expenditure on any specific object, the Accountant-General shall, in the first case, at the beginning of the year, or in the second case, on receipt of orders, instruct the Treasury Officer to credit the amount of the grant to the Joint-Committee's Fund. The credit shall be made by book transfer; no bill or cheque shall be drawn, and no money shall be paid out of the treasury.

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.

22. For the payment of petty charges, the President shall hold a permanent advance of such amount as the Joint-Committee may fix from time to time; provided that, without the sanction of the Commissioner, the Joint-Committee shall not fix the amount of the permanent advance at more than Rs. 50.

23. The permanent advance shall be recouped as often as may be necessary in the manner prescribed in rules 51 and 52 below.

24 Payments of not more than Rs. 20 shall be made from the permanent advance, provided that no charge on account of the salary of any employé of the Joint-Committee shall be made otherwise than as prescribed in rules 25 and 30.

25. All payments exceeding Rs. 20 shall be made by cheque, unless there are special circumstances rendering payment in cash desirable; provided that all payments of sums above Rs. 10 on account of salaries of employés of the Joint Committee shall be made by cheque.

26. Cheque-books will be supplied by the Treasury Officer only, and no other form shall be used. The cheque-books and the counterfoils of used cheques shall be kept in the custody of the President.

27. On receipt of a cheque-book from the treasury, the officer to whom the duty of signing cheques is allotted shall count the cheques, and shall record on the back of the cheque-book that "this cheque-book contains forms."

28. Cheques for sums not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the President. Cheques for sums exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the President and the Vice-President or Secretary or, in the absence of one or other of them, by the officer present and a member of the Joint-Committee.

29. No cheque shall be signed unless required for immediate delivery to the person to whom the money is to be paid, nor until the bill, which it will discharge, has been presented in a complete form, examined and passed for payment in accordance with rules 36 and 38.

30. Every cheque shall be drawn in English in favour of the person to whom the money is actually due. Payment shall not be made to any other person, except on production of a written authority from the creditor to receive it on his behalf. The rule does not apply to cheques issued for a sum of money distributable as pay or wages among a number of Joint-Committee Fund employés, or for recouping the permanent advance. Whenever money is paid to persons who are illiterate and unable to sign their names in acknowledgement, the payee shall make his mark; the fact of the payment shall be certified to by the officer who pays, and by a witness of respectability.

31. The amount of every cheque shall be written in words as well as in figures, both on the cheque itself and on the counterfoil, and the counterfoil shall be initialled by the person or persons who sign the cheque. The word "only" shall always be inserted after the amount written in words in the body of the cheque.

32. Every cheque drawn for a sum, whether exceeding Rs. 20 or not, shall bear a receipt stamp of the value of one anna, and such receipt stamp shall be affixed before the cheque is signed.

33. When a signed cheque is cancelled, it shall the enfaced or stamped "cancelled" by the President, and shall be destroyed and the necessary adjustment shall be made in the cash-book.

34. The fact of cancellation shall be noted in red ink under the initials of the drawer of the cheque upon the counterfoil and also across the passing order which has been enfaced upon the voucher.

35. Cheques are current for three months only. After the expiration of that period, payment will be refused at the treasury, and the person in whose favour the cheque was drawn will, therefore, have to bring it back to be re-dated. No fresh cheque should be issued; the lapsed cheque shall simply be re-dated and the alteration initialled by the President or official whose duty it would be to sign the cheque under rule. A note of the fact of re-dating shall be entered in the cash-book against the original transaction. The alteration will in no way affect the accounts, and no further entries shall be made.

36. Every bill or other claim for payment from the Joint-Committee Fund shall be presented in the first instance to the Head of the Educational Institution who shall check and examine it, and if it be found correct and in order, shall submit it for orders to the President. If payment of the bill so presented is to be made, an order for the payment shall be endorsed upon it. The order for payment shall run as follows:—"Pay Rupees only (Rs.)," the amount being written in words as well as in figures, and shall be signed by the President.

37. If payment is to be made from the permanent advance, the procedure laid down in rules 49 to 53 shall be adopted.

38. If payment is to be made by cheque, the President shall cause the bill to be endorsed with the words "paid by cheque No. ," and shall then sign the endorsement, and cause the cheque to be drawn out, signed and issued. The payee or person taking delivery of the cheque on his behalf shall give a dated acknowledgement of the receipt thereof on that bill. Whenever necessary and convenient to the treasury, cheques issued from the Joint-Committee's office may be enfaced at the district treasury for payment at a sub-treasury.

39. When any payment is made either by cheque or in cash from the permanent advance, it shall be immediately entered in the accounts of the Joint-Committee. In the former case it shall be entered in the cash-book (Form No. III). In the latter case, it shall be entered in the permanent advance account (Form No. VII).

40. Every payment made, either in cash or by cheque, shall be covered by a receipt, stamped if necessary, signed by the person to whom the money is due and to whom it has actually been paid. A receipt signed by another person for the creditor, or with a stamp, is invalid.

41. Bills and vouchers that have been paid by cheque shall be numbered consecutively for the year in order of payment, and shall be pasted in a guard-book. But sub-vouchers, which have been paid in cash out of the permanent advance, shall be separately filed, together with the recoupment voucher covering them. A memorandum instead of this voucher shall be pasted into the guard-book mentioned above, viz,—

MEMORANDUM.

Voucher No. , dated , for Rs. in recoupment of the President's permanent advance, will be found in the separate file.

CASH-BOOK.

42. The cash-book shall be in Form No. III and shall show on the receipt side all sums realized in cash as soon as they are received. Sums credited in the pass-book direct should be similarly shown as soon as intimation is received either direct or through the pass book. Expenditure shall be entered day by day as cheques are issued (vide rule 39 of these rules). All sums received in cash must be remitted to the treasury at once, or within three days at the latest.

43. The cash-book shall be closed and balanced at the end of every month and shall be signed by the President. The difference between the closing balance of the cash-book and that in the treasury arising from uncashed cheques or short credits shall be reconciled in the following manner:—

Remarks.

No. 2523 L.S.-G.—The 25th November 1905.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to make the following rules under clauses (i) and (t), section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885, in addition to those published under Notification No. 2009T.M., dated the 9th November 1901, at pages 217-273, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th December 1901.

Account Rules for the Joint-Committees constituted under section 64 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, III of 1885.

PRELIMINARY.

In the following rules, unless there be something repugnant in the context:—

(a) the term "Joint-Committee" means the Joint-Committee constituted under section 64 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act; and

(b) the term "President" means the President or Chairman of the Joint-Committee, and includes a Vice-Chairman, Vice-President and Secretary, where one has been appointed, in respect of the powers assigned to them by the President in writing, provided that the President shall not delegate to the Secretary any authority to sanction expenditure.

2. In all matters not expressly provided for by these rules, the rules, forms, registers and returns prescribed for, or in force for the time being in Government Educational institutions, shall, so far as they are consistent with these rules and with the Act, apply to Educational institutions under the management of the Joint-Committee. Similarly and under the same conditions, the rules, forms, registers and returns prescribed in the Civil Account Code or in force for the time being under the orders of Government or other competent authority shall apply to the accounts of the Joint-Committee and shall be observed, used, kept and submitted by the head of the Educational institution concerned, or other officer specially appointed on this behalf by the Joint-Committee.

3. The following books and forms in addition to those referred to in rule 2 shall be maintained:—

I.—Budget Estimate.
I(a).—Details of estimates.
II.—Challan.
III.—Cash-book.
IV.—Register of Monthly Receipts.
V.—Register of Monthly Expenditure.
VI.—Annual Account.
VII.—President's Permanent Advance Account.
VIII.—Permanent Advance Recoupment Voucher.
IX.—Register of Advances.
X.—Register of Establishment.
XI.—Deposit Account.
XII.—Service-books.
XIII.—Detailed statement of Permanent pensionable establishment.
XIIIA.—Detailed statement of new names, leave, &c.

GENERAL.

4. All the accounts and registers of the Joint-Committee shall be kept in English. All books of accounts and registers shall be substantially bound and paged before being brought into use, and no accounts shall be prepared on loose sheets of paper or in loosely-bound volumes.

5. All corrections and alterations in accounts shall be neatly made in red ink and attested by the initials of the President. All corrections and alterations in a voucher shall be attested by the payee. Erasures shall on no account be permitted in registers, statements, vouchers or accounts of any description.

6. After the budget estimates for the year, or supplementary estimates, have been sanctioned, the Joint-Committee, acting in the exercise of the powers conferred on them by section 32 (e) of the Act, or the rules made under the said section of the Act, may from time to time, by a general or special Resolution, authorise the President or other executive officer of the Committee to expend any sum, or a part of any sum provided in such estimates, for the purpose to which it has been therein assigned.

7. No expenditure shall be incurred for which provision has not been made in the budget estimate for the year, or in a supplementary budget estimate, and which has not been duly sanctioned by the Joint-Committee, or by the President or other executive officer of the Committee acting in exercise of the powers conferred on him by the rules made under the Act.

8. The President shall cause to be kept a register of establishment in Form No. X, showing, in respect of all establishment whatsoever employed by the Joint-Committee, the particulars specified in the form. A separate page or section shall be allotted to each class of establishment. All changes made by competent authority from time to time in the numbers, nomenclature, or salaries of the establishment shall be immediately entered in the register with the number and date of the orders authorizing the change. A space should be left under each name for the entry of alterations, and a fresh corrected list should be written up annually or as often as required. No entries regarding officiating incumbents, or grant of leave, should be made in this register.

9. At the close of every year the President of the Joint-Committee shall submit to the Commissioner of the Division a list of those records of the Joint-Committee's office which may properly be destroyed. In giving sanction to the destruction of such records, the Commissioner shall be guided by the general rules issued by Government from time to time on this behalf.

Loss of money by embezzlement, theft or otherwise.

10. Whenever any loss of money by embezzlement, theft or otherwise is discovered, the fact shall be promptly reported by the President of the Joint-Committee to the Accountant-General, Bengal, and to the Commissioner of the Division through the District Magistrate. When the matter has been fully enquired into, he shall submit a further and complete report showing the total sum of money lost, the manner in which the money was lost and the steps taken to recover the amount and punish the offenders, if any. No money lost by defalcation, theft or otherwise shall be written off from the accounts, except with the sanction of the Commissioner of the division. When the amount of the loss exceeds Rs. 500, or when the loss is due to any defect in the system of accounts, collection, etc., the sanction of Government is necessary.

Budget Estimate.

11. On or before the 1st September each year the Joint-Committee shall, in consultation with the Inspector of Schools, prepare a budget estimate, showing the probable receipts and expenditure of the institution under its charge for the ensuing official year, and shall forward copies of the same to the Magistrate through the Municipality and the District Board concerned, and one copy to the Director of Public Instruction also. The Magistrate and the Director of Public Instruction shall forward the estimates to the Commissioner of the Division with their remarks on or before the 1st October. Copies of the estimates, as sanctioned by the Commissioner, shall be forwarded to the Joint-Committee, the District Board and the Municipality, through the Magistrate.

Note.—At the preliminary stage, the Inspector shall act as an adviser, and if after the budget is finally adopted by the Joint Committee, there is something in it not approved by him, he may represent matters to the District Board; and if his views are not accepted, he may refer matters to the Commissioner, who shall settle the matter in consultation with the Director of Public Instruction.

12. The procedure laid down in the last preceding rule shall be observed in every case where the Joint-Committee may find it necessary to amend the budget estimate at any time after it has been sanctioned.

13. In preparing the budget estimates the Joint-Committee shall show on the receipt side the contributions by the Municipality and the District Board and the receipts of the institution from fees, endowments and other sources, and on the payment side the establishment, contingent and other charges which have been sanctioned by competent authority. The budget estimate shall be supplemented by a statement, giving details of the estimated receipts from school fees and other sources and of the establishments and works provided for on the expenditure side.

Transactions with the Treasury.

14. The funds of the Committee shall be lodged in the Government Treasury and placed to the credit of a Personal Deposit Account to be opened in the official name of the President of the Joint-Committee.

15. Remittances to the Treasury should in all cases be accompanied by chalans in duplicate (Form No. II). The first part shall be retained by the Treasury, and the counterfoil, duly receipted by the Treasury officials, should be returned to the Committee's office for record.

16. All moneys remitted to the Treasury to credit of the Joint-Committee and all payments made by the Treasury on cheques or otherwise on account of the Joint-Committee shall be entered in a pass-book; the pass-book shall remain in the custody of the President, and it shall be sent to the Treasury on the 10th and also on the last working day of every month and on any other day on which the Joint-Committee may require the posting to be done. On receipt of the pass-book by the Treasury officials, the receipts and payments up to date and credits referred to in rule 21, shall be entered therein, and (when the book is received on the last working day of the month) the accounts shall be balanced and signed by the Treasury Officer, the amount being entered in words as well as figures. The book shall then be returned to the office of the Joint-Commitee, as soon as the entries prescribed in this rule have been made in it, i.e., on the day of receipt or the next open day at the latest.

17. The pass-book will be supplied by the Treasury. It is not a Joint-Committee Fund account-book, but is simply a copy of the account kept in the Treasury of the money paid into the credit of, and disbursed on account of, the Joint-Committee and must therefore always be written up only by the Government Treasury Department by whom the original account is kept.

18. No entries or marks shall under any circumstances be made in the pass-book by any one connected with the Joint-Committee's office.

19. The President shall examine this pass-book from time to time, and shall immediately call the attention of the Treasury Officer to any discrepancy that may appear between the credits and debits shown in the pass-book and those shown in the accounts of the Joint-Committee's office.

20. The form of the pass-book is as follows:—

DR. The Treasury or Bank of . . . . in Account Current with the Joint-Committee's Fund . . . . CR.

1	2	3	4	5			6	7	8	9	10
Monthly consecutive number of item of receipt.	Date.	No. of chalan.	Initials of Treasury Officer.	Amount.			Monthly consecutive number of item of payment.	Date	No. of cheque.	Initials of Treasury Officer.	Amount.
				Rs.	A.	P.					Rs.	A.	P.

21. When a grant is made to the Joint-Committee's Fund from Provincial revenues, either as a general grant-in-aid, or for expenditure on any specific object, the Accountant-General shall, in the first case, at the beginning of the year, or in the second case, on receipt of orders, instruct the Treasury Officer to credit the amount of the grant to the Joint-Committee's Fund. The credit shall be made by book transfer; no bill or cheque shall be drawn, and no money shall be paid out of the Treasury.

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.

22. For the payment of petty charges, the President shall hold a permanent advance of such amount as the Joint-Committee may fix from time to time; provided that, without the sanction of the Commissioner, the Joint-Committee shall not fix the amount of the permanent advance at more than Rs. 50.

23. The permanent advance shall be recouped as often as may be necessary in the manner prescribed in rules 51 and 52 below.

24. Payments of not more than Rs. 20 shall be made from the permanent advance, provided that no charge on account of the salary of any employé of the Joint-Committee shall be made otherwise than as prescribed in rules 25 and 30.

25. All payments exceeding Rs. 20 shall be made by cheque, unless there are special circumstances rendering payment in cash desirable; provided that all payments of sums above Rs. 10 on account of salaries of employés of the Joint-Committee shall be made by cheque.

26. Cheque-books will be supplied by the Treasury Officer only, and no other form shall be used. The cheque-books and the counterfoils of used cheques shall be kept in the custody of the President.

27. On receipt of a cheque-book from the Treasury, the officer to whom the duty of signing cheques is allotted shall count the cheques, and shall record on the back of the cheque-book that "this cheque-book contains forms."

28. Cheques for sums not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the President. Cheques for sums exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the President and the Vice-President or Secretary or, in the absence of one or other of them, by the officer present and a member of the Joint-Committee.

29. No cheque shall be signed unless required for immediate delivery to the person to whom the money is to be paid, nor until the bill, which it will discharge, has been presented in a complete form, examined and passed for payment in accordance with rules 36 and 38.

30. Every cheque shall be drawn in English in favour of the person to whom the money is actually due. Payment shall not be made to any other person, except on production of a written authority from the creditor to receive it on his behalf. The rule does not apply to cheques issued for a sum of money distributable as pay or wages among a number of Joint-Committee Fund employés, or for recouping the permanent advance. Whenever money is paid to persons who are illiterate and unable to sign their names in acknowledgment, the payee shall make his mark; the fact of the payment shall be certified to by the officer who pays, and by a witness of respectability.

31. The amount of every cheque shall be written in words as well as in figures, both on the cheque itself and on the counterfoil, and the counterfoil shall be initialled by the person or persons who sign the cheque. The word "only" shall always be inserted after the amount written in words in the body of the cheque.

32. Every cheque drawn for a sum, whether exceeding Rs. 20 or not, shall bear a receipt stamp of the value of one anna, and such receipt stamp shall be affixed before the cheque is signed.

33. When a signed cheque is cancelled, it shall be enfaced or stamped "cancelled" by the President, and shall be destroyed and the necessary adjustment shall be made in the cash-book.

34. The fact of cancellation shall be noted in red ink under the initials of the drawer of the cheque upon the counterfoil and also across the passing order which has been enfaced upon the voucher.

35. Cheques are current for three months only. After the expiration of that period, payment will be refused at the Treasury, and the person in whose favour the cheque was drawn will, therefore, have to bring it back to be re-dated. No fresh cheque should be issued; the lapsed cheque shall simply be redated and the alteration initialled by the President or official whose duty it would be to sign the cheque under rule. A note of the fact of re-dating shall be entered in the cash-book against the original transaction. The alteration will in no way affect the accounts, and no further entries shall be made.

36. Every bill or other claim for payment from the Joint-Committee Fund shall be presented in the first instance to the Head of the Educational Institution who shall check and examine it, and if it be found correct and in order, shall submit it for orders to the President. If payment of the bill so presented is to be made, an order for the payment shall be endorsed upon it. The order for payment shall run as follows:—"Pay Rupees only (Rs.)," the amount being written in words as well as in figures, and shall be signed by the President.

37. If payment is to be made from the permanent advance the procedure laid down in rules 49 to 53 shall be adopted.

38. If payment is to be made by cheque, the President shall cause the bill to be endorsed with the words "paid by cheque No. ," and shall then sign the endorsement, and cause the cheque to be drawn out, signed and issued. The payee or person taking delivery of the cheque on his behalf shall give a dated acknowledgment of the receipt thereof on that bill. Whenever necessary and convenient to the Treasury, cheques issued from the Joint-Committee's office may be enfaced at the district treasury for payment at a sub-treasury.

39. When any payment is made either by cheque or in cash from the permanent advance, it shall be immediately entered in the accounts of the Joint-Committee. In the former case it shall be entered in the cash-book (Form No. III). In the latter case, it shall be entered in the permanent advance account (Form No. VII).

40. Every payment made, either in cash or by cheque, shall be covered by a receipt, stamped if necessary, signed by the person to whom the money is due and to whom it has actually been paid. A receipt signed by another person for the creditor, or with a stamp, is invalid.

41. Bills and vouchers that have been paid by cheque shall be numbered consecutively for the year in order of payment, and shall be pasted in a guard-book. But sub-vouchers which have been paid in cash out of the permanent advance shall be separately filed, together with the recoupment voucher covering them. A memorandum instead of this voucher shall be pasted into the guard-book mentioned above, viz.,—

MEMORANDUM.

Voucher No. , dated , for Rs. in recoupment of the President's permanent advance, will be found in the separate file.

CASH-BOOK.

42. The cash-book shall be in form No. III and shall show on the receipt side all sums realised in cash as soon as they are received. Sums credited in the pass-book direct should be similarly shown as soon as intimation is received either direct or through the pass-book. Expenditure shall be entered day by day as cheques are issued (vide rule 39 of these rules). All sums received in cash must be remitted to the Treasury at once, or within three days at the latest.

43. The cash-book shall be closed and balanced at the end of every month and shall be signed by the President. The difference between the closing balance of the cash-book and that in the Treasury arising from uncashed cheques or short credits shall be reconciled in the following manner:—

				Rs.
Balance as per cash-book	...	...	...
Add—Uncashed cheques	...	...	...
Deduct—Short credits	...	...	...
Balance as per pass-book	...	...	...

PERMANENT ADVANCE.

44. On first receiving or taking charge of the permanent advance, the President shall sign and file an acknowledgment in these terms:—"I acknowledge to have in my possession a permanent advance of Rupees (Rs.), which sum is due from me to the Joint-Committee, and I am personally accountable for the amount."

45. A similar acknowledgment shall also be given by the President on the first working day of each year.

46. The permanent advance when first drawn shall be charged in the cash-book to the head "Advances," and shall be debited to the President's account in the advance ledger.

47. There will be no further operations upon the ledger account until the advance is finally repaid. It need not be repaid at the end of each year. If the amount originally fixed for the permanent advance is subsequently increased or decreased by the Joint-Committee, the original advance shall be repaid and a fresh advance drawn.

48. The President shall make payments from his permanent advance from time to time as may be required, and for each payment he shall obtain and hold a bill receipted by the payee, or, in the case of petty office expenses, a written detailed statement of the sum spent.

49. These bills or statements shall be numbered consecutively, enfaced or stamped "paid in cash," and entered in the register in Form VII, the classification of the charges being carefully entered in the columns provided for the purpose.

50. The permanent advance may be recouped whenever necessary, and it must always be recouped on the last working day of the month, except when the expenditure falls below Rs. 10, for which no cheques can be drawn upon the Treasury.

51. The procedure of recoupment is as follows:—The President shall compare the sub-vouchers with the entries in the permanent advance account; he shall deface them by stamping them "cancelled," so that they cannot be used again. He shall total and initial the column "Amount of sub-voucher" in the permanent advance account, and also the amounts in the classification columns, the cross total of which should agree with the total of the column "Amount of sub-voucher," and shall rule a red-ink line across the page, immediately above which in the last two columns, the number, date and amount of the voucher for recoupment shall be shown.

52. The voucher for recoupment shall be drawn out in Form No. VIII, and it shall be enfaced with the usual payment order. The President shall draw out a cheque in his own favour for the amount, and sign the certificate in the voucher and the entries in the last two columns of the register.

MONTHLY, QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL ACCOUNTS.

53. As soon as possible, after the end of a month, the entries on the receipt side of the cash-book (Form No. III) shall be posted in the register of monthly receipts (Form No. IV) against the heads concerned. In cases in which there is more than one item classifiable under the same head, the total only should be posted against the head in the body of the accounts, the details being posted at foot in the column for the month concerned. All the payments entered in the cash-book should be posted in the monthly register of payments (Form No. V). For this purpose the classification of the charges should be noted in red ink on each voucher. The vouchers should then all be arranged in the order of the heads in the monthly accounts. If there are more than one voucher under any heads, the several items with the numbers of the vouchers should be posted at foot of the monthly account in the column for the month concerned, and the total only posted against the head in the body of the account, the two entries being connected with each other by indicative letters. In such cases the numbers of the vouchers should not be posted on the body, but only against the details at foot. The monthly accounts of receipts and payments should then be totalled and the balances reconciled.

54. An extract from these accounts, showing the figures for the month and the progressive totals to the end of it, should be forwarded to the Accountant-General, Bengal, not later than the 15th of the month following that to which the accounts relate.

55. The annual account of the school should be compiled from the monthly accounts and subsidiary registers in the form prescribed by the Educational rules, and copies of this account should be forwarded to the Accountant-General, the Director of Public Instruction, and the District Board and Municipal Office.

ADVANCES AND DEPOSITS.

56. All sums advanced to officers or employés of the Joint-Committee or to contractors or other persons, whether as perman ent advances or otherwise, shall be charged in the accounts at once to the head "Advances" and be entered at the same time in the register of advances in Form No. IX, in which recoveries or adjustments of the advances should also be entered as soon as they are effected.

AUDIT.

57. The accounts of the Joint-Committee's Fund shall be examined and audited by the Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal as far as possible not less often than once in twelve months.

58. In auditing the accounts, the Examiner shall see that they have been kept and are presented in proper form, that the particular items of receipt and expenditure are stated in sufficient detail, and that the payments are supported by adequate vouchers and authority. He shall examine whether all sums received, or which ought to have been received, are brought into account, and also whether the expenditure is in all cases such as might lawfully be made. He shall also reduce such payments and charges as are exorbitant; and shall surcharge moneys not duly accounted for, or lost by negligence, upon the person who ought to account for the same, or whose negligence or improper conduct has caused the loss, and shall disallow and strike out such payments as are not authorized by law or competent authority.

59. Copies of the reports of such examination shall be forwarded by the Accountant-General, Bengal, to the President of the Joint-Committee and the Commissioner of the Division. The President shall be bound to remedy any defects or irregularities that may be pointed out by the Accountant General or the Examiner, and within three months of the date of the receipt of the report, he shall submit a statement, giving particulars of the action taken thereon to the Commissioner, who shall forward the same with his remarks to the Accountant-General.

RECORD OF SERVICE.

60. A service-book in Form No. XII printed in English and the vernacular shall be supplied at his own cost to every employé holding a substantive appointment on the permanent establishment of a Joint-Committee It shall be kept in custody of the President, whose signature as well as that of the employé on the first page shall be attested every five years.

The service-book is a contemporary record of the employé's official life, including leave of every description, every period of suspension from employment, and every other interruption of service, with full details of its duration. Every entry relating thereto shall be written across the page and attested by the President or Vice-President, or the Secretary.

61. The President or Vice-President is primarily responsible that every necessary entry is made, especially in regard to leave or suspension, but it is also the duty of each employé to remind the President, Vice-President, or Secretary, when any entry is necessary, and to see that his own service-book is properly written up and attested. It should be carefully explained to each employé that, unless he does so, there may be a difficulty hereafter in verifying his service when his claim to pension shall come to be investigated and considered. Service-books shall be introduced and kept up, whether rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities have been framed or not.

At the time of preparing the pay-bill for March in each year, a detailed statement of the permanent pensionable establishment existing on the 1st April should be prepared in Form No. XIII and transmitted to the Accountant-General direct not later than the 15th April. In preparing the statement the following instructions should be carefully observed :—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty, or absent on leave or deputation, or under suspension should be distinctly shown.

(b) The date of birth, of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person should be entered in the appropriate columns of the statement; the date of birth by Christian era should be given, and if the exact date is not known, the approximate date or year should be stated.

(c) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(d) If the acting incumbent holds a permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated.

(e) A detailed statement in Form XIIIA should be given at foot of the original return, Form XIII, showing new names of officers which are not found in the return of the previous year, and when these new names include those of persons who have entered the service of the Joint-Committee for the first time, their age and health certificates should be attached to the statement. Columns are also provided in Form XIIIA for information required in regard to the names of officers which appeared in Form XIII of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding officers who have been on leave, other than privilege leave, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension.

(f) If any person on the establishment is a Government pensioner, or is not the servant of the Joint-Committee solely, the fact should be noted in the statement. If he be an officer transferred from the pensionable service of Government, for whose pension contribution is paid, a note should be entered against his name to the effect "contribution paid to Government for pension."

When completed in accordance with the preceding instructions, the statement should be carefully checked with the service-books, as it will be the authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested by the Accountant General
